His Excellency the Governor has received the cablegram, as under, from the Rt. Hon. the Secretary of State for the Colonies. It is desired that the people of Newfoundland shall, at 11 a.m. on Tuesday next, 11th November, suspend all normal activities for the space of TWO MINUTES, during which time all thoughts will be concentrated on reverent remembrance of the Glorious Dead. In St. John's the gun at Cabot Tower will be fired at the hour above named, as a signal.

J. R. BENNETT,
Colonial Secretary.

Code Telegram from Secretary of State:

(Received 7th November, 1919.)

I am commanded by H. M. the King to send you for immediate publication the following message which is addressed to all the peoples of the Empire.

"TO ALL MY PEOPLE,—

"Tuesday next, November 11th, is the first anniversary of the armistice which staved the world wide carnage of the four preceding years and marked the victory of right and freedom. I believe that my people in every part of the Empire fervently wish to perpetuate the memory of that great deliverence and of those who laid down their lives to achieve it.

"To afford an opportunity for the universal expression of this feeling, it is my desire and hope that at the hour when the armistice came into force, the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month, there might be for the brief space of two minutes a complete suspension of all our normal activities. During that time, except in the rare cases where this might be impracticable, all work, all sound and all locomotion should cease so that in perfect stillness the thoughts of everyone may be concentrated on reverent remembrance of the glorious dead.

"No elaborate organisation appears to be necessary. At a given signal, which could easily be arranged to suit the circumstances of each locality, I believe that we shall all gladly interrupt our business and pleasure, whatever it may be, and unite in this simple service of silence and remembrance.

GEORGE R.I."

This will be published in the press here to-morrow morning. Arrangements are being made for the general observance of the two minutes' silence at eleven o'clock next Tuesday. Trains will be stopped on the railways, traffic on the streets, ships as far as possible at sea, and every effort will be made to get work suspended everywhere. in schools, shops, mines and factories and to ensure complete silence. His Majesty hopes that your Ministers may be willing to arrange for a similar observance.

It is, of course, impracticable owing to distance, that the ceremony should synchronise throughout the Empire. It is therefore suggested that eleven a.m. local time should be adopted everywhere. Similar message is being sent to India and to every Dominion and Colony in the Empire.

Market Notes.

(From To-day's Trade Review.)

Codfish.

Lunenburg reports a splendid Bank fishery this past season and the catch is fully fifty thousand qtls. more than last year. The price has held up fairly well but buyers now insist on a reduction of $2 per qtl. The conditions in Lunenburg are very much the same as they are here, the fishermen have been holding back their catch and missing good opportunities of letting considerable quantities going into consumption, and from all appearances it looks as if the fishermen are going to suffer most.

The news from foreign markets is not encouraging. Spain will purchase only very limited quantities. Italy is negotiating, but wants to get lowest prices going and will not be a big buyer this season. We have already pointed out in former issues that the Italian Government and people are short of cash, and unless we can see our way to extend credit to them they will only buy from hand to mouth.

Greece is the one bright star at present and all shippers are rushing vessels to that market, but the wholesalers are refusing to buy any large quantity.

Cuba and Porto Rico are in need of supplies and would purchase liberally if suitable vessels were offering.

Brazil is working hard for a reduction of 10% on recent prices but with the big shortage of hard dried shore fish they are not likely to be successful this time. One disquieting feature of the trade is the large quantities of cask fish going forward to New York. The general impression is that our merchants are selling cheaper to these New York buyers than they will for direct shipments to Italy and Greece.

If this is correct it is a very foolish move as we do not want to see any more middle-men selling our fish than is absolutely necessary and will certainly tend to our discredit on foreign market.

Present prices are quotations only as the weather has been too stormy for large arrivals. No. 1 Merchantable shore fish at $12.00 and Maderia at $10.00, well cured Labrador at $8.00 per qtl.

Common Cod Oil.

The market shows a firm tone at $250 per tun, and we do not see any reason why good well strained oil should sell for less this year.

The quantity to come forward cannot be excessive as the yield from the livers this year was very much less than usual.

Cod Liver Oil.

The trade is practically over for this year. The refiners have all marketed their manufacture, and from all reports are well satisfied. The season opened with the probability of lower values, but we are now realizing benefits of the good work done by the thorough inspection inaugrated by the Government, and we can safely look forward to carrying on this business as a profession, instead of the usual fits and starts of recent years.

Sugar.

