MRS. CASTLE IS FREE.

The Suborned Woman Released Because of Her Afflicted Condition.

London, Nov. 10.—Bernard Abrahamson, solicitor for the defence in the case of Mrs. William M. Castle of San Francisco, who, upon pleading guilty of shoplifting, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment, received a communication from Sir Matthew W. Ridley, Home Secretary, last evening, stating that in consideration of her mental condition and other circumstances, Mrs. Castle would be discharged and restored to the care of her husband to-day, and Mrs. Castle accordingly went to the Workhouse Scrubs prison this morning and took her wife home. The physical and mental condition of Mrs. Castle is such as to make her immediate release impossible, and she is at present she will be taken to a quiet English country retreat, where she will be kept absolutely free from excitement.

It is officially stated at the Home Office that after receiving reports on Mrs. Castle's condition from Dr. Scott, the physician in charge of the hospital at Holloway jail, Dr. Patmore of the Workhouse Scrubs prison, and Dr. Nicholson of the Broadmoor Lunatic Asylum, all of whom examined the woman physically and mentally, the Home Secretary ordered her release, her husband undertaking to convey her back to America with the least possible delay.

HAD ONLY ONE BAR.

A Novel Case Under the Liquor License Act

In Which Judge Finkle Quashed the Conviction.

A novel case under the Liquor License Act was tried on the 24th Oct. before the Police Magistrate of Ingersoll. In anticipation of a brisk day's business on Fair day, Henry Sherlock of Ingersoll, knowing that his bar was lacking in length, extended its limits across the hall and into the adjoining sample room, so that the thirsty souls could enjoy without crowding the cheerful beverages furnished by the genial host. This effort to accommodate his guests did not, however, meet with the approval of the authorities, and he was promptly summoned to answer a charge of having violated section 63 of the License

Act, which reads as follows:

"No more than one bar shall be kept in any house or premises licensed under this act.

For the defence, it was contended that the structure erected did not constitute three bars, but one bar, and that, in fact, it was more than one bar, it had not been kept, within the meaning of the statute, whom the appeal was argued on the 24th

November by Mr. Stevenson for Sherlock and Mr. J. H. Jackson for Ingersoll.

The following judgment was delivered by His Honor:

"This is an appeal from a conviction made the 24th day of October last, by which the appellant was convicted of keeping more than one bar on his premises, contrary to section 63 of the Liquor License Act, and was fined $30 and $14.93 costs.

"The evidence in the case showed that the appellant kept a licensed hotel in the Township of Ingersoll, and that he had his bar from the bar used on the west side of the hotel through a hall, as shown by a plan marked 'A,' annexed to the charge, and that he conceded on the argument by the counsel for the respondent that the plan was incorrect in showing the bar proper to be a few inches from the outside panel of the doorway, as it required by the plan, and that a plank was placed across the doorway, and that it was admitted on the trial that the appellant was a hotelier, and that he was a hotelier on the 24th day of October last, and that he was a hotelier on the 24th day of Octo-
