found the would-be suicide he was on his knees in the rear of the Lambton Loan Company building and was just in the act of cutting his throat. Dr. Clement grabbed the man's arm and called for assistance. Several men responded and the man was restrained from inflicting any more injuries upon himself. He fought desperately and seemed bound to destroy himself.

Dr. Morrison was summoned and attended to the cuts in the man's throat. In his attempt at suicide Gravelle, for such his name proved to be, managed to make two cuts in his throat—one about three inches long and another of about one inch in length, but neither of them was deep enough to cause death. Following is a copy of the letter which Gravelle left at the drug store:

"My Gear wife Maggie, that I love, Thave been looking for you and Joseph night and day. I forgive you with all my heart. I love you, Maggie, Kiss Joseph and Maggie, Tell them a broken-hearted and loving father has gone to heaven. I kiss you all in my distress. In a few minutes I will meet my Judge, not the one that tole the children. One more minute and I am gone to heaven. "Augustin Gravelle."
