

"SOME HA'E MEAT, AND CANNA EAT"

So Bobby Burns tersely describes the rich, but still poor, dyspeptics. But their case is not now so desperate as when Burns wrote. For the man who has the food now can eat without suffering for it, if he just follows the meal with a Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablet.

These remarkable tablets banish the troubles of the chronic dyspeptic—the man who is bilious—the sufferer from heartburn, gas on the stomach or occasional indigestion. You can eat hearty meals of wholesome food—and digest them, too—if you take Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets.

Compounded by expert chemists, after probably the best formula known to medical science, they are quick and certain in their action, giving prompt relief from all forms of stomach trouble, toning up and strengthening the digestive organs and bringing about permanent cures.

A man is no stronger than his stomach. Fit yourself for your best work by taking Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, soc. at your druggist's. National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal.

can be found on this earth. Hoping that I have not occupied too much of your valuable time, dear editor, and that if you see fit you will print this in defence of many young readers who will be greatly disappointed with your correspondent's views. I will sign myself

Likes Western Life.

Bawlf, Alta., March 6, 1912.

Dear Editor,—I have been a reader of your wonderful Western Home Monthly for some time and will subscribe for it for another year, for time rolls by with your good paper to read. I have lived in Canada 11 years now and like it very much. Out here we have a good country for farming and ranching, and we do a little of each. I think this is the place for a young man to get a good start and make a happy little home if he is willing to stick to it. I enjoy reading the correspondence columns of The Western Home Monthly and also the nice letters. I am 22 years of age, and like music and all other sports; do not smoke, chew, drink or play pool. I would very much like to correspond with A California Pullet and A Rosebud if they would write first. Hoping to see this in print and wishing the editor success. My address is with the editor. I remain,

A Bronco Buster.

Where Bachelors are Plentiful.

Beaverlodge, Grande Prairie, Feb. 18, 1912.

Sir,—Here comes a breeze from the North Pole. Being a subscriber to your valuable paper and in the far north, I would like to join your correspondence columns. I am very interested in your paper and look for it regular each month. I am a homesteader and like this country fine, having been out here for two years or more. I am a Canadian, born in Ontario, and would like to correspond with either sex between 18 and 25 years of age, I do not drink or chew, but I smoke a little. You talk about your bachelors, they are as thick as bees out here. I will answer all letters. I will sign myself Slim Jim.

A Splendid Idea.

Owen Sound, Ont., Feb. 20, 1912.

Dear Editor,—I have just been reading some of the letters in the correspondence columns and have been quite taken with the extremely western tone of the letters. I do not belong to the "secret society," but would be much pleased to hear from some of the correspondents. We had a friend send us your valuable paper as a Christmas box and I think it the nicest Christmas present we ever got. I will never be without it again. I am a farmer's daughter and a great lover of horses. Can drive any kind of a horse. Would like to hear from Smoker, Sask., and Kid, Sask. I believe Kid said he was a "candy kid." Well, so am I. You wouldn't believe how fast candy disappears when I am around the house. I am taking up an awful lot of your time, so will close with best wishes for yourself and every success to The Western Home Monthly. I will sign myself

Kanada Kid.

Back to the Country.

Alberta, March 1, 1912.

Dear Sir,—As an interested reader of your paper, I ask your kind permission to venture a few remarks on a topic now under discussion in the correspondence columns, viz., "Town life versus country life from a pleasure standpoint." In a recent letter by Single but Not Contented, the writer says that there is nothing to discuss. Apparently the gentleman is not in the habit of thinking. The balance of his letter only serves to strengthen this impression. Any man who calls himself a farmer and sells eggs at 15 cents per dozen when they retail at 40 cents, is certainly not in a position to ridicule anyone like Young Farmer, who apparently has been successful. Perhaps he would do well if he took his own advice and put his hired man in charge of the business part of his farm. Looking at the matter from the city man's point of view, I absolutely fail to see why

