Toronto Globe.

Toronto, April 13. — The Toronto Globe, commenting on those portions of the message of President Harding which relate to the general tariff, says: —

"These observations are lacking in clearness and cogency, but it is unreasonable to expect perfect consistency in any plea for high protection.

"The president pronounced again for an association to promote peace," says the paper. "Before consenting to 'scrap' the league covenant and the league itself, the other nations will probably ask the U. S. to define the aim and scope of a new organization."

Commenting upon those sentences in the message which deal with the obligation of the United States to help restore tranquility in Europe, the Globe says: "Entrance into the League of Nations would have given these sentiments practical effect."

TWO REGINA MEETINGS
Regina, April 13—Lindsay Crawford, of Toronto, president of the Irish Self Determination League, addressed two meetings in Regina last night.

The first closed quietly, but the temper of the audience at the second was distinctly hostile. It was closed with the singing of the National Anthem, a procedure brought about by the threatening attitude of veterans present.
