A REPRESENTATIVE & CHAMPION OF AMERICAN ART TASTE!

Prospectus for 1875-Eighth Year.

THE ALDINE.

The ART JOURNAL of America ISSUED MONTHLY.

"A Magnificent Conception Wondoriully carried out."

"A Magnificent Conception Wondorfully carried out."

The necessity of a popular medium for the representation of the productions of our great artists has always been recognized, and many attention have been made to a cet the team. The successive failures which so invariably followed each attempt in this country to establish an art aurnal, did not prove the indifference of the people of America the provention of high art. So soon as a proper approchation of the want and an ability to meet it were shown, the public at once railied with entusiasm to its support, and the result was a great artistic and commercial triumph. THE ALDINE THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temperary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellaney of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the arrest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white Althouge sach succeeding number affe, of a fresh pleasure to its friends, the rest value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be rest appreciated after it is bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim succeive cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—abs slucily withou competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engryings in any other shape or manber of volue es for the times sits cost; and then there is the chromo, besides!

The hational feature of THE ALDINE must be taken in no anyrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the repreduction of native art. Its mission is to cultivate a broad and appreciative our tasto, one that will discriminate only on grounds of intrinsic mort. Thus, while placing before two patrons of THE ALPINE, is an importat feature, and animal subjects, sustain an unabated interest, ampossible where the scope I theo interest, impossible where the scope f the work con interest, impossible where the scope I the work confines the artist too closely to a single style of subject. The literature of THE AL TINE is a light and graceful accompaniment, worthy of the artistic features, with only such technical disquisitions as do not interfere with the popular interest of the work.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is delived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race.
