THE CHATHAM DAILY PLANET

DISTRICT DOINGS. ERIEAU

July 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Oldershaw and Miss Edna Smith are visiting at "Happy Days".

Miss James, of Chatham, and H. A. Zuehlhoff, of Winnipeg, returned to the city after a short visit at Llan-gollen Lodge.

Miss Agnes McCleod, of Georgetown, is the guest of Miss Greening, at "Oscola".

Mrs. Hooper King, of Chatham, and Mrs. Kingman, of London, are visiting Mrs. Kingsmill.

Mr. Richards, of Cleveland, spent Sunday at this flourishing resort.

Mr. Douglas, of Stouffville, and Douglas, spent Sunday at "Minnehaha" cottage.

Miss Battisby and R. L. Brackin returned to the city after a short visit with Miss Harper.

Mrs. Mr. and Miss B. Wall, of Cleveland, are the guests of W. W. Seane.

Mr. Harper has his yacht in commission for the summer and the Vela-harbor on Sunday for the first time.

Mr. Harper believes in the old adage, "the better the day," etc.

Miss Lou Vester, of Detroit, is a guest at "Winona cottage".

Mrs. Moore, of the Store, is suffering from a severe cold through doing a rushing business.

The very latest thing in hats is a charming creation of paper-Crepe and tissue—which is seen in every shade and color this summer on the bar.

Nothing prettier can be had than these dainty articles of headgear, and for the summer girl they are chic.

The "Winkie" was launched Friday under the supervision of Capt. Bert Jones, and made her trial trip in fine style that evening.

Mrs. James Dunkley, of Chatham, is the guest of Mrs. E. B. Jones, at "Llangollen Lodge".

Miss Flo. Surley was the guest of Mrs. J. W. Mann yesterday at "Solid Comfort".

Miss Jessie Harper succeeded in landing a ten pound pike this week.

This is a record breaker, although the pike appreciated the honor of being handled by so fair an angler.

The water is higher now than has been for a long time. The Colery farm and Peat Fuel Co. are kept pumping night and day.

The Bonnie Belle and Baden Powell took out several large parties on Sunday to enjoy a sail.

The fish were biting in fine style all day as the many followers of Sir Isaac Walton can testify.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Mann and family, together with their guests, took a trip to the Government Park on Sunday in the Percival.

Capt. Bert Jones added another star to his crown on Sunday afternoon by the rescue of William Vester. Mr. Vester was sailing in his skiff and carried two large stones as ballast.

A stiff breeze was blowing and he lost the sail, causing the stones to fall to one side and swamping the boat. Capt. Jones and Noble Gardner came to the rescue in the Winkie.

Assisted Mr. Vester from his perilous position astride the overturned boat and towed it to the shore. Fortunately, a wetting was the only result of the accident.

BARBER SHOP AT ERIEAU.
George A. Taylor, barber, has opened a first class barber shop and will give his customers the best service.

BLENHEIM

P. D. Mackellar owns 500 acres on the Tilbury plains. Six years ago, cat-balls grew on this land. It was redeemed by the Dauphin drainage scheme and is now all under cultivation.

Mr. Mackellar had 600 acres, but sold 100 acres to J. L. Scott last week at $10 per acre. Mr. Mackellar has a good house on every 100 acres. In 1882 P. D. Mackellar sold nine acres at Jeanette's Creek to Chas. Kontze, Sr. for $125. Saturday Mr. Kontze sold the nine acres to Sylvester Garbett for $1000.

PATRIOTISM

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia.

The confirmed dyspeptic is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils. The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier, and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion are promptly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

"After I received the advice which you gave me in regard to my treatment," writes Geo. Dorner, Esq., of 295 Pulaski Street, Baltimore, Maryland, "I used your Golden Medical Discovery" according to directions. After using four bottles I considered myself cured, as I have not felt any symptoms since. Had tried almost all remedies that I heard of that were good for dyspepsia, but without relief. Finally, I became discouraged, and wrote to you for advice, with the above result.

The dealer who offers a substitute for the "Discovery" is only seeking to make the little more profit realized on the sale of less meritorious preparations.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 37 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound book.

Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Taste In Dress.
It is a mark of weakness to be eccentric in dress, and to devote to it so much time and thought that the pursuit dwarfs the mind and takes from the opportunity for culture and for spiritual growth is worse than weak; it is wicked. One may, however, especially in these days of artistic excellence in dress, select the mode, the jewelry, the shapes, fabrics and colors best suited to one's personality and in a manner adapt a style of her own.

The dress for the street and promenade should have an appropriate relation to its uses; the business dress should be trim, dainty and unobtrusive; the home dress and that for occasions of ceremony, ornate, tasteful, elegant and "coolly as the purlieu can buy."

The Sweetest Girl of All.
I've sung of the girls that play at golf, Of the girls who fish and shoot, I've sung of the maid who's not afraid To pose in her bathing suit; I've sung of the girl who weds a duke And lives in a palace hall, And the footlight maids, with their lights and shades, I've sung of them one and all.

