SOCIETY WOMAN INVENTOR

Mrs. George Thompson Commended for Devising a Garment for the Sick.

Mrs. George Thompson of 182 East Sixty-first street, New York, has been highly commended by more than a hundred distinguished physicians and surgeons for her invention of a garment to be worn by the sick and bed-ridden. These medical men say that it is the most practical garment ever devised for the purposes for which it was intended because it can be removed in part or altogether, without disturbing the patient in the slightest degree, thereby facilitating examinations and operations. It will contribute to the recovery of many who are critically ill, they assert, when it is dangerous to attempt to move them, and will prove to be a great blessing to be used.

It also simplifies and saves time, according to the physicians, when a patient visits a doctor's office, for it is so constructed that it can be worn at all times.

The inspiration came to Mrs. Thompson when she was seriously ill in a hospital. More than anything she dreaded every hospital and sick room where it is used.
