Thomas Duckworth Will Be Arraigned at Grand Valley Today.

By a Staff Reporter.

GRAND VALLEY, Nov. 2 .- Thomas Duckworth murdered his brother-inlaw, Harry Strutt, at 1 o'clock today, harnessed a horse and drove four miles to the home of Joseph Turnbull, where he was arrested by County Constable Brown at 4 o'clock. He submitted peaceably, pleading ignorance when questioned regarding the crime.

Angered thru the action of Strutt, in helping the landlord, Thomas Jordan, to remove the furniture from the house, Duckworth rushed up stairs armed with a .44 calibre rifle and discharged it within a few feet of Strutt. The bullet passed clean thru the left mediate death. Strutt's sister, Mrs. him to the top of the stairs, when he sank, falling down hie steps to the feet of his wife who had heard the shot and was hurrying towards the front door. The scene of the murder is a mile and a half west of the village, on the fourth concession of East Luther. From evidence submitted at the inquest which was held this evening, it appears that there has always been more or less strife between the two men. Tuesday morning, Mr. Jordan sent word that the house was to be vacated. He received $3.50 a month rent and rented the place on the understanding that it was to be vacated whenever he required it.

Moved the Furniture. At 8 o'clock, Jordan arrived and commenced to remove the furniture. Strutt order says: assisted him. Duckworth became very angry and left immediately for Grand Valley, where he saw Stewart Tait, once more with my army. It is espejustice of the peace, with a view to taking legal proceedings against Jordan. Mr. Tait told him the matter would ave to be investigated meantime nothing could be done.

From the street interview, Duckworth returned home, then he came back to the village, went to the hardware store and purchased some bul-lets from James Duke, the proprietor. By the time he arrived at the house the furniture was all out and stand-

In the meantime Hamilton tried to get the gun away from his brother, but failed. Duckworth then took his wife and family up the road to I. Smith's amd asked Mr. Smith to look after them for a short time while he stable and harnessed his horse. This required only a short time, and then required only a short time, and then drove away to Joseph Turnbull's. While this was going on Dr. N. W. Why He Resigned.

Perhaps the gravest instance, and the most recent, of how the cabinet and government worked, he said, was to be found in the Balkan situation. On Sept. 28 Sir Edward Grey stated that Bulgarian mobilization had resulted in Bulgaria assuming an agressive attitude on the side of Great Britain's enemies and that Great Britain should be prepared to give its friends in the Balkans all the support in its power in a manner most wel-come to them. When he learned that this was no longer the policy of the government and that there were no plans to this

Sir Edward said he decided to resir Edward said the decided to resign, as he could not support the conclusion reached by the war council of the cabinet the day before. He quoted Sir Edward Grey's statement made in the house on Sept. 28, promising the allies' support to Serbia, and read part of his latter to the premier: part of his letter to the premier:
Letter to Premier:
"I cannot understand how England

can abandon Serbia to her fate without national dishonor. Even if we are not so bound in honor, such a course would, in my judgment, be the policy of despair and an admission of failure which could only be justified after every other alternative had been abandoned. Bulgaria will be given a free hand to crush our ally. All hope of inducing Roumania to come to Ser-bia's assistance will have been aban-doned, and she may even find it to her interests to join our enemies, and every encouragement will be given Greece to follow the policy of the king rather than Venizelos and his majorting daily with the best advisers they ity in the chamber.
