

FROM REVIEWS OF THIS WORK.

"A book of which it may fairly be said that no more masterly contribution has for long been made to New Testament exegesis and theology. No New Testament book of our time better deserves, or will better repay, the most careful study."—Rev. Professor DENNETT, D.D., in the British Weekly.

"The book is marked all through by accurate scholarship, discriminating criticism, and brilliant exegesis. Mr. Law exhibits a complete mastery of the literature of his subject and a rare faculty of clear and eloquent exposition. His volume may be heartily commended to all on the lookout for a fresh and lucid exposition of a sane and reverent faith."—Scotsman.

"For the purposes of the student or the expositor it would be hard to find a better or more useful volume. Mr. Law has done his work thoroughly. He has all the necessary scholarship, he is a clear and strong and independent thinker, with an admirable style."—Dundee Advertiser.

"The book may be warmly commended as a very careful study of a most precious portion of Scripture."—Primitive Methodist Quarterly Review.

"Of Mr. Law's book we can speak with hearty commendation. His exposition is scholarly, luminous, evangelical, and edifying."—London Quarterly Review.

"We may say that from beginning to end, in scholarship, in learning, and in critical insight, this book leaves nothing to desire."—Toronto Mail.