The Doctor should have any reason to smile at the farmer when he pays 40 cents for the eggs that the farmer disposed of for 15 cents in trade. The grocer is the only one who has occasion to smile and he usually does—at both. While it is true that there are more sources of amusement open to the people of the city, it is also true that the majority are the bought and paid for kind, and exist only for the financial benefit of someone who has been wise enough to foresee the needs of the people. Now, someone will say, "We have public parks, we have public buildings." Of course you have. Nice, beautiful parks with green lawns and gravelled walks, nicely painted signs, "Keep off the grass," at every corner, and a blue-coated policeman to see that you keep your hands off the flowers. In the public buildings you are welcome, only so long as you comply with the rules and regulations. Oh, for the freedom of the city and the pleasures! Where the children play in their little 2 by 4 back yard, the mother goes visiting, secure in the knowledge that they will not wander away and get lost. Living in confinement, growing up in the narrow groove of social custom, crammed with knowledge; in time they are sent out into the world with one idea of success, the accumulation of money. Possession of it constitutes their pleasure; spending it constitutes their recreation. The dollar becomes the keynote of happiness. At last, worn out through mental exertion, they seek the rest and quiet to be found only in the country. "Back to Nature" becomes the cry, and back they come, hundreds of them. Away from the jangling, discordant noises of the city, back to the restful country, where prevail health, happiness and harmony. Wishing The Western Home Monthly continued success, and with due respect to Single but Contented, I will sign as

Young One.

A Lonely One.

Saskatchewan, March 19, 1912.

Dear Editor,—I am a subscriber to your valuable magazine and take some interest in reading the letters in the correspondence pages. I am a lonely bachelor, 5 ft. 9 in., and am 21 years of age. I would like if some of the girls would write to me. I would be sure to answer all the letters. Am fond of dancing and all sports, and am musical. As this year is leap year, the girls should write to the boys first and get acquainted. I saw that letter written by Josephus, and I think he doesn't know what dancing is. I quite agree with Phil in the March issue that we fellows that dance don't try and hug the ladies in dancing, for they would not permit it. Well, I will close. Wishing your magazine good luck and hoping that the girls between 18 and 22 will write me, I remain,

Buck.

Another Applicant.

Portage la Prairie, Man., April, 1912.

Dear Editor,—I have been a silent reader of The Western Home Monthly for a number of years, and I must say a word of praise on its behalf. I have taken a great number of farm papers, but none gives me as much pleasure as The Western Home Monthly. I am not a subscriber, for the one reason that I have been lucky enough to be working where it comes to the household. However, I will be a subscriber some day, I hope, and will never regret it. I like to read the correspondence column, which I think is one of the great features of your monthly; it is with regret when I find I have read it all. I don't skip any pages, but all the same, I am always looking out for the next number. Well, I would like to see this letter in the happy circle columns, as I hope to get some correspondents from some of your readers, especially the fair sex. I agree with your correspondent who signs himself in the February number as Single and Not Contented. He is the first man to come to the fore and air his views on the hired man. I am one myself, so I know what he is talking about when he hits your correspondent, Young Farmer. It certainly is the hired man who does the business part of the farm work. Well, I don't want

BRONCHITIS

Was So Choked Up She Could Hardly Breathe.

Bronchitis is an acute inflammation of the mucus membrane lining the air tubes of the lungs, and should never be neglected, for if it is very often the disease becomes chronic, and then it is only a short step to consumption.

On the first sign of bronchitis Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup should be taken, and thus prevent it becoming chronic.

Mr. John D. MacDonald, College Grant, N.S., writes:—"My little girl, seven years old, caught a bad cold which developed into bronchitis. She was so choked up she could hardly breathe. Reading about your wonderful medicine, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, I decided to try a bottle, and with such good results that I got another which completely cured her. I cannot say too much in its praise, and would not be without it in the house."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price, 25 cents.

Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

$3.50 Recipe FREE For Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today—
You Can Have it Free and Be Strong and vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the illness of youth that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—with out any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow men to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere whose weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest acting restorative, up-building, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4215 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 36, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged persons troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

THERE IS NO REASON WHY WOMEN SHOULD DREAD CHILD-BIRTH NOW.

Mothers' Cordial or Herbal Tonic makes childbirth easy and insures safe and rapid recovery. The Cordial is a compound of certain Indian herbs, blended in their proper proportions, and contains no drugs or harmful stimulants.

Mothers' Cordial or Herbal Tonic besides being a blessing to expectant mothers is also a potent remedy for all women in a rundown condition. In addition to its tonic properties it is an excellent blood purifier, and serves to clear the complexion as well as improve general health and good spirits.

Davidson, Feb. 21st, 1912.

Dear Mrs. Currah.

I am writing you for another box of Orange Lily and a box of the Herbal Tonic, inclosing an order for Two Dollars for same. Please forward same to me.

I find an occasional use of the Orange Lily helps me and the Tonic is a good spring builder.

Yours sincerely,

MRS. J. W. A.

A package of Mothers' Cordial or Herbal Tonic lasts a month. At your Druggist's, or by mail, $1.00 a package, postpaid, or 6 packages for $5.00.
