some glew, rats-bane, two fowling peeces of sixe foot in barrell, and one of seuen foot, with a mould to cast shot of seuerall sizes for fowling.

The last yeere I shewed your Honour of much courtesie receiued from sundry Masters: many this yeere haue done the like, though some likes not our flourishing beginning and prosperity. How-soever, I haue proceeded with a great deale of care and respect vnto your Honours commandements, to vse them with all humanity. I hope you will be pleased to send vs the Plough next yeere, and Gunnes; for the time requires it. And so I conclude, resting

Your Honours most humble, hankefull and faish-full seruant.
