"IRIS"

Which has been picturized by Cecil Hepworth, the leading English motion picture producer, in five parts. Cecil Hepworth has given us a problem of life which will make the spectators think, backed by delightful English scenery and an all star cast of English artists, including Alma Taylor, who in point of popularity, corresponds to Mary Pickford. Henry Ainley, who has starred in his own productions at the Haymarket, London. Virginia Harne and Lynn Harding, originally created the leads in New York with great success, it being considered Pinero's greatest play.

The Exhibitors' Trade Review said:—"The outstanding features of the picture are the acting, which is of very high order, and the beautiful English scenery."
