to a settlement, but the latter were not. Instead of returning home Mr. Clay passed over to Buffalo, and his estate was placed in the hands of Alexander Davidson, of Hamilton. Clay returned, and his stock was sold to Blacker & Ryckman, of Hamilton, at 74 cents in the dollar, and now Mr. Clay is waiting for something to turn up.

WM. BURGER, formerly of Milton, Ont., left about two years ago to visit his friends in Minnesota, forgetting to bid a large number of his Milton friends good-bye. He remained there until last January, when he came back and got a friendly creditor to put him into insolvency, obtaining a deed of composition at 50 cents on the dollar, payable in 1, 2, 3 and 4 years without interest or security. He made application for a discharge under deed, but the solicitor for one of the aggrieved creditors examined Burger, who could not account for the money taken away by him, or what he did with it. In consequence of this examination Burger became doubtful of getting a discharge and withdrew the application.

WINSTON & CASSEL have for twelve months past conducted a general store in four different small towns in this province, viz.:—

Bethel, North Ely, Waterloo and L'Avenir. The last removal of this emigrating firm was made nearly a month ago, but their creditors have not yet discovered their present address. They (the creditors) have the consolation of knowing that the stock was sold, prior to the firm's departure, for about $75. The liabilities were not large, some $1,500 being distributed among five wholesale merchants in this city, who were the principal creditors. L. Winston, it will be remembered, commenced business in his own name at Bethel, and some of his creditors report that he paid promptly for a time, while others complain that they never received a cent. Cassel was admitted as a partner, and was reported by Winston to have brought with him some $2,000. This story, however, did not generally gain credence, especially among Montreal merchants, whom Winston visited about a month ago and tried to obtain more goods on credit, but his efforts were not generally successful. It is believed that the firm have this time emigrated to the States.

Crops about Brantford are looking better than for years past. Wheat is heading beautifully, and is accounted fully two weeks earlier than usual, so that if it escapes frost it will be ahead of the midge. The merchants in that vicinity are much encouraged by the outlook.
