

Ukrainian Printed Characters.	English Equivalents.	Name and Phonetic Pronunciation.
Є, є.	ye.	(yeh) like ye in yet, as Єретик (yeret'ik) a heretic.
Ж, ж.	zh, sh.	(zhch) like the French j in jour ; it will be represented by zh , and pronounced as the s in measure (meazhure); before hard consonants and at the end of words it sounds like sh , as муж (moosh) husband.
З, з.	z, s.	(zeh) pronounced like z , as завтра (zahriv'tra) to-morrow; at the end of words and before hard consonants it sounds as s , as сліз (sliz) slime before the soft vowels and the soft sign it is pronounced and denoted by z .
И, и.	i. y.	(i) like i in pin, as кит (kit) the whale,
И, й.	i.	(ee short) occurs as second half of diphthongs. It should be pronounced rapidly with the vowel that precedes it, and resembles the letter y in boy, may, say etc. To represent the sound of this letter i will be used, as дай (dai) give.
І, і.	ee.	(ee) like ee in meet, as кіт (keet) Cat.
Ї, ї.	yee.	(yee) like ye in ye, as їда (yeedah') food.
К, к.	k.	(kah) like k in the word key , as кат (kahit) hangman.
Л, л.	l.	(el) very hard, as l in halt Soft denoted, as l in leer if followed by a soft vowel or soft sign.
М, м.	m.	(em) as the English m .
Н, н.	n.	(en) like the English n , but pronounced with tip of tongue against teeth. Before the soft vowels and soft sign it is pronounced soft and denoted by n .
О, о.	o.	(oh) like o in or.