

Newtown Mourns For King Edward.

It is fitting that as a nation that respects authority and loves goodness we should mourn on so sad and solemn an occasion as the passing of Him who for nine years ruled over the British Empire in equity and with ability, and who, while well maintaining the dignity of His mighty position, at the same time proved to be the People's Monarch, loved as well as mourned—England's Edward the Peacemaker.

The day of National mourning was becomingly observed at Newtown. An impressive solemn Eucharist was celebrated in St. Luke's Church at 11 o'clock, the Rector being the celebrant. A large congregation attended, including the members of St. Luke's Lodge S.U.F., in full regalia, to commend the soul of the departed Sovereign into the hands of the good God, while thousands in every quarter of the Empire were also doing honor to his memory, and while in the World's Metropolis the church was consigning his body to its last resting place and his spirit to the God who gave it. The processional hymn was 299, "When our heads are bowed with woe," and was sung with deep fervor. The crucifer led the procession, followed by the robed choristers, St. Matthews, church lay reader, and lastly the vested celebrant. A short sermon was delivered by the Rector—J. Sam X. 24: "And all the people shouted and said, God save the King." He referred to the departed King's achievements in promoting the peace of the world; he dwelt on the fact that although to human vision God had taken him when the terrible political situation in the homeland needed his guiding hand so much—God's wisdom must not be questioned; and he paid an eloquent tribute to the diplomatic and statesmanlike qualities of the King.

A large number received the Blessed Sacrament—65, if I remember aright. The altar in its sombre draping and lit up with the candles was an imposing scene. Hymn 266, "Lead, kindly light," the King's favorite—was sung as a recessional. Edward VII. has entered into rest, and it is a well-worn rest. Strong in the faith of the Catholic Church he has passed into the Paradise of God, and the church in her services will continually offer prayers to God that he will have his "perfect consummation and bliss" in the realms of eternal glory.

Comet Splits Up.

TUCSON, Ariz., May 25.—That the head or nucleus of Halley's comet has divided in two parts, is the discovery of Dr. A. E. Douglass, of the University of Arizona. According to Dr. Douglass the brighter part is in advance of the other about thirty seconds, which is equivalent to three thousands miles.

Dr. Douglass calls attention to the fact that a parallel case was the comet of 1882, which divided into four parts, separated and entirely disappeared.

Nutritive Hypophosphites.

When a person feels "blue"—"all tired out"—doesn't feel the doing anything"—cannot concentrate his mind on his work—feels weak mentally and physically—doubts his powers—complains of poor appetite and sleeplessness—suffers from headaches—then his nervous system is run-down and demands a good up-building tonic. Nervous exhaustion is a modern disease, caused by too close attention to business, overwork, worry, devotion to trying family cares overstudied, etc.

Nutritive Hypophosphites forms the best nerve and brain food known, and have restored thousands of sufferers to health. Large bottle, $1.00.

Suggests Municipal Reform.

Editor Evening Telegram:
Dear Sir,—Please allow me space in your valuable paper to express some of my views on this subject of Municipal reform.

There are many civic reforms that could be made but reform in taxation is certainly needed. The action of the absentee landlord is a great injustice to all, for those firms, such as Messrs. Knowling, Ayre & Sons, Harvey & Co., Bowring Bros., and all others, contribute largely towards the upkeep of our city, the pedlar, horse and cab, all contribute their part, also the small land owner and householder. But the large land owner, whose agent reside with us, shirk all responsibility; their leases are so framed that all taxes levied must bear on the tenant, but why not tax all receipts on money collected by the agent of the absentee landlord, or have a law enacted so that the tenant could buy out the land at fair valuation, which could be settled by arbitration. There is a great deal of this land or estates whose leases are short, whose terms are shortly to expire, why not the Council appeal to the legislature to have a law enacted so that those clauses which cause all taxes for city improvements to bear upon the tenant to be made illegal in all new leases, as they did in making short leases illegal.

