Chicago 6; Detroit 5.

Detroit, April 29.—Chicago defeated Detroit 6 to 5 today, in a hard fought twelve inning game, that was full of thrills from start to finish. Ty Cobb played his first game of the year, received an ovation when he stepped to the plate in the first inning, but failed to produce the hit that would have scored Crawford, who singled before him.

In the third the Georgian hit safely driving in a run, but in the eighth with two bases on balls he rolled weakly to the pitcher for an easy out. Cobb seemed to have his old time speed. In the 11th he went from first to third, while Weaver threw out Gahner at the initial sack. His two fielding chances were not difficult.

New York 6; Brooklyn 0.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 29.—New York defeated Brooklyn 6 to 0 today, after Mathewson, the great right hander, and Rucker, star among left hand pitchers, had fought the battle of their lives for 12 innings. The Giants made a whirlwind finish in the thirteenth and won handsily by scoring six times in a batting rally.

For six innings Rucker pitched no hit ball, but one New York player reached first base. He was Shaffer, who got a base on balls in the opening inning. Murray, first up in the eighth made the initial hit and was caught stealing. Mathewson also opened the ninth with a single, only to be forced out. Shaffer got the third for New York in the twelfth inning and was caught stealing. Mathewson was hit more freely, but every time the Brooklyn got a start, a fast double play stopped them.

The break came when Doyle opened the thirteenth with a double and Murray followed with an inside hit. Rucker could not handle a double and three singles followed quickly and with four runs and six hits counted, Rucker was relieved. Two outs and a hit off Scott brought the total up to six runs. Sharp fielding featured the game as well as Mathewson's wonderful control. The Giants star pitched the entire 12 innings without giving a base on balls. Doyle was hit in the face by a bad bounding ball thrown by Myers in the tenth but finished the game with a great fielding record.

New York . . . 000000000000—6 10 2

Brooklyn . . . 00000000000—0 8 1

Chicago, 7; Cincinnati, 2.

Chicago, April 29.—Cincinnati National league club, appearing on the field for the first time in its history without red stockings, was defeated by Chicago today, 7 to 2. Instead of the famous hose which gave the club its sobriquet of Reds, Manager Tinker's men wore the pale stockings of the Chicago White Sox, lent by owner Comiskey with complete outfit of uniforms, gloves, bats, and shoes, the Cincinnati team's uniforms having been accidentally left at St. Louis. Most shoes in some cases, light clothes, handicapped the visitors. Some were unable to stoop low enough to scoop grounders and others could not run fast enough to catch flies. The locals bunched hits with this poor fielding.

When the lack of uniforms was reported to Manager Tinker, upon the arrival of the club, from St. Louis he requested a loan from President Murphy of the local club, but there was some difficulty about compliance and Tinker called on Mr. Comiskey.

Score: Cincinnati . . . 100000010—2 8 3
Chicago . . . 2000101—7 8 1
Batteries: Benton, Fromme, and Clark; Cheney and Archer.

HOOPER OF THE RED SOX

Harry Hooper undoubtedly had a batting slump last season, hitting far below his true form. In fact his record of .242 was the lowest he has ever turned in during his seven years of professional ball.

If Harry can return to his 1911 form and hit for .311 or thereabouts, it would make it even more difficult for the Athletics to figure in the World's Series this fall.

POLO CAPTAIN RESIGNED.

London, April 29.—Walter S. Buckmaster has resigned the captaincy of the English polo team which is to compete with the American team for the international polo cup on Long Island in June. Buckmaster was severely injured in a practice game on April 13, which has resulted in partial dislocation of his right arm, and it is not likely that he will even accompany the team to the United States.

Capt. Lockett, of the Eaton Hall team, has been invited to replace him.

HIDDEN BALL TRICK NOW BARRED

Boston, April 29.—A meeting of the New England League umpires was held yesterday afternoon at the league's office, Boston. Arthur Cooper, secretary of the league, presiding.

The league's staff of umpires this season is made up of Michael O'Brien, John Roderham, with Jack Stafford, Thomas Quinn and Thomas Murray on the list as substitutes.

It was decided to adopt the American League rule regarding the hidden ball, which does not permit a play being made in that manner. The American League system of umpires' summary credit will also probably be adopted in the New England League.

The assignment of umpires for the opening games was as follows: O'Brien at Lowell, White at Lawrence, Bannan at Worcester and Roderham at Fall River.

AFTER HAL CHASE.

New York, April 29.—Manager Stahl, of the Boston American league team, said today he was trying to arrange a trade that would bring Hal Chase, the famous first baseman of the New York Americans, to Boston. Robert McRory, treasurer of the Boston club, left town for Boston simultaneously with Stahl's admission that he was after Chase.

It is reported that President Farrell, of the New Yorks, would be given a choice of any one of the Boston catchers; also that he might receive outfielder Henriksen and infielders Janvyn and Hall. Officers of the New York club refused to discuss the matter.

CANADIAN BOXERS FOR THE NATIONAL

Baltimore witnessed its first Eastern League game ten years ago today. The Maryland metropolis broke into organized ball in 1892 with a club in the American Association, organized as a rival of the National League. In 1894 the Union Association, also organized to fight the major league, placed a team in Baltimore, but the circuit did not last through the season. After the Players League battle, Baltimore was admitted to the National League, which was enlarged to twelve clubs. In 1894, 1895 and 1896 the world-famous Orioles of Baltimore, considered among the greatest of baseball machines in the history of the game, captured the National League pennant. In 1899, Baltimore and three other clubs were dropped by the National, and in 1901 Ban Johnson placed an American League club in Baltimore. In 1902, New York took the Baltimore franchise in the American league, and the Maryland city had to be content with minor league ball as a member of the Eastern, now the International League. Once since then, in 1905, Baltimore captured the pennant.

SPORTOGRAPHY

An April fool joke that was pulled off thirty days' late was the bout between Bob Fitzsimmons and Ed Dunkhorst, which took place in Brooklyn thirteen years ago today, with the Brooklyn jans cast for the sale of suckers. Dunkhorst had never taken part in a real battle when he met Fitzsimmons. He was a giant in stature, and weighed something less than 300 pounds, but not a whole lot less. Jim Jeffries, who was then training for his fight with Corbett, engaged Ed as a human punching bag. One Sunday the reporters at Jeff's training camp, being short of news for the Monday morning papers, interviewed Jeff's trainers, and sent out a story to the effect that Dunkhorst was the coming champion of the world. It was a joke, but the sport public, enamored of Ed's size, took it seriously, and clamored to see Dunkhorst in action. A Brooklyn club offered Ed a match with Fitz, and Dunkhorst, who was crazy like a fox, expressed his willingness to mop up a ring with the lanky one for the sum of $1000. Ed knew he would stand no chance with Bob, so he wisely demanded that the coin be paid over before the bout. Fitz led the human mountain to one round, and then in the second inning sent out a punch to the jaw that sent Ed down with a crash that broke window glass a block away, and sent people out in the streets to avoid being buried in the ruins when the next quake came. Ed got his thousand, and afterward took part in a number of minor bouts.
