NORTHWEST REVIEW

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED EVERY TUESDAY

WITH THE APPROVAL OF THE ECCLESIASTICAL AUTHORITY.

At St. Boniface, Man.

Subscription, - - - $2.00 a year - $1.00. Six months.

For The Northwest Review is on sale at the following places: Hart & Co., Booksellers, 364 Main St., and G. R. Vendome, Stationer, 300 Main St. opposite Manitoba Hotel.

ADVERTISING BATES.

Made known on application.

Orders to discontinue advertisements mu be sent to this office in writing. Advertisements unaccompanied by Specific instructions inserted until ordered out.

AGENTS WANTED.

Agents wanted, in town and country places of Manitoba and the Northwest, who shall solicit and collect subscriptions for the NORTHWEST REVIEW. Very and no legislative grant paid to the thinker", he created a worldliberal terms made known on applica-tion to the Publisher. Decorby school for the same pe-riod." Now-it will hardly be betion to the Publisher.

Address all Communications to the NORTHWEST REVIEW, St. Boniface, Mar

TUESDAY, MAY 11 1897.

CURRENT COMMENT.

" Canterbury

Cathedral and ST. THOMAS the Ages BECKET. the title of a most interesting paper in the "Niagara Rainbow" for April The author is the wife of Judge J. Robinson of Rat Portrge. She is, through the Butler family, the famous Becket-Butlers, a descend ant of a sister of the martyred Archbishop of Canterbury. One of St. Thomas Becket's sisters married Theobald Walter, the Chief Butler of Ireland, and from her the Ormond-Butlers, still represented in their present head, the Marquis of Ormond, are descended. A younger scion of the house of Ormond, John Butler, was practising law in New York at the outbreak of the American Revolution. Remaining true to the British Empire, he raised and commanded the loyal American Regiment of Butler's Rangers," who fought shoulder to shoulder with Captain Brant and his Indians. From this Colonel Butler Mrs. Robinson is descended. Though her ancestors had, through worldly motives, conformed to the Protestant religion in Elizabeth's reign, she has been blessed with the true faith and shows her love of it in her clever- opinions which appeal to them ly written article on her sainted strongly." But the bility of its social traditions and governance of men.

Our Attorney-AN OFFICIAL BLUNDER.

public deliverances. Last week the Free Press', referred to him some statements in a letter from Fort Ellice on the Decorby school. The Hon. Mr. Cameron's first remark was a blunder, a misreading of that letter. "You will observe," he said "that your correspondent contradicts himself. He states in the first place that the Decorby school got the lsgislative grant in August 1895, for one hundred and thirteen 1895. Then a little later on he states 'that there has been no school lieved, but anyone can easely veri-Morning Free Press for Friday, May 7th, page 7, col. 2---the corres-Attorney General, with the letter in his hand, quotes as his second statement. The correspondent, whom we do not know, simply mentions this as an absurd report from Inspector Lang, a report of which he says in Latin (perhaps this is what bothered Mr. Cameron) that "to err is human." Here are the correspondent's own words: "Part of the municipal grant, for the same school, was paid in December 1895 and February 1896, and the balance the municipality refused to pay, because the Council got word from Inspector Lang telling them there has been no school taught in the first half of 1895 and no legislative grant paid to Decorby school for the same period! 'Errare humanum est,' says a Latin proverb." Thus, the very contradiction which the correspondent carefully points out in another, Mr. Cameron, through careless 'reading, fathers upon the writer. If ordinary errors are human, unpardonable ones are childish.

The"Free Press A VALUABLE was right when it said last Friday AVOWAL. "In Winnipeg

there are some hundreds of children taught in separate schools supported by voluntary contributions from people who also have to contribute their taxes to the public schools. These people are not bearing this double burden for a mere whim. They are actuated by the general average of European lics eagerly scanned the columns of intelligence, has fairly won its title the Free Press for some cablegram to imperial sway through the sta- concerning the Diana Vaughan hoax, but in vain. The first news its mastery of that art of arts, the came to them by mail in a French Canadian Montreal paper reproduc> ing a "Vérité" telegram. Later on all the great dailies of the United States published cablegrams des-General should, cribing the Taxil disclosures. Is really, be more it possible that these cablegrams careful in his never reached the Free Press office

A Gigantic Hoax.

