HOPELESSLY DRUNK, NOT A MUTINEER

Evidence in Case of Canadian Soldier Tried for Rioting at Rhyl.

London, April 18.—(Reuters)—The Kinnel Camp court proceeded with the case against Gunnar Burton, who is charged with joining in mutiny by combining with other soldiers to resist lawful authority and to destroy the property of No. 2 camp at Kinnel Park. There was a second charge of having used violence to a superior officer. The accused pleaded not guilty.

The unusual course of sitting on Good Friday was adopted in order to expedite the trials. Gunnar Burton, giving evidence in his own defence, was asked about the evidence put in by the prosecution to the effect that during the riots he spoke about a strike. Burton denied that he had ever had anything to do with strikes or strike-breaking in the United States or elsewhere, and he did not recollect having mentioned the subject to a sergeant-major.

Major Weyman, for the defence, said that there was evidence which established that Burton on the afternoon of the riots was hopelessly drunk, yet the chief witness for the prosecution had not noticed it. Major Weyman contended that Burton was on the side of good order in the camp. In fact the authorities had released Burton from arrest on the evening of the riots, which showed that they at first regarded him not as a mutineer but as an ordinary drunk.

Major Weyman urged that whatever the accused did he was not responsible for his actions, and that he had not intended to use violence to wards his superior officer. Col. Rowland replied on behalf of the prosecution, after which the court adjourned to consider the evidence in private.

Gunnar Burton was found not guilty on all charges and was released from custody.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast, fast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place! Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions, instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "run-downs," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere. An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water, with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten days of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, before putting more food into the stomach. These subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds, and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation.

ment with the agent-general for British Columbia, Capt. George Black, former commissioner of the Yukon, defended the accused.
Capt. George Sawley, 12th Reserve Battalion, C.E.F., stated that while getting a crowd of soldiers away from the women's quarters two men aimed blows at him, one with a baseball bat and the other with a two by four plank. He knocked down the former, but the latter, whom he recognized the next day on parade as the accused, struck him on the shoulder. A man came from behind and knocked down the accused, which he did.

The accused denied the charge on oath, declaring witnesses for the prosecution were mistaken. The defence in Sherstoftoff's case was that it was one of mistaken identity, and that he was a poor ignorant foreigner who had accepted the responsibilities of citizenship in the country of his adoption and had fought as a volunteer.

Sentence will be promulgated.

TRAIN OF POLES
SENT TO COLOGNE

Mistake Was Made, But Allied
Officers Quickly Straightened
Out Misunderstanding.

Coblenz, April 17.—The first train of Polish troops being taken to Poland became "lost" soon after entering occupied districts of Germany. The train pulled into Trevestate on Wednesday and because of the misunderstanding of orders on the part of German railroad men, it was sent to Cologne instead of to Coblenz.

Early today, when the soldiers looked from their car windows and discovered that they were in Cologne, there was some excitement on board the train, but allied officers soon straightened out the misunderstanding and the train was brought to this city. When the Poles got here and crossed the Rhine, their excitement had entirely departed and officers on duty at the station in this city, reported that the discipline on board the train was excellent.

As a result of the mix-up, the second train of Polish troops arrived here ahead of the first train, and started on its journey across Germany, taking the place of the train which had been misdirected.

Vorwaerts Says World Will

Instigating War.

Berlin, April 18.—In a strikingly sober article, written by Eduard Bernstein. The Vorwaerts warns the German nation of the dangers attendant upon a refusal to sign the terms of peace, and declares the world will not absolve former Emperor William and his advisers from responsibility for all the misery of the war.

The article points out the enormous damage done to French territory and says: "Everyone acquainted with the facts knows that the allied demand for the delivery of coal for a specified period is based upon economic necessities, although a legitimate objection can be made to the demand for pledging the output of the entire Saar district. In any case, we cannot save the Saar district for Germany by threats."
