Clerk Alleged to Have Stolen $250,000.

New York, Nov. 26.—James Edward Foye, one time clerk to John W. Gates, was to be arraigned to-day on the charge of having stolen securities valued at $250,000 from his last employer, the Farmers Loan and Trust Company, of this city, for whom he was a clerk at $75 a month until three months ago.

Foye was arrested last night as he stepped off a train from Philadelphia. He took his arrest as a matter of course, though no hint of his alleged grand larceny had been published previously. In his pockets detectives found a certified cheque for $9,000 and crisp new bank notes aggregating $5,000, all believed to be a portion of the money obtained by the sales of the stolen securities to the bond brokerage house of Charles T. Brown, of Philadelphia. Detectives also found evidences that Foye was about to sail for Europe.

The Frailty of Man.

We are all liable to error and will be so to the end of time—the most careful will make mistakes, sometimes, for we are not merely human. With the fact of our own frailty staring us in the face, would it be reasonable on our part to neglect the means placed within our reach for the elimination of error? Errors in the counting house are costly but they can be avoided by the use of present day inventions constructed as well as human ingenuity can suggest. It is to busy men that we speak—the other have no time to listen. To busy office-men the "Globe-Wernicke" device comes as a boon and a blessing, guarding as they do the essential records, which are the main vitality of business. These appliances are on view at Mr. Percie Johnson's office, and need only be seen to be appreciated.

Mrs. Pankhurst Released.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-day.
Mrs. Pankhurst, militant suffragette leader, arrested at Plymouth on the arrival from the States aboard the steamship Majestic, was released from Exeter jail last night. Mrs. Pankhurst began a hunger strike immediately following her arrest.

PARIS, To-day.
Senator Gaston Doumergue has deferred until to-morrow, notifying President Poincare that he will take the responsibility to accept the task imposed upon him.

WASHINGTON, To-day.
Interest here chiefly centres in the rapidly moving military operations in Northern Mexico. The movement southward of General Villa's constitutional forces and on the reports that Huerta's Generals are planning concentrated obstruction to his march to Mexico City, with possible flank movement by those bodies. The Federal troops hitherto reported as fleeing from Chihuahua City to the border are being observed with marked attention by military officials here. There is a general feeling that the pendulum will swing back and forth for some weeks, constitutional successes being followed by Federal victories and that the process of forcing the Huerta Government to yield will be a slow one.

What Divers Earn.

There are worse jobs than diving—when it comes to pay-time. On docks and similar works men in bells receive, as a rule, 1s. or 1s. 2d. per hour, while helmet divers draw from 2s. to 2s. 6d. And these are minimum rates, the remuneration increasing in proportion to risk.

For assisting in making wells the pay is from 14s. to 20s. a shift, and the ordinary rate in a flooded mine is from £1 to £2 a shift. Normally, a shift is four hours; but, as fifteen minutes are allowed for resting and another fifteen minutes at the end for undressing, it is really only three and a half hours.

Salvage work is paid for still more highly. In some cases men receive £1 a day, whether they dive or not; in others they get so much—£1 upwards—for every tide at which work is practicable; and in others there is a standing wage of £2 per week, besides an extra sum for every hour actually worked.

When operations are carried on for the recovery of treasure at great depths divers are usually paid weekly wages, plus a commission on the value of the stuff actually recovered. One has received as much as £10 in wages alone, and a diver has brought up in his hand a "find" worth no less than £7,000. This was a hunting-knife studded with diamonds, and it was recovered from the Cadiz, which was wrecked near Ushant, on the French coast.

Two of the most profitable jobs divers have ever had were in connection with the Alphonso III., which sank off Point Gando, Grand Canary, in 162 ft. of water, and the Skyro, wrecked near Cape Finisterre. From the Alphonso III., Daniel Lambert recovered £70,000 in Spanish gold coin, and another diver salvaged £20,000. Lambert's share of the haul was £2,500, and his companion netted £1,000. In the case of the Skyro silver bars to the value of about £10,000 were hauled from the ocean's bed and the diver's commission amounted to something like £500.

On Girls, By a Boy.

"There are two sorts of children, boys and girls and of the two boys are the best. Girls cause all the rows and quarrels. They think they are wonderful if they can get a bird's feather stuck in their hat. They are proud and vain and are always gossiping and making mischief. I simply hate them. They boast of what they can do, this that and the other and a fat lot it is when it comes to the point. If there were no girls and women in the world, it would be a very peaceful place. They love to sit and rest. Girls do vary from day to day. On washing days they think they are nearly killed. They would rather gossip half a day than walk half a mile. It's no good, they are a bad race and deceitful. If your wife sells anything she keeps a shilling back. Girls like to wear rings and think they are ladies. They bob their hair on the top like mountains and wears a fringe to make us boys think they are pretty, but ain't they just deceived. The young men have a hard job to find a good and hard-working wife in these days. Girls are cowards and I never knew one to face danger. Boys are also strong and useful while girls are timid, frightened weak little creatures. I would not be a girl for £10."
