

IN THE WORLD OF AMUSEMENT

Carroll Johnson's great act at Bennett's this week has given such satisfaction and has given rise to many eulogistic opinions that Manager Driscoll has determined to get up a competition amongst its friends. He will give $25 to the one that writes the best description of the act. Writers have until next Saturday to prepare their articles and the winner will be announced next week.

The following press criticisms about the leading acts at Bennett's will be found interesting: "May Duryea and William Mortimer are showing in a great little farce comedy called 'The Imposter.' It is a gem, and teems with humor from beginning to end. With all its fun it points a lesson, and shows that the practical joker himself looks the biggest fool when the tables are turned on him."—New York Sun. "The Banks. Brazzale team are two elegantly attired young ladies, who give selections of first-class merit on various instruments. Both are competent musicians, and the act is watched and listened to with the greatest of attention."—Detroit News.

"Carroll Johnson, with his company of pickaninies, in which good music and dancing abound, has achieved yet another triumph to tack on to his already long list."—New York Herald. "Florence Saunders has a delicious voice, loud, but well under control. She sings a selection of most charming songs."—Buffalo Express.

"The Bellong Brothers, trick cyclists and gymnasts, go the limit, and the audience is kept in suspense with their dexterity all through the act."—Montreal Star. The rest of the programme includes Gun Bruno, king of story tellers, and Annie and Effie Conley, refined singers and the Bennett orchestra.

At the Savoy.
Patrons who have seen the Savoy's show this week have gone away well pleased and fully convinced that a new era in vaudeville has felicitously begun. From the orchestra's opening number to the cinematograph and its moving pictures closing the bill, there is not a dull moment. Nothing more original has been seen in Hamilton since the advent of high class vaudeville than Harry Tate and his original London company in "Fishing," a clever travesty. The elaborate stage settings are a feature that add greatly to the enjoyment of the show. Billy Van, the original midget, was not overrated in the advance notices. He is one of the funniest and brightest monologue artists in the business and his original style if nothing else would make his act unique. Chic and charming Josephine Sabel, with her new songs and dances, her gorgeous costumes and fine soprano voice, has established herself a favorite. Miss Sabel has a style entirely different from any comedienne seen here yet, and to those who have seen her act it will be quite apparent why she was featured for three years at Europe's best theatres. The Grandchildrens, a unique act that will make a hit on any bill. They do indescribable funny stunts, but the feature is the wonderful work of two Spanish dogs that imitate the tumbling work of the team. "Bargain Mad," a bright little sketch, original and teeming over with fun. The De Fayo sisters have an exceedingly pretty musical novelty, with pretty stage settings. Their work on the mandolin and banjo are splendid. The Hurleys, a great hand-balancing team and Murphy and Donn, Irish comedians, above the average, complete a bill that leaves nothing further to be desired.

Thomas' Color Scheme.
New York Telegraph: All is not gold that glitters, and all is not Mexican in its native state that looks swarthy and utters gibberish in "The Ringer."

In the advance notices of Augustus Thomas' latest play much stress was laid on the statement that a number of native Mexican actors had been brought across the Rio Grande to perfect the author's color scheme. In every instance the press agent may have kept within the facts. In the case of one actor, at least, he was in error.

Of all the "greasers" in the cast none more closely resembles the genuine article than the undersized, black-haired Antonio Navarro, whose role, according to the programme, is that of Police. Last night one of Dustin Farnum's friends chanced to mention Navarro as a rare instance of the trouble the management had taken to provide the Mexican atmosphere.

"Just for that," replied Farnum, "I'll bet into a little secret. In the daytime Navarro is employed as a cigar-maker in a shop on Third avenue."

At the Grand.

The rural comedy, "Sis in New York," will be given at the Grand this evening. The play, by George F. Busby, is a comedy of manners in New York this season, and everyone who goes will have an evening full of laughter. Special scenery and effects are carried.

Julius Murray has made hosts of friends all along the trail of his new musical college play for girls, "Cupid at Vassar." The play, the first of its kind, the first college play for girls—tells the story of a Vermont girl, Kate Newton, who decides to have a Vassar education whether or no. This new musical comedy drama will be seen at the Grand on Monday night, and seats will be on sale Friday morning.

