It did not take the C. P. R. long to come to the terms of the Western Newspapers. Just as the old lady remarked, "I told you so." Sir Thomas Shaunessy is too level-headed to monkey with a buzz saw. He had hardly been in the west 24 hours before the matters were all amicably arranged and the newspapers got exactly what they were after.

Some people—mostly papers—mostly Conservatives—seem to be worrying about the ability of the Liberals to catch up with the recent transcontinental tour of Mr. Borden. If we were only in politics we'd tell you a thing or two, but—we shall butt in after a while.

Stand for Cardston first, last and all the time, 365 days in the year and then some. Read what is going on a little to the west of us. You will find it on the front page. There will be some big doings in Cardston before many moons. When we get the better half of THE STAR converted then watch the good wool fly—that's a fly that has never yet been deciphered by "Flyologists."

We understand that Indian Agent Wilson is in favor of selling the strip of land adjacent to the town. Good for Bob. We always thought he was a jolly good fellow and we are quite sure of it now. But Bob is prompted more with a desire to keep things straight on the Reserve than anything else. He realizes that the Cardston strip is a nuisance and of no earthly use to the Indians whatever. Give it to the people of Cardston and they will make good service of the same.

Did you say grain? Were you foolish enough to arise and, remark, "Is there any grain in the Cardston district?" Law bless me man, there's grain till you can't see straight. Between Magrath and Spring Coulee there is so much grain that they have had to take and dump right smack on the sod. If you don't believe this call on our worthy President of the Board of Trade, he will vouch for its authenticity.

Mr. Griswold, who had the misfortune to have something like twenty five acres of wheat burned on the other side of Raley by sparks from the engine of the A. R. and I states that he could not wish for better treatment than he received at the hands of Messrs. Kevin and Naismith when he interviewed them in Lethbridge on Saturday last. They are perfectly willing to adjust matters and compensate the owner for the loss.

Mr. Martin Woolf, Secretary Treasurer of the Municipality and President of the Cardston Board of Trade, returned on Monday from spending a couple of days at Raymond, the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hattie Woolf Brimhall. Mr. Woolf, in speaking to THE STAR, said, "I am more than pleased to note the splendid success that seems to be attending the good people of Raymond and in fact all the country between here and that point. I took occasion while at Raymond to view the country back from the Railway line and as far as I went I saw stacks and stacks of wheat. The whole country between here and Raymond is veritably a great big field. The people of Raymond surely have some of the finest wheat that I have ever seen in my life. At Magrath there were cars and cars of beets and grain and then there were loaded wagons waiting for empty cars. It is a great sight to take a visit down the line and be calculated to inspire the people to renewed effort and diligence in agricultural pursuits."

The Medicine Hat Times prints a very fine halftone of a couple of Binders at work in that vicinity. The farmer that will stop his binder long enough to have a picture taken these busy days should be shot—that's another expression for being photoed, don't you know.

Among the many papers that has improved to a marked degree during the last few months is the Medicine Hat Times. Mr. Amy is putting forth one of the finest weeklies in the land and together with The News, Medicine Hat has caused to be proud of her newspaper representatives.

Politics are already beginning to warm up as a result of the fine weather after the storm. Some of the Provincial papers are already printing addresses setting forth grievances, difficulties, etc. etc. and always manifesting the spirit and genius of the politician, "I am of course on the hands of my friends." We are inclined to believe that in not a few cases the friends have their hands full and should sing that old familiar strain, "Sapolio." It seemeth to be a little early to begin pulling wires but the country is in a fair shape and can stand it.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH.

A man went into a hardware store to buy an axe. Being shown the article, and informed that the price was $1.15 he said: "Why, I can get that axe from a mail order house for 90 cents."

"Very well," said the hardwareman, "I will give it to you at the same price, provided that you will do the same with me as you would with them."

"All right," replied the customer, as he handed over a one dollar bill, and the merchant gave him back 10 cents in change.

"Now," said the hardwareman, "I want 25 cents more to pay express charges," which the purchaser gave him. "How much did your axe cost you?"

"One dollar and fifteen cents," the man answered.

"Very good; now give me the five cents for money order fees and postage," which the purchaser had to hand over. "Now how much did your axe cost you?"

"One dollar and twenty cents," said the customer.

"Not so cheap, after all," said the merchant, whereupon he picked up the axe, tossed it back on the shelf and told the customer to call for it in ten days, as that would be as soon as he could get it from the mail order house.

An Awful Cough Cured.

"Two years ago our little girl had a touch of pneumonia, which left her with an awful cough. She had spells of coughing, just like one with the whooping cough and some thought she would not get well at all. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which acted like a charm. She stopped coughing and got stout and fat," writes Mrs. Ora Bussard Brabaker, Ill. This remedy is for sale by all druggists and dealers.

Serious Accident.

Last Saturday morning Mrs. John Layne and little girls met with a very serious accident while coming from their farm at Leavitt. In descending one of the hills on the other side of the ridge, the hold-backs broke and the other wise docile horse lunged forward with a wicked turn that broke one of the shafts. Mrs. Layne and baby were thrown violently to the ground and dragged for some distance. Mr. Layne who was about half a mile distant, hearing his wife scream, rushed to the scene and found her prostrated with a broken arm and the little girl suffering from a fractured limb. The baby was badly bruised but not so seriously or painfully injured.

A conveyance was immediately procured and the unfortunate ones were brought to Cardston as soon as possible where they were placed under medical treatment. At last report were progressing as nicely as can be expected. It is nothing less than marvelous that the mother and baby were not killed instantly.