I would like to know for the benefit of the public if this question ever came before the Municipal Council. It is needless to say that I favour improvements, for all must admit they are necessary, such as public lavatories, water and sewer extension, notably on the higher levels, but the great problem seems to be the raising of money, the money borrowed from the Government, $95,000, you will find small when there is $20,000 spent at Windsor Lake in protecting the water supply, and it is only a fair estimate for $20,000 more to extend the water and sewer to the Southside, which is certainly needed. But now we must come back and add to our already heavy burden of public debt, the interest on $95,000 at 4 per cent., which makes additional $3,800 per year, which added to the interest on our public debt, makes $55,202.64, which we have to meet annually. Now to meet this you must raise money, and it is only just, and all right thinking citizens will agree with me that the absentee landlord should contribute a part. Why should the small landowner and householder and citizens in general suffer to enable those land owners, who do not reside in the country, to draw big rents and not contribute one cent for city improvements, while our citizens labour under the heavy burden of taxation? There is no argument that can be brought forward in favour of things as they do exist with us, and the Council should do all in their power to remedy this great evil, if not you must have your staff hard worked and poorly paid as they are at present considering the arduous duty they perform.

I hope some of the gentlemen that are offering themselves as candidates will give their views on this important subject. I remain, yours, with respect,
FREDERICK FITZPATRICK,
St. John's, May 27th, 1910.

One Job Enough.

Editor Evening Telegram:
Dear Sir,—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper to ask a question. What I wish to ask is: If a man holding a Government position is allowed to do any other kind of business, as we have a gentleman over here who is holding a Government job, and runs a store. One job is enough for any man.

Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor,
I remain, yours truly,
H. Grace, May 30, 1910. J. S. K.

Became Seriously Ill.

Yesterday while the funeral of the late Mr. Albert Pretty was being held at Dildo, his wife, who was present at the cemetery, was seized with several fainting spells, and for a while was seriously ill. The grief and trouble incident to the sad death of her husband caused this, and returning by the train last night she was again seized with a weakness and became unconscious. She remained in this state until the train arrived here and was borne to a carriage and driven to the residence of Mrs. Parsons, her sister, where a doctor was summoned, who after a time succeeded in reviving her. Many friends were on the train, including her sister-in-law, Mrs. Pretty, and every attention was given to the stricken lady. Miss Pretty was also very ill and on arrival was driven home. The many who were at the railway station last night deeply sympathized with Mrs. and Miss Pretty.

MIRARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

An Imposing Funeral.

The funeral of the late G. Louis Inkpen took place at 2.30 p.m. yesterday. A large number of citizens attended, including the employees of Nicholls and Inkpen, of which firm deceased was a partner, and also those of Bishop & Sons. Mr. Andrew Carnell acted as undertaker, and the remains were enclosed in a handsome casket on which lay a number of exquisite floral offerings. Besides the choir members of Gower St. Church the Masonic fraternity, of which Mr. Inkpen was a member, were present in regalia. Services at the former residence of the deceased were conducted by Rev. Dr. Cowperthwaite. Interment was at the General Protestant Cemetery, where Rev. W. T. D. Dunn officiated, assisted by Revs. Dr. Curtis and M. Fenwick. The hymn "Abide With Me" was sung as the casket was lowered into the grave.

Boethic for the North.

The s.s. Boethic, now at the dry dock premises, is being put in excellent condition for her trip to the northward. The ship's hull has been splendidly painted and the interior of the vessel has been put in perfect order. The ship has been chartered by Paul Rainey and Harry Whitney and should leave here about the 15th of June for Sydney to bunker, after which she will leave for the north, about the 25th. Her crew will be mostly Newfoundlanders and amongst them will be some of Peary's crew who were to the Arctic in the Roosevelt. Capt. Robert Bartlett will go in charge, and Louis Murphy, an old shipmate, will also be on board. The ship will return about the latter part of October, though she will be provisioned for a year.

Cold Leads to Catarrh, Consumption.

You see it began with colds, it ends in consumption. Colds, they seem such a little thing. You have had them many times. This time the cold does not go, it hangs on. You see each successive cold decreased, a little more the vitality of the parts affected—then Catarrh developed. Catarrh is good soil for consumption. Because you have Catarrh the germs laden dust may complete its work. You are constantly in great danger. Why do you not use Catarrhzone? It kills germs, overcomes inflammation of mucous membrane. Catarrhzone aids expectoration, heals quickly sore spots in the mucous surfaces, chest, nasal passages, and bronchial tubes. Think of it,—you do not take Catarrhzone, you breathe it. Not a nasty medicine to upset stomach and digestion,—simply a germ-killing, healing essence distilled from the flower and leaf. It can be carried by air you breathe to every part of the throat, lungs and nasal passages. Could any treatment be more common sense? Can you conceive any way of reaching the breathing tract more effectively. Catarrhzone outfit, $1.00. Trial size, 25 cents.

