

If You Destroy Flies for Sanitary Reasons Why Not Do It in a Sanitary Way?

POISONED Flies drop into the food, the baby's milk, everywhere, or are ground into the carpets, rugs and floors. A poisoned fly is more dangerous than a live one. The poison is an added danger and does not kill the germs on the body of the fly. Fly traps are offensive and unsanitary, the care of them disgusting. The fly destroyer that catches both the flies and the germs they carry and coats them over with a varnish from which they never escape, is

THRILLING EXPERIENCE OF LOG DRIVERS

Wall of Water Fifteen Feet
High Sweeps Down Upon
Men on Flimsy Raft

Quick Action Saves Lives, But Belongings Go Down With Flood Waters

Edmonton, Aug. 21.—With a solid wall of water fifteen feet high sweeping down upon them, forty lumberjacks, about a hundred miles up the river, were forced to jump for their lives on Sunday morning from a flimsy raft which the next instant was whirled away in the swollen river. The men were employed in bringing down the drive of logs to Walter's mill. At noon on Sunday as they were eating dinner on the raft the terrific onslaught of water came.

As one man, the forty jumped for the jam of logs nearby, a sure place of safety. All reached the bank and escaped what would have been sure death had they been caught unprepared on the raft. The water swept over the drive carrying away the raft on which were all the belongings of the men, bedding, provisions, etc. The flood was so sudden that the men were unable to save even the smallest article.

River Rose Foot Per Hour.
The river men were not altogether unprepared for the flood. The river had been rising steadily ever since Saturday night and the keen eyes had detected this. On Sunday morning it was rising at the rate of a foot an hour and it was quite evident that there had been a cloud burst in the mountains. The gang of men were encamped over Sunday at Government something over a hundred miles up the river and fifteen or twenty-five miles down from where the drive was started.

Flood Hits Jam.
The thousands of logs had been jammed over Sunday. When the flood struck the jam the logs were carried down stream, although the men made heroic efforts to stop the flow of logs, as it was feared that if once they got away they would break through the booms at Edmonton and be a total loss to the company. As it happened, however, almost all the logs were guided safely into the booms and there was very little loss. After the flood had passed, the men were left stranded on a small number of passengers. This brings the total number of persons requiring sleeping car accommodations up to 216, each car accommodating 24 persons.

So heavy has become the traffic on palace cars that it is now necessary to secure reservations in advance. The influx, according to railroad men, is about equal to the outgoing traffic, which would bring the total of passengers requiring modern railroad luxuries up to 432 daily.

Receipts at the Calgary depot show that this city gives the largest return of any size on the American continent.

CABINET MINISTERS HAVE STRENUOUS LIFE

London, Aug. 21.—The career of a cabinet minister "ought really to be chased among the kangaroo trades. Since the spread of the Votes for Women movement many ministers have been struck, pushed, kicked, or otherwise man-handled. That visits even more serious come into their day's work is shown by a recent incident at the Home Office.

The other day a small brown-paper parcel was discovered near Mr. McKenna's private room. As it contained a duck powder it was handed over to Scotland Yard. Examination there showed that the powder was harmless but many searching tests were made before this conclusion was reached.

Scotland Yard, in fact, is quite accustomed to testing mysterious presents sent to cabinet ministers. When the present Lord Gladstone was Home Secretary a large box of cigars was delivered at his private room on his birthday.

The cigar-bands bore an excellent name and the Home Secretary talked of trying them. But an official strongly dissuaded him, and the box was sent to Scotland Yard for examination. Each was found to contain a sufficient amount of a dangerous explosive to kill or mangle for life the man who smoked more than an inch.

London, August 22.—A wonderful transformation is taking place in the architecture of London. The character of many of the most famous thoroughfares in the world is changing before our eyes. Regent street is becoming unrecognizable; Piccadilly is threatened and has already suffered; Kingsway has become "the laughing stock of Europe." Portland place and many other residential districts are fast losing their quiet dignity, and a block, 80 feet high, with shops on the ground floor, is actually contemplated for the corner of Park Lane and Oxford Street. All this transformation is proceeding without architectural control.

One of London's most prominent architects of the old school today said: "Real English classic work of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries is the finest in the world. Strange to say, however, it is today almost ignored by English architects. They prefer to follow the latest foreign styles, and neglect the fine work in their own country. Americans come over here to study our best buildings, and they reproduce them. What is the result? They do better work than we do."

"Contrast the modern transformation of London with that fine intellectual street, Pall Mall. There is not a false note in the whole of that street. Look, too, at districts like Regent's Park, with its rows of palaces. They compare favorably with the best residential districts in Paris, Berlin and Brussels."

"Again, take such buildings as the Bank of England and the Royal Exchange, really the London forum. You may take foreigners to see such buildings as these. You may take them to go to work. There are in all some sixteen hundred men engaged on the docks. The night shift numbered about seven hundred. Only six men pass the timekeepers."

