The entire assortment is of such a character that merchants can cater to all classes of trade.

NEW METHOD

Young Men's CLOTHING

The most desirable trade for the up-to-date, progressive merchant is that of young men. To cater to this trade successfully, the stock must be equal to the demands of the younger element, who, now-a-days, are fastidious and will only accept the most artistic creations that Master Tailors can build.

The NEW METHOD make is particularly attractive to young men. The styles are exceptionally unique and high class, with all the latest artistic merchant tailor conceits embodied in each garment, irrespective of price. It abounds in novelties and includes every late idea, no matter how extreme the style.

The NEW METHOD Yoke Coat is without a doubt the handsomest overcoat creation of the year. Large broad shoulders, with a full skirt, making it a stunning over garment particularly attractive to young men.

Our new West Point, an individual idea, is a high class conception worthy of note. That broad shoulder, toppy effect, fitting closely to the figure, which gives it that military effect so attractive now-a-days and demanded by every up-to-date dresser.

HUSBANDS AS MODELS

Rev. Dr. Hannon Preaches an Earnest Sermon to the men of his congregation.

Their Position in the Home Circle, its Responsibilities and Duties—Valuable Counsel to Young Men.

"The model husband" was the subject of Rev. Dr. Hannon's discourse at the evening service of Park Street Methodist church yesterday. The text was "Husbands love your wives and be not bitter against them," being the nineteenth verse of the third chapter of the epistle of Paul to the Colossians.

All model husbands, said the speaker, love their wives as their own bodies and leave fathers and mothers to go to their wives. The first essential of a model husband is to love his wife and love her over any of his relations.

In 1868 our late Queen offered that great man Desraids a Baronetcy for his services. Desraids declined the offer, but asked as a favor that it be conferred upon his wife, which the Queen very graciously did. There was a sample of a husband's true love for his wife.

Continuing the reverend gentleman said, "A man should marry for love alone, not money, property or for low animalism. A husband is the head of the wife, the same as God is the head of the church, according to reason and within limits. 'A model husband is always religious,' he continued, 'because if he is intemperate he cannot be a true and steadfast husband, because if he be selfish, which means of a low and ill-bred grudging and cranky nature, peace cannot reign in a house where such a disposition abides.'"

During his discourse he appealed to the married men and the young men who expected to be married to keep from the curse of intemperance. Another sin is that of idleness or laziness, which is worse in a man than infidelity, because if he is idle he does not support his family as he should and idlers as a rule get into mischief.

"In olden times in England," said he, "persistent idlers were put to death. A man who sleeps on Sunday mornings and does not go to church when able cannot be a model husband."

In closing Dr. Hannon spoke on the sin of dishonesty. If you take up the statistics of the Dominion you will find that from 34,000 to 35,000 are convicted annually, mostly, you will find, for dishonesty, whether stealing, highway robbery or house breaking.

The reverend gentleman closed with counseling the men to be model husbands.

FIERCE FIRE

Wallaceburg Merchants Scorch-ed by a Bad Baze Th s Morning.

Several Business Houses with Contents Damaged—Loss will be Heavy. Special to The Planet.

Wallaceburg, Nov. 18.—Fire broke out this morning at 4:30 in the rear of Jeff's drug store, Robinson Block.

The fire brigade managed to keep the fire from spreading.

The stock of F. W. Jeffs, druggist, was totally destroyed. Marse & Jack's dry goods stock was badly damaged by water and the millinery all destroyed.

Knox, the tailor, managed to get some stock out, but is a heavy loser, as there is no insurance.

The Oddfellows will be heavy losers through the damage to the building.

COAL GAS

Strong Escape of It Nearly Caused the Collapse of a Chatham Township Family.

Frank Lankin and family, who live in Chatham Township just above the waterworks station, outside the corporation, narrowly escaped asphyxiation by coal gas Saturday night. They knew the coal stove leaked and had been in the habit of opening the window before retiring, but on Saturday night it was in some way neglected.

The family noticed nothing wrong until morning when they went to get up. The little girl, daughter of Mr. Lankin, was completely overcome and fell over. The rest of the family were not so badly affected and when they came in contact with the fresh air they somewhat recovered. The little girl was brought around all right but it is thought that if they had remained in bed another hour the entire household would not have got up at all.