Holidays Re-Arranged.

The Importers Association met in the office of Messrs. Bowring Bros. yesterday afternoon and decided that the first General Holiday would be Wednesday, June 15th. Thursday, June 30th, will be a half holiday, as Wednesday, the 29th, (St. Peter and Paul's Day) will be a holiday with Roman Catholic citizens. Tuesday, July 5th, will also be a whole holiday, and will be celebrated as Labor Day. Wednesday, July 13th, has also been set aside as a whole holiday. The half holiday set for July 6th, will not, of course, be observed.

And Still They Come!

When valuables are picked up the finders always scan the ads. in the People's Paper, knowing that its popularity and the facility with which it finds things lost impel the public to use its columns. Young and old peruse its pages, and therefore few ads. which appear fail to realize expectations. Yesterday we advertised the loss of a $2 gold piece attached to a golden bar, and the paper was less than ten minutes issued when an honest little girl returned the trinket to the office, and the owner received it with much pleasure. Telegram ads. always get there!

Attacked the Police.

Yesterday afternoon Officers Pitcher and Lee arrested a drunk who was creating trouble on New Gower St. The man resisted violently, and while the police were engaged, handcuffing him a comrade, who was also under the influence of drink attacked the officers fiercely, and in the melee Pitcher received a kick in the forehead. With the assistance of civilians both were then overcome, manacled, and driven to the station.

Had Eczema In Both Legs

Remarkable cure of Chronic Eczema by use of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

You could scarcely imagine a more severe test of this ointment than the cure of Mrs. Clark recorded here. For twenty years she suffered all the tortures of this terrible disease and tried in vain the prescriptions of doctors and the cures commonly recommended. Mr. Fred W. Clark, Petworth, Ont., writes:—"My mother had Eczema in both legs for about 20 years and suffered from the dreadful itching, stinging sensations which can never be described. She had tried and tried everything for it but got no relief until she used Dr. Chase's Ointment which was recommended to her by a friend. She found that this brought relief and by continuing its use has been cured of Eczema. I do not think any one could have this horrible disease any worse than she did and can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a thorough cure for Eczema."

Dr. Chase's Ointment. Ointment is sold at all dealers or sent direct to Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's medicine sent free.

Tar as a Roofing

Judged by its cost, the tar roof should be the best of all roofs. As laid for the best results, it consists of

- 1—A layer of sheathing paper.
- 2—A layer of felt.
- 3—A layer of pitch.
- 4—A layer of felt.
- 5—A layer of pitch.
- 6—A layer of felt.
- 7—A layer of pitch.
- 8—A layer of felt.
- 9—A layer of pitch.
- 10—A layer of felt.
- 11—A layer of pitch.
- 12—A top layer of slag or gravel.

But experience proves that the value of a tar roof does not measure up to its cost—does not repay the extreme difficulty of laying it. For the main drawback of the tar roof is not the cumbersome method of application. It is the drawback of tar as a roofing.

Tar Faults

Tar is the refuse of gas making after all the valuable products have been extracted. It is not so good today as even it used to be, when steel retorts were used, instead of clay. But any tar is unrefined—impure. Tar melts under the heat of the sun. Tar roofs run and smell in summer. Sometimes the tar drips into the building between the roof boards.

About 50 per cent. of the composition of tar consists of volatile oils. Under the heat of the sun a good portion of these oils evaporate. When those oils are gone the residue becomes porous, brittle and finally crumbles.

"Sore Spots"

Due to the melting sun of summer and the freezing cold of winter, tar roofs develop "sore spots" and become full of gaping cracks.

To repair a "sore spot" on a tar roof is almost equal to laying a new roof. For the layers of felt are so interlapped that much of the roof must be torn off.

And to make even the slightest repair to any tar roof means many hours of high priced labor.

We have made no experiments with tar as a roofing. It has not been necessary. So many large factories formerly roofed with tar have adopted Ruberoid that a comparative study of the roofings is needless.

Judge For Yourself

Contrast the simple, one-piece Ruberoid roofing with the twelve-layer roof of tar. Contrast the first cost. Contrast the after cost. Contrast the lightness of Ruberoid with the weight of the tar roof, which is a burden to even a massively built structure.

And then consider that while Ruberoid has many advantages over tar, there is not claimed for tar a single advantage over the simply laid, inexpensive Ruberoid.