Put now I will sing in a soft refrain Of the girl who would like to know— The girl who can cook without paper or book, The girl who can darn and sew; Of the girl who never went far from home, Who is void of all social schemes, Who is homely and neat, old fashioned and sweet, The girl whom you see in your dreams, —Woman's Home Companion.

The Starch Atrocity.
Do think of poor baby's feelings just one little bit before putting her into a starched bonnet, with starched, rasping strings, a starched petticoat that scratches arms and neck, drawers with starched frills that torture her poor little legs, a starched white frock and starched polkae that attack and reddens all the unprotected bits of baby at once!

Order of Washing Dishes.
The order of washing dishes is of some importance. Glass should be taken first, then silver, then china. After the dishes are done carefully scald, rinse and dry dishtowels and towels. If they can be dried in the open air, so much the better.

Arranging Flowers.
In arranging flowers never mix large, heavy blossoms with frail, fine foliage or, vice versa, small blossoms with large foliage. The best results are obtained by trying to follow nature as far as possible.

Many a man loses what little energy he has while waiting for a rich relative to die.

LIBRARY HOSPITALS

A QUIET CORNER WHERE MAILED AND AGED BOOKS ARE DOCTORED.

Delicate Operations Are Often Necessary For Injured Volumes and Much Ingenuity Is Required at Times—How Book Surgeons Work.

In every up to date public library there is a quiet corner used as a book hospital, where worn, aged and maimed volumes are sent for treatment and often surgical operations. The women and children of the library—that is, the novels and juveniles—are found in the hospital the most frequently, and often they are beyond cure. But the skillful library worker has all sorts of devices for making broken down books appear fresh and new again, and often a remarkable cure is effected.

If a book were cast aside the minute its back was broken or were not given proper treatment when a leaf became loose, the library would soon find itself doubling expenses for duplicates of old volumes and with little money for new works. Careful treatment, on the other hand, will add years to the life of a book and will materially lessen the expenses of a public library.

This hospital is fitted up in a very simple manner. There are shelves upon which the invalid books are placed until treatment can be given them. Then there are other shelves where they are placed to convalesce and sometimes to regain consciousness after a serious surgical operation. There are operating tables and neat little boxes in which there are rolls of black paper and yards of white paper, sheets of paraffin paper, long strips of thin but fine quality paper, narrow rolls of gummed paper, bundles of grass cloth, balls of string, sandpaper, coarse thread and white muslin.

In snug little compartments is the medicine, consisting of glue and paste. The surgical instruments in a little case consist of a pair of forceps, a small wooden paddle, a thin wooden board and papers of needles. Then there is an instrument of torture—a heavy press which is generally applied at the close of an operation.

There are all sorts of complaints among the books, and the most prevalent is the broken back. This comes from the book assuming an unhealthy position, such as leaning up lazily against other books, resting on its front edges or lying flat on its side. A vigorous use of paste and glue often cures this complaint, but in some cases a delicate operation is resorted to.

Then the cover is stripped entirely off the back, and the title is carefully cut out. Next the paper back of the book is peeled off. A piece of grass cloth is then applied and firmly glued into its place. The old cover, with the exception of the title, is pasted on the inside, and then the book is tied up with strings and left on the shelf to recover a little. When strong enough, a black percale back is carefully fitted over the old back, and the old title is pasted on the outside.

Small fingers injure the complexion of the books greatly, and sandpaper is used a great deal on juvenile fiction invalids. The edges of the book are rubbed with this rough paper, taking off the dirt and the yellow appearance. Rough edges of leaves are frequent also in this branch of literature. These leaves are carefully trimmed off, and a thin strip of nice quality paper is pasted on to make a clean, regular edge.

"Butting" is a method of operating that is not used by all book surgeons. This consists in placing with the wooden paddle a thin line of glue on the edges of a torn leaf and then pressing down tightly together. It has been demonstrated thoroughly that this butting holds the torn leaf just as firmly as and is much more satisfactory than the old method of pasting gummed transparent paper over the torn places.

The loose leaves are a frequent source of annoyance to a frequent reader. The remedy for these bothersome leaves is a hinge of percale or paper, which holds the unruly page in place after the heavy press has been brought to bear on the book. In such cases the thin board is always used to slip into the volume, so that it will keep its shape properly.

The operation which requires the most skill is the sewing of the signature or division of a book back into place. The needle and coarse thread are pushed in and out of the holes in the signature and the binding, and when it becomes awkward to use the fingers the slender forceps are used to draw the needle in and out.

It is part of the work of every public library employee to take a hand in the hospital department, and ingenuity supplies means to remedy every complaint that is conjured up by even the most erratic book. The book doctor trusts wholly to her own wit and skillful fingers to effect a cure, and there are few cases that are hopeless.—New York Mail and Express.

Cut Off.
"Poor child!" exclaimed Mrs. Goodart, who had been tending by the appeal to the extent of a quarter. "And how did this accident happen to your father?"

"Why," replied the bright little girl, "he begged so much money one day that he got drunk and was sent to jail."

"But you told me his arms were cut off."

"Oh no ma'am! I said 'arms'."