One of the best of the Liebler & Co. attractions, Miss Isbel Irving in the Clyde Fitch play, "The Girl Who Has Everything," will be the attraction at the Grand on Wednesday next. A Liebler attraction, a Fitch play and a favorite star is a strong compound with which to pry open the early theatrical season. The play is best described as a comedy drama.

An elaborate Shubert production, "The Top of the World," an American extravaganza, with a cast including many of Broadway's favorite players, will hold forth at the Grand Opera House one night, Tuesday, Sept. 17. It is booked for a run in New York after this engagement. Mark E. Swan, Manuel Klein and Anna Caldwell have supplied the book and music, while James O'Dea is responsible for the lyrics. The piece will be offered in two acts and seven scenes laid in the Klondike, with a cast of seventy people. The prima donna role will be by Anna Laughlin. Seats will be on sale on Saturday.

Grace Cameron on Saturday.
On Saturday afternoon and evening the dainty singing prima donna and Broadway favorite, Grace Cameron, with her opera company of sixty people, will come to the Grand. Friends and admirers of Miss Cameron will be pleased to learn that in her present role she has the best part of her entire career, and that is saying much, for Miss Cameron's previous successes include many of the most important operatic organizations that this country has ever known. In the first act, Miss Cameron is the little twelve-year-old waif, full of mischief, yet sympathetic and irresistible, and in this act she is afforded an excellent opportunity to introduce her celebrated "baby" specialty which has rendered her to patrons of the vaudeville both in Europe and America. In the second act she appears as a charming and chic French maid. In this character Miss Cameron made a tremendous hit in "The Telephone Girl." Seats will be on sale on Thursday morning.

"Sis in New York."
Two hours and a half of solid fun are promised those who attend the Grand Opera House to-night, when "Sis in New York," the celebrated rural comedy, will be presented. The company is said to include several capable comedians, and there is good music and amusing specialties.

may be kept up regularly during the fall and winter months.

Dr. Unsworth returned on Sept. 3rd, after spending a very pleasant two weeks' vacation in Muskoka, and he will be at the City Hospital, as usual, on Thursday at 11 a. m. to examine patients for the Sanitarium.

A trio of embelowers made a raid on the Chippewa branch of the Royal Bank about 2.30 yesterday morning. They got about $20.

PATCHES
Why Brown Ones Come on Faces.

When a woman can get rid of brown patches on her face by changing her diet it is worth a while for other women who care for their complexions to know something of the method.

A lady in Michigan City says that coffee caused the brown patches on her face by first giving her stomach trouble, then putting her face in a bad way and the result was shown in her complexion.

She quit coffee and began using Postum Food Coffee and in less than a month the stomach trouble disappeared and within two months her complexion cleared up and is now fine and rosy. She speaks of two men at Westfield, Ind., who have both been improved in health by leaving off coffee and taking in its place Postum Food Coffee, also a husband and wife of the same place, who were in poor health and suffered from stomach trouble. They quit coffee and after using Postum a short time the result was natural sleep, return of appetite, and a gain in strength as fast as nature could rebuild.

She gives the name of a number of other persons who have been helped by leaving off coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee.

It is a safe proposition that if any coffee user has stomach or nervous trouble, or bad complexion, he or she can get rid of the trouble by discontinuing coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee. It is easy enough to prove the truth of this by making trial. Read "The Road to Wellville" in pgs. "There's a Reason."

MORRISON-LECKENBY CHURCH WEDDING.

Dr. Thomas Morrison and Daughter of Mr. F. J. Leckeny Marries in All Saints—To Europe for Eight Months' Trip.

All Saints Church was the scene of a pretty wedding this afternoon, when, at 4.30, Rev. Archdeacon Forrester performed the ceremony that united Elizabeth Irene Leckeny, second daughter of Mr. F. J. Leckeny, 94 Bay street south, and Dr. Thomas Morrison, of this city. The church was tastefully decorated throughout with white asters and palms, and about one hundred and twenty-five guests were present from Buffalo, Toronto, Youngstown, Ohio; Windsor, Cayuga, Callendar and the city.