No change in the sugar situation. Local price is $16 to $16.50 per 100 lbs. It is difficult to obtain full supplies owing to the scarcity. Believing that the scarcity will continue dealers are contracting for shipments for February, March and April, so that they may be more certain of having their orders filled. The local market is quite bare as to first hand supply but a large shipment is due this month which will be ample to keep trade going.

Molasses.

The imports here to date show an excess of 747 puncheons over last years figures for a corresponding date. Wholesale prices in the puncheons are still maintained at 95 cents to $1.03 per gallon for Fancy. As the winter approaches prices are likely to advance and continue doing so each month til spring to cover the cost of carrying stocks. There are two or three cargoes yet to come in. The St. John's fall trade is now absorbing a large proportion of the stocks in hand.

Hay, Oats, Potatoes, Apples.

There is a fair supply of imported hay in town selling at $53 to $55 per ton.

Oats are selling at $5.50 to 6.00.

Potatoes will be higher soon. A late report from P.E.I. says that the crop has suffered considerable damage. The local price for imported is at present $5.80 to $6.00.

Fall keeping apples ('King's'), are in and selling at $7.50 to $8.00 per barrel. The brisk demand for apples in England is keeping up the prices.—

Herring.

The fall herring fishery has begun at Bonne Bay, Bay of Islands and Notre Dame Bay. The price from the net that is being paid is $4.00 per barrel, a low rate as compared with pre-war times. There are very few plants operating in Springdale as compared with last year and prospects are so poor in New York that there will be no big rush from there for herring this winter. The average Scotch pack there to-day is about $12.

FLOUR.

Shipments of wheat from Russia are arriving in England and it is stated that the internal conditions of that Empire are very much more satisfactory than is generally supposed from newspaper reports. If this proves to be true we are sure to have very much lower prices on flour for next season.

There can be no change in prices this year while the American Government guarantees the present value of wheat. It is not improbable that we will see a big reduction in freight rates next year, as present rates are extortionate. Highest Manitoba Patents are in good demand and held for $14.50 per barrel. War grade is selling for $13.80.

Pork and Beef.

The price of provisions was on the up grade the past week. Pork has advanced several dollars per barrel from lowest figures. There was a great deal of buying on foreign account especially England, France, Holland, also the Scandinavians.

The five big packers of Chicago are volunteering information that is most remarkable. Swift & Co., states that the total production of the big five does not aggregate six per cent. of the United States requirements.

There has been a good demand for Beef at all times, with offerings not large.

We quote local values:
Ham Butt Pork @$62.00—scarce.
Fat Back Pork @ $59.00.
Mess Pork @ $56.00.
Boneless Beef @ $35.00.
Extra Family Plate @ $44.00

Unusual Conditions.

The past week has been one of excitement throughout the country and it is going to take quite a little while to quieten down.

The General Election, after several postponements during the past two years took place on Monday last and as it was six years since the last one took place, there was some excuse for even old politicians and gray haired men to get unduly excited.

The result of the political battle is not known at the time this article is being written but there is little reason to doubt that there will be a very small majority on the winning side when the House of Assembly next opens its doors to its new masters.

The frightful storm of last week which continued with violence for fully three days has created havoc along our coast. Many fishing craft returning from Labrador have been lost and large quantities have gone back to the depths from which they came.

The losses to Insurance Companies will be extensive, but the greatest sufferers will be the merchants and fishmen who rarely have anything like full value covered against these calamities.

Our fishermen are so familiar to the perils of the sea that they think less of it than the risk a pedestrian runs when crossing a busy London street.

The storm of last week was no ordinary one and experienced men say we have not seen the like during the past thirty years.

The extraordinary heavy sea was raging for many hours before there was any wind whatever. The waves that beat against our shores were not the long swell from the Atlantic but were a rapid continuation of heavy choppy waves that broke with satanic force like the breakers on a sunken reef.

Vessels that were moored in winter quarters found their permanent harbor anchors torn from their positions, even the ringbolts firmly embedded with lead into the rocks were plucked from their sockets when the chains refused to break.

In one instance a vessel moored in a good position, with gear that stood every strain, actually lost her keel from contact with the bottom, showing how deep these waves must have been as she was supposed to be in a place where there was plenty of water.

The extensive washouts along the Railway line where beaches had to be crossed is proof to all that we have great reason to be thankful that our country has been spared any serious loss of life which happens so often when perils of this kind break with little of no warning.—Trade Review.
