THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THEM

Unlike Mackenzie King, Mr. Meighen is not out to hoodwink and betray the farmers and has made no fawning advance to them. The son of a typical farmer, and familiar through experience with a farmer's lot, he treats them with dignity and respect; but he does not propose to "bait one jot" of his convictions. He is stoutly opposed to group government and "running with the hare and crying with the hounds" with him. His program is, Constitutional Government and reasonable protection for Canadian industries. His attitude compels respect. The people know where he stands.

years ago an ulcer appeared on my ankle," writes Mrs. Jeffrey, of Methuen, Mass. "In spite of all the remedies I used, it spread to my knee, and developed into an open sore. I had medical treatment for twenty-five years, but only got temporary relief. The pain I suffered was terrible, and for years I was unable to leave the house. One day I saw in a newspaper an account of a bad ulcer having been cured by Zam-Buk. Although I was skeptical, now, of anything curing me—having tried so many remedies in vain—I decided to give Zam-Buk a trial. I applied the balm freely every day and to my delight the sore soon showed some improvement. Gradually the inflammation was drawn out, the pain was ended, and, after thirty years of suffering, I realized I was on the road to recovery. With perseverance, the awful sore was finally completely healed, and, although that was three years ago, there has not been the slightest trace of the ulcer returning." Zam-Buk is the best remedy, also, for eczema, boils, pimples, blood-poisoning, piles, burns, scalds and cuts. All dealers, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 50c. box, $ for $1.25.

THEY REFUSE TO GIVE ANY REASONS

It is a very noticeable fact that the political advocates of lower tariff or free trade never attempt to prove their case. They never argue things out with the people; they never size up all the factors or give solid, incontrovertible reasons for the faith that is in them. True it is that Doctor Michael Clark serves us occasionally with arguments that were potent in England fifty or more years ago, and are to be found in the text books on political economy; but he has never attempted to consider these old doctrines in the light of modern Canadian conditions. Free trade with the Doctor is a fetish—shorn of which he would be a lonely and inconsolable figure. In his homilies and diatribes on the subject he entirely overlooks the important facts that when the text books from which he drives most of his wisdom were written, mass, specialized and standardized production of manufactured goods and the gigantic grouping of capital in trusts, cartels and combinations for industrial purposes, which are such important factors in prices and competition, academic lectures to us, he conveniently disregards the main arguments in favour of reasonable protection, namely:—

(1) That to build up a self-sustaining country we must have diversified employment so that scope may be found for the energies of our people in all the varied spheres of human activity;

(2) That our manufacturers cannot compete on an even basis with their neighbours, the manufacturers of the United States, because of the cheap cost of production in that country due to mass and standardized production which is made possible only of the enormous extent of the United States market;

(3) That our manufacturers cannot compete with the cheap labour of Japan and the better developed industries of England with their comparatively cheaper labour, cheaper capital and cheaper cost of doing business.

If the Doctor Mr. Crerar, Mr. King, Mr. Wood or Mr. Drury, or any of the other opponents of the existing fiscal system were able to show that their policies had been adopted after they had enquired carefully into, and after they had made a dispassionate study of, manufacturing conditions in Canada compared with those in the United States, Germany, Japan and Great Britain, their platform utterances would be entitled to very much more weight. As it is they produce no such evidence and as a consequence the people are not placed in a fair position to judge regarding the real merits of the policies they advocate.

The fiscal policy of the country is the hub round which revolve the wheels of all industry, and the people cannot, therefore, allow it to be

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. FINE TRIBUTE TO PREMIER MEIGHEN

Perhaps the most notable tribute among the many eulogies that have been passed upon Mr. Meighen's work at the Imperial Conference, has just been penned by the Manchester Guardian. Discussing a despatch from its Ottawa correspondent dealing with Canadian domestic politics, the Guardian says:—

In the view of the Guardian Premier Meighen has helped nobly to give a lead to Europe and the world in such matters as the crying need for international agreements to stop squandering money in the building of navies, and in the so-called Pacific question, which should not be a question at all if men would get together and talk about it.

Premier Meighen has made to the important but insular counsels of Britain at the crucial moment a detached, dispassionate contribution that the history of the world will note as helpful to peace and understanding. He has gone back to face a domestic situation which takes no account of the way he has spoken for his country in the momentous world question dealt with by the Imperial Conference.

This is a familiar experience to all statesmen, but it is a fate which statesmen a hundred years hence, even across the Atlantic, will not suffer for. There is nothing surer than that the world politics of today will be parish pump politics then, so that Premier Meighen may take even the adverse by-election at Medicine Hat composedly.

The Manchester Guardian is the acknowledged spokesman of British Liberalism, just as the Manitoba Free Press is the dominant voice of Canadian Liberalism in the West. Both handsomely and generously pay tribute to the great work of Mr. Meighen. It is only the little men of Canadian politics, those who cannot find it in their hearts to acknowledge the qualities and gifts of a countryman who happens to differ with them in domestic affairs, who try to belittle his achievements.