Mrs. J. S. Williams, of Youngstown, Ohio, was matron of honor, and was gowned in yellow crepe de chine with brown trimmings, and wore a brown moire hat with brown plumes. She carried yellow daisies.

The bridesmaid, Miss Helen B. Fawell, Cayuga, and flower girl, Miss Jean Leckeny, sister of the bride, both wore gowns of yellow silk muslin, brown moire hats and plumes. Mr. James Kilgour, of this city, was groomsmen, and the ushers were Dr. Brant Fleming, Toronto, and Dr. E. Smartt, Callendar.

Mr. E. Pearce presided at the organ, and Mr. Leckeny gave his daughter away.

The bride's costume was a lace gown over tulle, with a veil of chiffon and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony the happy couple and the guests retired to the home of the bride's parents, where the wedding breakfast was served.

The groom's present to the bride was a set of pink fur, and to the bridesmaid, matron of honor and the flower girl, gold chased bracelets; to the groomsmen a gold fob, and to the ushers pearl pins.

Mrs. Morrison, mother of the groom, wore a gown of black silk with lace trimmings and hat to match.

Miss L. Morrison, a sister, wore a cream costume and hat to match. Mrs. Leckeny, mother of the bride, was gowned in gray broadcloth, with hat to match, and carried pink carnations.

Miss Leckeny, sister of the bride, wore pink silk crepe de chine with pink picture hat to match, and carried pink roses.

Mrs. Hickey, also a sister, wore cream crepe de chine and a black picture hat, and carried American beauty roses.

Miss McLerie, Buffalo, who is staying at the bride's home, was in Dresden silk muslin with a hat to match, and carried pink roses.

The happy couple will leave for an eight months' tour of Europe, and on their return will take up their residence in this city. The bride's travelling costume consists of a brown suit and a pale blue hat.

Many and beautiful were the presents received from a host of friends as a token of their appreciation of the popular young couple.

Before beginning his university course and taking up medicine the groom was a very popular civic employee, in the tax department, and was also captain and afterwards manager of the junior Tiger football team.

BRANSCOMBE-PATTERSON.
The marriage of Dr. Morley Elwood Branscombe, of Picton, and Miss Annie, only daughter of Hon. William Patterson, Minister of Customs of Canada, in Zion Presbyterian Church, Brantford, as reported in the Times yesterday, was a very brilliant event. Gathered in the body of the church were the representatives of church and state—a distinguished assembly in every respect—together with a host of friends of the contracting pair.

In the front seats the near relatives were allotted in order that they might the more advantageously witness the ceremony, and directly facing the altar were the members of the bridal party, all combining in producing one of the prettiest scenes ever witnessed in this city.

Attired in a beautiful dress of Irish poplin with flounce, bertha and yoke of real Irish Carrick-ma-cross lace, and carrying a bouquet of Killarney roses, the bride proved the central figure in an assembly at once notable for its dignity and splendor.

The bridesmaids, the Misses Cock-shutt, Marquis, McAllister, (Hamilton), and Shenston, were attired in pink, blue, mauve and green crepe de chine with large white hats with white plumes. Each carried a bouquet of pale pink carnations with pale blue streamers.

TO BUILD BRIDGE.

Dundas Council Will Call for Tenders at Once.

Dundas, Sept. 11.—A special meeting of the Town Council was held last evening, Mayor Moss presiding, and all the members present.

A number of accounts were passed and an old disputed one from the Dundas Electric Co. was referred to the Light Committee to investigate.

The Council then went into committee of the whole to discuss matters connected with the proposed McCurdy street bridge, having the plans and specifications furnished by Engineer Latham before them. After two hours discussion it was decided to ask for tenders for the bridge, according to the plans and specifications, submitted, with some slight modifications.

Andrew G. Guston, formerly of Montreal, and a member of the Dundas I. O. O. F., died in the Hamilton Sanitarium yesterday morning, of tuberculosis. His lodge here has taken charge of the funeral and will have the remains sent to Staynerville, Que., for interment.

Between Abram T. Cook and Benjamin Rubenstein, a deep seated enmity seems to exist and yesterday the former is alleged to have given Rubenstein some severe if not dangerous kicks in the stomach, for which he will have to answer in the police court.

Miss Katie Hyde goes to London on Monday to resume her studies at the Normal School.