Twelve years ago the whole Catholic world was talking of the conversion of Leo Taxil, whose real name is Gabriel Jogand. He had beeu notorious for his violent attacks on everything Christian, in fact his pendays' teaching in the first half of name had already become the watchword of noisy blasphemy. When, therefore, he published taught in the first half of 1895, his "Confessions of an ex-freewide sensation. Those who had known him at school in Marseilles as the very wickedest tempted to doubt the truth of his story of how it was the life pondent never STATED what the of Joan of Arc, which he was studying with a view to make an impious travesty of it, that converted him. The idea of anything heroic transforming such a scoundrel did not seem plausible. If he were ever to be converted, it would be by some awful Divine visitation that would terrorize him into wholesome dread. However, when these shrewd Catholics saw Leo Taxil revealing the most hidden secrets of Freemasonry so effectually that all the time-honored pass-words had to be changed in French-speaking countries, they thought themselves bound in charity to try to think him sincere. But many of them, during every one of these twelve years, said to him to his face and he used to reply with angelic meekness: "That is a part of my penance. "

It now appears that Leo Taxil was elaborating the most intricate and gigantic hoax of this or perhaps of any century.

On Easter Monday in a Paris hall he had announced that he would produce Diana Vaughan, about whose existence or nonexistence most Catholics had been taking sides for the last striking books had appeared un-quasi-infailibility. supposed to be converted also by more important matters relating contemporary, though actuated by opinions which appeal to it strong-ly, was wrong when it went on to and distinguished a writer. We suggest that the city school board very ridiculous; but the intrin- having given to his creatures teous, came to an end, and a are also pleased to see that she should approach the minority so as sic evidence of a style far supe- a revelation should have insti- successor was appointed in the to arrive at some practical accept- eior to Leo Taxil's flat and taste- tuted some sort of court to pro- person of Col. John Hay, the Mary and Agnes Becket," the ance of the school settlement. Becket sisters," not "à Becket." However, this very suggestion which every articulate doubt "Oh, the Bible is the ultimate Bludso." There would be no proves that said "settlement" is was answered in succeeding authority," because those gentlevigorously refused by those who numbers of the supposed Diana men who asked questions last den laid upon them. And they case a very strong one for the not agree on most important through the person of Mr. Baybelievers. were many priests, Leo Taxil declared that all, even his conversion was a hoax; and, to the repeated shouts of "rascal, blackguard, scoundrel, "etc., hurled at him for two hours, he answered by sible to say.

though rather below than above the 19th of last April, many Catho- LECTURES BY CATHOLIC LAYMEN.

Mr. Lister Drummond on

PAPAL INFALLIBILITY.

The last of the series of Catholic Evidence Lectures which have been delivered during the rast month at the Vestry Hall, Hampstead, by converts to the Church was given on Wednesday evening, when the organizer Mr. Lister Drummond, delivered an interesting address, giving his reasons for beleiving in an infallible Pope. The chair was occupied by Mr. Charles J. Mu-nich, F. R. Hist. S.

In introducing the lecturer. Mr. Munich said the subject of Papal infallibility was one that minds of those outside the visiwas much misunderstood by ble unity of the Catholic Church. those outside the Catholic Church, and it would therefore interest the non-Catholics present to hear what it was Catholics believed with regard to the infallibility of the Pope.

Mr. Drummond said he had rather a difficult subject to deal with, because it was one on fy our assertion by looking up the boy in a maritime city were which a person might go on talking for a week. However, he had promised to give his reasons for believing in an infallible Pope, and he would do his best to do so in the short time at his disposal. Some persons said, "I understand a good many and I can agree with confession; but there is one doctrine I canof the Pope." If they were asked what it meant they would reply, "Well,

If the Pope Says the Moon is Made of Green Cheese

you are bound to believe it. " If him a fool. Mr. Drummond then that people did not trust him, can Council defining Papal in- things of the people to whom affairs of daily life-in the gov-bring about a more cordial feelernment of the country for exam- ing between the two countries. awful thing it would be if two American press that still thinks persons went to law and there it necessary to pander to the prewas no final court of appeal. judices of the ignorant masses. Even in ordinary affairs an autho- He was railed at as a Britisher, rity had to be set up to whose which is the sum of all villainies. decision we must bow. We have He was permitted to serve his seven or eight months. Several to set up a sort of standard of full term, thanks to the firmness der her name, and yet nobody necessary to have an authority to be influenced by the clamor but Leo Taxil publicly affirmed in human matters to decide of the mob, or even the formally that he had seen this high questions in dispute, how far expressed censure of the United priestess of the Luciferians now more necessary was it in the States Senate. The mob sighed sonable to suppose that God try he repersented to be cour-Vaughan's memoirs made the week and he (the lecturer) could grace to American manhood points. What would be the use ard would be wiped out, and a At length, on April 19th last, of Acts of Parliament without before an audience of about three judges of the land to interpret don to restore the dignity of the hundred people, among whom these written documents? Was nation. One almost supposed it not reasonable, then, to sup-that Mr. Hay would present pose there should be palling a penalty there must have been some method left in order to protect that teaching from error. They had to ask themselves this question : This Church, with a visible and infallible head, must exist to-day in default of any further revelation from Almighty God. It must be here in this year of grace, 1897, just as it was on the Day of Pentecost. And the question was,

Where is it ?

