HAS JAPAN AN EYE ON CHINA?

St. Petersburg Paper Believes Japs Are Making Effort To Secure Protectorate.

St. Petersburg, July 24.—The Novo Vremya today published details of an alleged anti-dynastic movement in Southern China, ascribing it to Japanese instigators who, the paper says, are busily preparing for a Manchian dynasty in China, the same fate which has just overtaken the emperor of Korea. Continuing the paper says that in contravention of the supplementary provisions of the Chinese treaty of 1906, which defined the regions where foreigners including Japanese, shall be permitted to reside, Japanese agents have worked their way into the most remote corners of the empire. The keynote of the Japanese intrigue is assuring the Chinese that Japan is their protector against the nations of the west and at the same time ensuring the westerners that Japan is their vanguard against the Chinese peril. The apprehensions of the Novo Vremya regarding the movement of the far eastern question are fully shared in Russian military circles, where the news has been spread upon several newspapers published in Kiev, Kasan and Penza, and the Novo Vremya is the only Russian newspaper which has been fined $500.

Russian Papers Fined. Moscow, July 24.—The Vedomosti and Slovo, two of the most moderate of the Liberal newspapers in the country, again have been heavily fined. The Vedomosti was fined upon several newspapers published in Kiev, Kasan and Penza, and the Slovo was fined $500.

RAVAGES OF THE WOLVES IN THE NORTH COUNTRY

Responsible For Small Fur Catch. Loss Estimated At Thousands Of Dollars. Thrilling Experiences Of Hunters With Rapacious Animals. Several Hundred Horses Victims.

Mr. Albert Tate, of this city, who has spent the last four months at Lesser Slave Lake, has returned with several tales of fur.

Mr. Tate confirms the reports that have come down from the Peace River district with respect to the ravages of the wolves this season. He says the wolves are creating havoc and devastation among the live stock and big game to such an extent that it is imperiling the country in a most serious way. Mr. Tate made a careful note of the fur losses that came under his own personal observation around Lesser Slave Lake.

Devoured After Being Trapped. He kept a note book for a portion of the time. He puts the loss during that time at $4,500. These animals that are the cause of the ravaging caught in the hunters' traps. Besides this he found the remains of three beautiful silver fox skins. The Hudson's Bay factor at Battle river told Mr. Tate he personally knew of $3,000 loss in the same way. A similar loss of $200 was made by a friend of Mr. Tate's from Sturgeon Lake.

These are but examples of the dozens that could be told. If the fur catch will be less than last year it will not be due to scarcity of furbearing fauna, but to the ravaging of the traps by the rapacious timber wolves.

In a trip from Fort St. John to the Battle river, Mr. Tate saw wolves in packs about every ten miles. They are attacking the moose, which have migrated in great numbers from the north, killing a great many calves and even the cows and bulls. The skeletons of the moose, lickered of every vestige of flesh, are found everywhere. The hoofs are worn indicating the long journey the victims have made fleeing from their ferocious and hungry enemies. Those that have been rescued before falling a prey generally show that the hair has been worn off the legs, due to the long tramps through the deep snow caused by the abrasion of the crust. During a 22 days' tramp, Mr. Tate counted the skeleton remains of 12 moose. The Indians state that there are many hundreds of like cases. Oftentimes the Indians have found themselves outwitted and forestalled in the capture of a moose by the wolves. Whenever they were fortunate in capturing a moose they had to take it to camp at once lest they should be cheated of their prize by these bold and vigilant lupine marauders.

Trapped by Wolves. Mr. Tate tells some thrilling stories that came under his notice this spring, which recall the adventures recorded in the old school books. The first is the adventure of David Tustawits, son of Indian Chief Dan, at Peace River Crossing. David followed a moose for several hours and finally discovered that a pack of wolves had been following him. The pack took down the moose and when David came up they had their victim partially devoured. The pack completed with the rest of blood, which David, who climbed a tree. He had only seven cartridges and it looked like a case of being eaten or frozen. He chose the former. From the tree he shot four wolves dead, wounding three others. The remain-

DRAGGED RIVER FOR MISSING MAN

Who Said In A Letter His Body Would Be Found At Foot of Fifth Street.

The young man named Charles A. Wood, whose mysterious disappearance was reported in The Bulletin yesterday has not yet been found. The last trace of him was between twelve and one o'clock on Monday night, when he was seen in the Chinese restaurant on the west side of First street, facing Clara.

On Tuesday afternoon, about two o'clock, a letter was received by Mr. J. L. Studholme, manager of the Great West Saddle Company, with which the missing young man was employed, by a note which said, "Dear Mr. Studholme, — Fortune has gone against me. My plans to fix everything up to date have been knocked on the head by ill luck. I realize what I am doing and think it best. My body will be found at the foot of Fifth street, in the river. I am telling you this so you will not have much trouble in finding it, etc. "CHARLES A. WOOD."

