> A Washington despatch to the Bangor Commercial says: "C. A. Board-man of Calais, Me., who was here a few days ago in search of a consulship at St. John, went away with the endorsement of Capt. Boutelle. There was some doubt against Mr. Boardman when he came here, for he was not early in the 'push' for consul and it seemed as though Capt. Bou telle might not have any more consular endorsements to give out. But the matter appears to have been fixed up in some manner and Mr. Boardman went away quite satisfied." same despatch says R. H. Ford of Biddeford, Me., wants to obtain the Halifax consulship.

A man named George North, who lived on Clarence street and who for some time past has been employed in Christie's woodworking factory, died very suddenly on 6th inst. about 7 clock. Returning from work at the usual hour he ate his supper with apparent relish, seemingly in the best of health. Shortly after he left his home intending to take a little exerice, but at the corner of Brussel street he was taken suddenly ill and fell to the sidewalk in an uncenscious idition. Friends quickly carried him the few yards back to his home, but he was dead when they reached there. Dr. D. E. Beryman, who was irmediately summoned, pronounced it a case of heart disease. North was about 45 years of age.

nong the guests at the Victoria notel is C. H. J. Knapp of Red Rapids, Victoria county, N. B., who came out from Liverpool in the Lake Ontario. Mr. Knapp, who is a native of the Isle of Wight, came out to New Brunswick about seven years ago. Most of his time has been spent in hunting and ishing up there. About six weeks ago he took passage on the Lake Superior for Liverpool en route to Isle of Wight to look after a small fortune willed to him by a great aunt. The money in question amounted to something like $70,000 cash and a lot of property. On his return to Red Rapids Mr. Knapp and C. M. Leonard will open up a large general store, which will be run under the name of Leonard & Knapp. Mr. Leonard was formerly with Sutthery & Merton and later on of the firm of Leonard & Crawford. Mr. Knapp is sure there is a good thing in the business venture. He is a most genial gentleman, and all who know him will wish the new firm every success.

One of the Most Brutal Combats Ever Witnessed in a Civilized Community.

The peaceful neighborhood of Sus-sex was all excitement yesterday and Sunday over one of the most dis-graceful fights that ever occurred in a civilized community. Two rival factions, the Ryans and Maddens, who live on Smith's Creek road, about a mile from Sussex, had arranged for a contest between two of the younger representatives of the families, to be settled in the open with bare fists for, it is stated, a sum of money. Quite a umber of friends and others witnessed the go, and soon saw more fight than they bargained for. From fight partaking of the London prize ring rules it degenerated into a catch-as-catch-can and slug as you best know now melee, the friends of both parties joining heartily in the affair. Fence stakes and sticks and numerous effective articles played a prominent part, with the result that there are many sore heads in that vicinity.
The elder Madden received a bad scalp wound, and was taken to Sussex, where it was dressed by Dr. Ryan. The residents of Sussex and vicinity are highly indignant about the affair, and describe it as the mos disgraceful occurrence ever known in STRONG.

A Pennfield, Charlotte Co., corres pondent writes: The entire communty was saddered by the news of the death of Franklin Armstrong, which occurred at Alma, Albert Co., March 30th. The remains were brought here on April 2nd by the Shore line and taken to the home of his childhood, from whence they were conveyed the following day to Christ church prior to interment. The procession started at 1.30 p. m. and was very large, thus showing the high esteem in which the departed was held. Rev. R. E.

Smith conducted the funeral service and preached a touching sermon from the text "Therefore be ye also ready. The deepest sympathy is felt for the bereaved by all. The young man was widely known and highly esteemed by all his acquaintances. He was born in 1868 at Pennfield Ridge, where he spent his childhood and early part of youth. ILLEGAL KILLING OF MOOSE.

Edmundston corresponden writes: "A. E. Hanson, govern surveyor, who has just returned from running lines near the Green River waters in this county, reports very grave news as to the killing and cl ing of moose in this section. Within thirteen miles of this town he saw one moose had been butchered and were chasing moose. In one instance the game warden met two men who acknowledged they had been chasing moose, but nothing has been done to them. The protection of game should be apart from politics. It is too bad to lose these valuable animals solely because the warden has a big pull with the government."
