

taken to protect his, Christ's, army against the assaults of the enemy and to arm men physically, mentally, morally for the fight—and so it was that the readiness of the Y.M.C.A. to undertake the million cares, to face the unnumbered problems of the world war was not the miraculous inspiration of a moment but just the glorious working out of the plans designed so many years before by the Father of the Red Triangle.

J. E. HODDER WILLIAMS.