Acting on this letter, Mr. Studholme placed a search party in the hands of the R.N.W.M.P., and they decided to make an immediate search for the body. On Tuesday evening and all day yesterday the river was dragged in the part indicated by the letter, but without result.

Subsequent to the letter, made on Tuesday by Mr. Studholme and Mr. Jackson, a friend of Wood's name seemed to prove beyond a doubt that the young man had not committed suicide. He was known to have some money in his possession, as the last thing he did, of which any knowledge has come to the authorities, was to cash a cheque in the Chinese restaurant for $5.

Further facts have since come to light which seem to prove beyond a doubt that he did not suicide, but is either in hiding or has left for parts unknown.

No motive can be discovered which would have driven him to take his own life. His worst offence, as far as can be found out, is that of issuing and cashing cheques when he had no funds to his credit in the bank, and he has evidently become alarmed and left this part of the province.

The facts as they are known at present have been communicated by wire to his father, in Ontario, and he is expected to return to Edmonton on his instructions. In the meantime, any information as to his immediate location or his movements since Monday night will be appreciated by Mr. Studholme and the Royal Northwest Mounted Police.

JAPAN PRESENTS HER PROPOSALS

To Korean Cabinet. Plan of Government Believed To Be Revolutionary In Character.

Seoul, July 24.—It is understood that the proposals of Japan, with which Viscount Hayashi had charge, were presented by Marquis Ito to the Korean cabinet, which met at ten o'clock this morning under a Japanese guard. The ministers deliberated until one o'clock in the afternoon when Premier Iwan Yung, together with the minister of war, presented the new plan of government of the state to the emperor in the palace, returning to the cabinet meeting within two hours. It is understood that the Japanese proposals, though they cannot molest the security of the throne, are revolutionary, and the fact that the audience of the cabinet members with the emperor was brief is believed to be evidence of this.

No Disturbances. Seoul, May 25.—Last night Seoul was apparently calm, but apprehension of further disturbances has not subsided. It is asserted that court spies are busily engaged in efforts to ascertain the attitude of Japan. A new press regulation prohibiting the publication of diplomatic and military secrets or anything injurious to the public peace is enforced. The Korean premier's audience on Wednesday morning is believed to have been in connection with the demand that Japan presented through Marquis Ito.

Looking for Information. Wholesale arrests of subordinates leaving the palace began at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the object being to intercept communications from the former emperor, which might throw light on alleged plots.

No Action Taken. Tokio, July 24.—Marquis Ito's official newspaper expresses satisfaction with the views of some of the foreign papers regarding the situation in Korea, but says it is surprising the impression which appears to prevail that Japan has taken action in Korea, insisting Japan has not done so.

41,000 HORSE SALE.

Rawleson's Ranch Stock Sale Notted That Amount—Railway Commission.

Bulletin Special. Calgary, July 24.—The railway commission left Lethbridge this morning for Calgary. Sessions will start here to-morrow. The principal feature will be the subsidy question. The auction sale of stock at Rawleson's ranch, 15 miles from the city, was the largest sale ever held in western Canada. The sales amounted to over $47,000, most of the high grade geldings going to Vancouver and Victoria buyers. Registered mares brought from $400 to $800. Bidding was keen all through the sale, as buyers were anxious to secure such grade horses.

Not Entirely Barred. Ottawa, July 24.—In connection with the removal of the stars and stripes from the decorations for the home coming carnival at the city hall building to-day, it is explained that prominence given to the flag, which was placed at the main entrance. It may be stated that the stars and stripes are to be seen along with the Union Jack, and the flags of other countries on many of the leading business establishments and on many private residences.

Rainy Lake Victims Recovered. Fort Francis, Ont., July 24.—Bodies of the two drowned on Sunday last at Rainy Lake were discovered yesterday. The woman had her arms around the man's neck and the name of the woman is Mabel Maud Wheeler, a resident of International Falls. The funeral takes place to-day at International Falls cemetery.

DARROW DENOUNCES ORCHARD AND THE STATE

Brilliant Counsel For Haywood Excoriates Every Man Connected With State In Prosecution Of Officers Of Federation. Sneers At Orchard's Alleged Conversion. Discourses On Capital And Labor.

Boise, Idaho, July 24.—Clarence Darrow began the closing address for the defense to the jury in the Haywood case at the opening of the court today. The court room was crowded to its capacity. In opening, Mr. Darrow impressed the chief juror with the twelve men in the box and declared the defendant was in Idaho as an alien, brought 1,500 miles from home into a community and before a jury which did not view life or industry as the most precious things. In his denunciation of the murder of former Governor Steunenberg had been taught to look at. For two hours and a half he proclaimed the "innocence" of his client and the impossibility of his conviction upon the uncorroborated evidence of Harry Orchard.

Chas. J. Hawley, leading counsel for the state, and Orchard were the figures around whom most of the storm of the morning centered. There was no attempt at refinement of attack. It was straight vituperation and angry denunciation. For two hours and a half Darrow rang the changes on Orchard's present and his future, and poured from his lips the most abuse and contempt that the least possible show of respect for the court would permit.