Outside the Church of Rome we do not find one Christian body that claims to be an infallible church with a visible and infallible head. She alone had the power of settling the matters of dispute that were exercising the

At the close of the lecture a number of questions were asked by the non-Catholics present.

During the evening Mr. Blanchard sang Cherubini's Ave MARIA and "There is a green hill far away. "-London "Universe.'

Another American Failure.

(Manitoba Morning Free Press.) When Mr. Cleveland sent Mr. Bayard as Ambassador to St. James he selected not only one of the best men of his party, but one of the best men of the nation; of your doctrines—the doctrine a man schooled in foreign poliof the Real Preseuce, for instance, tics by service as Secretary of State, of good abilities, highly cultured in mind and manners, not believe in-the infallibility and of an exceedingly amiable disposition He was in very respect a representative of the very best type of American citizenship. He immediately became a favorite in London, and it was not long before he was invited to take part in almost people thought he (the lecturer) every big and little ceremony believed such a thing as that he that occurred. A pleasing speakshould not wonder if they called er, and in sympathy with the best English traditions, he fell explained the Decree of the Vati- into the habit of saying pleasant fallibility, and, continuing. said he had been accredited, and for they all knew how very neces. four years it can be said of him sary it was even in the ordinary that he labored with love to ple-to have an authority whose This earned for him the bitter decision was final. What an enmity of that portion of the If it was of Mr. Cleveland, who refused with relief when the term of a servile bowing to the British in the new Ambassador; the disreal American would go to Lonhimself to Her Majesty in a buckskin suit, with revolvers in his hip pockets and bowie knives in his boots, and that Lord Salisbury would be assured in the genuine American vernacular that he had better keep his old kinsman of the twelfth century. We are proud to count among the faithful of this diocese so brilliant speaks of St. Thomas's sisters as " Becket sisters," not " à Becket." Father Morris, in his great life of the martyr, points out that this latter form is unscholarly, the "à" being merely a Latin preposition that should not be reproduced in English. Tennyson, in his tragedy, its acceptance would sacrifice the principle of education in a Cathonot the traditional but inaccurate lic atmosphere. form " à Becket."

suffer most from that double burwill continue to reject it because

The article from the Winnipeg BAYARD AND HAY. "Free Press" on

A wave of hu-Old mor is sweeping •PAPERS. over the "Free Press" sanctum. Apropos of the waste paper nui-"Another American Failure" is as clever a skit on sance in the Winnipeg streets, one of the editionial writers says American Anglophobia as we have read for many a day. Like the "Newspaper offices ... are about best of really artistic productions the only establishments which conit rises gradually to a climax and sume their own refuse. Our city then just stops on the summit contemporaries are guilty, it is thereof. In reproducing it we have true, of putting old papers upon but faint hopes of effecting any the streets; but they distribute change in that curious jealousy of them decently and in order, as news." things English which so mars the This is not half bad, when one pages of respectable papers like knows the telegraphic abvantages N. Y. Sun, or, still less, in that which the Free Press, having been scientific hatred of England that so many years in the field, enjoys breathes through every line of the exclusively; but we do not quite "Irish World". We merely wish agree with the judgment of the to set before our readers a remind- telegraph editor as to the value of blasphemy before an audience der pain of damnation, and said them with the very best specier of the irresistible fascination certain despatches which he seems mainly composed of staunch be- he thought if the obligation of men of native rudeness. exercised over gentlefolk by the to have suppressed. For instance, lievers, who had to practise self-believing this Church was so Alas, for the hopes of the mob ! during the few days that followed denial not to lynch him.

Judges to Interpret the Spiritual Laws?

Catholics said that this demand further recitals of his fraudu- for an authority upon which lent manœuvres. He positive-they could rely in matters of ly revelled in humbug and lies. faith and morals was only to be lion tied up or it would be the How many lies there are in his found in the Catholic Church. worse fo him. The expression exposure of himself it is impos- The first reason he (the lecturer) of relief in escaping from ble to say. Taxil's dupes are far less to be bility of the Pope was because would naturally lead one to pitied than himself. They were he believed in an infallible think that Mr. Hay was not a honest; he is a monster, It is Church. The lecturer then re-gentleman, and that he would fitting that this century, which minded them that in his first be all the fitter representative has been appropriately styled lecture he stated that he found because he was not. Nothing 'saeculum humbuggianum, " from reading his Protestant Bible less could be expected, at any should close with the unpreced- there was a Church founded by rate, than that he would keep ented exhibition of a liar and Christ, to teach all nations, and the Britishers at arms' length blasphemer glorying in lies and which men were to believe un- and that altogether he would treat