Mr. Lankin spent all day yesterday airing the house and fixing the stove.

BOER PIRATES ON HIGH SEAS

Board a British Smack in the North Sea and Attack the Crew.

Boers Breg of Shooting Natives in Cold Blood—Prisoner With Train-Wrecking Machinery.

London, Nov. 18.—The South African casualty list shows that in the affair at Brakspruit, Nov. 13, which Lord Kitchener reported last Friday, 58 Yeomanry were captured by the Boers and afterward released.

PRO-BOERISM ON THE HIGH SEAS.

An extraordinary demonstration of pro-Boerism is reported by a Brussels newspaper. It seems that a Dutch fishing boat belonging to Ynuidon, while off Wieringen Lightship, in the North Sea, pretended to be in distress, and approached a British smack. Thirteen fishermen from the Dutch boat boarded the British craft and attacked the crew of the latter, shouting "Long live the Boers!" Several of the Britishers were wounded. It is alleged that before making the attack the Dutchmen locked their captain in his cabin. The British smack succeeded in escaping, and arrived at Ostend, where the captain lodged a complaint with the British consul.

A CANADIAN WOUNDED.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—A cable received last evening says that Trooper John Henna, of Montreal, who was with Kitchener's fighting scouts, was severely wounded at Freefontein.

BOAST OF THEIR MURDERS.

Middleburg, Nov. 16.—A Boer patrol, under Commandant Theron, son of the President of the Afrikaner Bond, captured two natives near Burghersdorp, took them a few miles away, then shot them. The Boers subsequently bragged about the deed to local farmers.

PROVISIONS SCARCE.

Dissatisfaction is said to be prevalent among the Boers in the Orange River Colony, owing to scarcity of provisions.

PROGRESS AT JOHANNESBURG.

Pretoria, Nov. 16.—Marked progress is being made at Johannesburg. The streets are resuming their normal appearance, and the demands for houses are already exceeding the supply. There is a considerable demand for town property. Two stands at the corner of Pritchard street, together measuring 50 by 100 feet, have been sold for £35,000. Satisfactory arrangements have been completed with the Portuguese authorities permitting natives to proceed to work in the mines. It is understood that there are many natives eager to come here. Thus an important factor in the delay in resuming operation on the Rand will be removed, and increased progress is expected.

AN INFERNAL MACHINIST.

Cape Town, Nov. 16.—An interesting discovery was made at one of the camps of prisoners of war in the Cape Peninsula a few days ago. One of the prisoners was missing when the roll was called. He was of continental extraction. A search was made for him all over the camp, but without result, until someone began to tear up the floor of the hut, when, sure enough, there was the missing man concealed under the boards. Further researches resulted in the discovery on his person of complete designs for the wrecking of trains, and the ingenuity of the invention lies in the fact that it makes use of a pilot engine as part of the machinery necessary to accomplish the purpose. That is to say, the invention is of such a nature that a pilot engine passing over the mine merely sets the machinery necessary for its explosion. Whether the inventive individual will be permitted to patent his device has not been made known.

DAINTY TRILBYS

Fair Maiden who Owned Them has Secured her Slippers—Police Preserve Secrecy.

A great responsibility has been lifted from the shoulders of the police, as the No. 7—beg pardon, No. 2—slippers have been claimed. Officer Tom Groves wished to keep the piece of chamois, but the fair claimant assured him that the slippers and perfumed rag were essential to a young lady that attended five o'clock teas and muffin worries. Thus ended another romance, and the young lady remains invisible.

When asked this morning what had become of the slippers, Chief Young, who had evidently been impressed by the divinity, said, "A princess got them."

Judge Houston vouchsafed the information that the owner of the dainty footwear was a girl, young and pretty with pretty feet.

Her identity is a great mystery, but the inquisitive ones have learned that the maiden fair lives on Victoria

Ave. Saturday evening a young man approached P. C. Dezelia and wanted the slippers. The messenger said that the young lady was of the high society but didn't want her identity known. The canny police officer refused to give up the slippers till the lady came herself.

It is whispered that Prince Tom in his search for Cinderella found her in a lovely mansion and put on the slippers. The fair was perfect, but all Tom's friends feel that he is real mean not to divulge the name of his Tritby princess.

The incident is history now, but if there is no other result the police have an idea as to what use a young lady has for a small piece of perfumed chamois.