At the Afternoon Session. The career of Frank Steunenberg, the murdered ex-governor of Idaho, was discussed at length this afternoon by Darrow. Justifying the articles published in the Miners' Magazine, the official organ of the Western Federation of Miners, he attacked the action of Steunenberg in asking for United States troops to quell the riotous situation. He said that the law in 1895 was unjustified and properly stirred intense feeling in labor circles against the governor.

Mr. Darrow's argument, unaltered and unsoftened, turned into an appeal for labor as against capital, and a denunciation of opposition to unions. He held the audience open-mouthed as one after another of the sentiments poured from his lips. His attack on Orchard was anticipated and in this respect he surpassed all expectations. Three hours were devoted to an excoriation of Orchard, and it was only when physical force and words failed that Mr. Darrow turned to James H. Hawley, the leading counsel for the state, and the Pinkerton detectives, for some one on whom to pour a lesser volume of vituperation.

Scored State Too. The state of Idaho came in for a large share of Mr. Darrow's denunciation for the part it has played in the prosecution. Culture, education, the constitution of the Supreme court and wealth, each in turn, was described as constituting a court of combination against the working man. Mr. Darrow sneered at universities.

"And what is a cultured man?" he exclaimed, "but a cruel tyrant all the more so because he is cultured." Rousing the climax of his appeal for the working classes and his condemnation of the rich, he assailed the constitution, crime, "The constitution is here only to destroy the laws made for the benefit of the poor." "Prizes, Unions, Condemned Wealth." Mr. Darrow's defense of labor unions and of union men was passionate in tone, but says it is surprising the impression which appears to prevail that Japan has taken action in Korea, insisting Japan has not done so.

VICTIMS TO THE LURE OF CANADA

A Hungry Village Depopulated Of Male Residents. Mayor Last To Leave.

Budapest, July 24.—The lure of Canada as a land of opportunity and wealth to the people of Hungary has brought about a curious state of affairs in the little village of Kerisova, near Lugos, that at the last census had a population of 3,500 souls. One by one the male residents of Kerisova fell to the call across the water, and they emigrated in batches until such time as the mayor was the only adult male to remain by the village. Finally, he too succumbed to the reports of good wages and golden chances in Canada, sent back by his fellow townsmen, and packing his trunk, he made his way to the emigrant ship at Fiume. As a result of his exodus of him the women of Kerisova have just elected a young woman to the position of mayor and other female residents have been elected to fill the remainder of the offices. The statutes in Hungary provide that no female shall hold public office and according to the letter of the law the presence of women in office is illegal.

Reach New York. New York, July 24.—The first of the Golden tourist automobiles reached the city hall in Jersey City, the end of their 1,500 mile run on today, half an hour ahead of the scheduled time. Other cars followed promptly.

Relegion. Mr. Darrow dismissed Senator Borah, associate counsel for the state, with a few words. "I do not mean to insinuate," he declared, "that Senator Borah is any more honest than Hawley, but I do believe he is sicker."

Mr. Darrow spoke of those sickly, abominable idols who talk about Orchard's religion and regeneration and declared that before Dean Hinks, his religious adviser, had persuaded him to lay his sins on Jesus. Father McPartland, the detective, had persuaded him to lay his sins on Jesus. This religious dodge was on a par with his past life, but you might have had more faith in this man if he had not confessed to McPartland to save his life before he confessed to Dean Hinks to save his soul.

Federation Will Not Die. In a burst of oratory Mr. Darrow said presently: "You men of the prosecution; you men of the Mine Owners' Assn. who are seeking the life of Bill Haywood, not because he is Haywood, but because he represents a class, don't so short-sighted, so foolish as to believe that you will strangle the Western Federation of Miners when you tie a rope around Bill Haywood's neck; don't be so blind as to believe that when you make their fresh new graves here in Idaho that you have killed the labor movement in this world. When Bill Haywood is gone millions of others will carry on his work to victory in the end."

Discussed the Evidence. Quitting his tirade against Orchard and McPartland, Mr. Darrow began to discuss some of the evidence in the case, taking up the trouble of the Occur d'Alenes region in Idaho in 1896. He declared Gov. Steunenberg sowed the seeds of more strife than was ever sown by the governor of any state up to the present time. "There was no justification for it," he exclaimed the lawyer. "There is not a man living who can defend it. Doubtless Gov. Steunenberg felt what he did was the only thing he could do. I am not here to discuss him or his motives, but I know that both inside and outside of labor unions, in all the walks of life, there were those who denounced and always will denounce the acts of Steunenberg so long as we pretend to have a government by law in this United States."

Were State Counsels Asleep? Darrow denounced the states attorneys for allowing Wm. Dewey, who testified that he took part in the mob's attack on the Finkler Hill and Sullivan mills, to return to Colorado unhindered after confessing to murder on the witness stand. "Were you asleep?" he demanded of the attorneys at the council table.
