Those 2 Large and Commodious 4 Storey Dwelling Houses,

No. 124 and 126 Water Street, West, nearly opposite the Railway Station, with land in the rear running back to Bink Road. The Houses, having all modern improvements, are most desirable residences. Being in such close proximity to Railway Station it is an ideal location for the hotel business, and with little alteration the houses could be converted into a first-class up to date hotel. As this property will be on the market for only a short time parties desirous of purchasing would do well to investigate early. For further particulars apply to Pollyooly—Pollyooly.

Say it over and over and over again Pollyooly—Pollyooly—Pollyooly. Possessed of twenty shillings, a baby brother and a rare ability to tell the truth and use her fists, Pollyooly is thrown on her own resources at the age of twelve. She faces London gayly and conquers it with ease. Red-haired lovely Pollyooly is the very capable and capital heroine of this quaint, humorous and highly improbable, but happily possible and in every way delightful story, written by that very talented novelist, Edgar Jepson.

Colonial edition, paper, 50 cents; post paid on receipt of remittance with order.
