

" then sold it to Mr
" H. B. Crossdale who
" became Robertson's
" partner and returned
" a portion of this to
" me, securing payment
" of the balance by
" a new lien on the
" property in the
" name of Crossdale
" & Robertson. Sub-
" sequently Robertson
" failed; Crossdale
" assumed all his
" indebtedness and
" arranged with a
" firm in Victoria
" to advance some
" $40,000. provided I
" would give up my
" lien on the concern.
" In the hope of getting
" my advance out I
" agreed to this but Mr.
" Crossdale failed
" within three years and
" my advances were
" sacrificed. This is
" the last of an ac-
" cidental connection
" which from first to
" last involved me
" in a loss of nearly
" $20,000. The mortgage
" which