

X. OCTOBER hath XXXI Days. 1797.

And sep'rate in a shower. Unfolding in the vales ;
 Ah me ! this Leaf, that wither'd Protected by parental arms, lies, And woo'd by vernal gales.
 This leaf deform'd and dead ! Alas ! how chang'd, its colour
 These eyes beheld its beauties flown,
 rise, Its moisture dried by frost,
 Beheld those beauties spread. Its fibres shrunk—its vigour gone
 Admiring saw its ripening charms And all its graces lost.