At several o'clock a crowd of some thousands of men gathered near the entrance to the dock on the corner where the railway docks took place just three weeks ago. The entire police force was rushed to the spot and the mob was dispersed with little difficulty, one man being arrested for refusing to move on. The C. P. at a few days ago, at the first indication of trouble, grand the men half the time to settle the difficulty. The walkout of the C. N. R. laborers, however, seemed to have indicated the time to settle the difficulty. The walkout of the C. N. R. laborers, however, seemed to have indicated the time to settle the difficulty. Demand for Sleeping Accommodations Necessitates Reservations in Advance

It requires nine sleeping cars daily to accommodate traffic out of Calgary over the C.P.R., not counting the reservations on other trains, which take up a small number of passengers. This brings the total number of persons requiring sleeping car accommodations up to 216, each car accommodating 24 persons.

So heavy has become the traffic on palace cars that it is now necessary to secure reservations in advance. The influx, according to railroad men, is about equal to the outgoing traffic, which would bring the total of passengers requiring modern railroad luxuries up to 432 daily.

DENVER POLICEMEN WILL EMPLOY FISTS

Denver, Aug. 21.—The Denver police force are to be deprived of their clubs, George Creel, magazine writer, editor and reform police commissioner of Denver, declares that clubs are a relic of barbarism used by the police principally for beating up defenseless prisoners and of no service in defending a policeman from a real attack. Therefore clubs will be called in tomorrow.

Creel's order follows the arrest of an L. W. W. speaker here Sunday. After being committed to jail the man wrote to Creel, complaining that he had been beaten up in the patrol wagon because he told a policeman that he "was no gentleman" and that he had been given no opportunity to defend himself when committed to jail. Creel paid the man's fine and obtained his release.

Creel, a former Kansas citizen, in an official letter to the mayor today replied to charges that the police used their revolvers too freely by stating that "the reason so many fugitives are fired at is because the officers are too fat to give chase." Today he ordered that every man on the force be certain that he is to be dismissed.

Every year during the last decade there has been added to the number of the certified insane in England and Wales the equivalent of something like three battalions of the British army, and year by year the pathetic army of the broken in mind, and often in body, is, in proportion to the population, growing greater. These are the main facts which emerge from the Blue Book issued yesterday of the British owners, have for years past been quietly getting rid of their sailing ships. Even the Scandinavians have now ceased to believe in them. Here and there a vessel may be built, but for all practical purposes the production of wind-driven craft has ceased. Those which are afloat are survivors of a past age.

Is There a Piano of Quality in Your Home?

Never in the history of this or any other Piano Business have Price Reductions been so radical, or the range of pianos been so thoroughly representative of all that is best in modern Piano Making.

WHAT TEN DOLLARS WILL DO NOW THAT OPPORTUNITY IS RIPE

No one regards the purchase of a piano lightly—such purchases are usually made only once in a lifetime. Will your piano, when it does come, be a source of lifelong satisfaction and refinement—a Piano of Quality—or will it bring continual and increasing disappointment, as a "Commercial" piano is apt to do? Such a question means much to anyone—to the person of moderate means it is vital. Therefore, is literally bringing to hundreds the opportunity of a lifetime. For, not only is it possible to choose here the piano you have always desired and should have, but in doing so, to effect a saving of $50 to $200 from the regular price. And more—your Ten Dollar deposit and the easiest of terms makes you master at once of the instrument of your choice. All the charm of ownership may be quickly yours—your home at once graced with the refining influence of a Piano of Quality. "No instrument to be reserved. Customers to make the terms," are the orders of our sales staff, which you will find weigh heavily in your favor.

The Mason & Risch Great "Forced Removal Sale" is of limited duration. The list of new and used high-grade pianos and player-pianos is rapidly diminishing, but tempting bargains—fine used pianos from $140, new pianos from $272, etc.—still await your early visit. Yellow Sale Tags on every instrument show sweeping reductions from regular prices. Particulars promptly furnished to out-of-town enquirers.

The reputation and guarantee of the old-established house of Mason & Risch stands behind every piano offered—no matter how low the price may seem. Visit freely and inspect at your leisure. Here is never any opportunity to purchase—here always frank advice on the merits of any piano under consideration, and more—both the will and the position to make your purchase a pleasure, instead of a financial burden.

The number of establishments employing five hands and over last year was 13,202, being an increase of 4552 in the decade.

JULY BANK STATEMENT INDICATES PROSPERITY

Ottawa, August 15.—A continuance of prosperous business conditions is indicated in the bank statement for the month of July, issued by the department of finance today. Demand deposits stood at $372,012,494, a decrease of $1,000,000 as compared with the previous month, while note deposits totalled $640,592,345, an increase of about nine millions. Circulation stood at $55,837,854, as against $10,000,000 in June. Call and short loan in Canada during July totalled $70,047,734, as compared with $68,701,855 in June, while call loans outside of the Dominion totalled $117,961,437. In June they were $120,569,812. Current loans in Canada at the end of July stood at $183,258,451, as compared with $140,089, a month earlier.

The reason a large family spends so much of a man's money is that it would spend just as much if there was less of it. It's just a coincidence how a man can talk to a woman on a railroad train, and if he does it in the street, she'll yell for the police.
