Ald. Taylor afterwards moved that Ald. Wyatt's name be added. \(\) Ald. Gartshore thought a deputation the right and proper thing, but considered four members would be sufficient. Ald. Wyatt was one of the oldest members of the Board and should perhaps be substistuted for some of the others, but he personally objected to increasing the number. Ald. Wyatt's name was added, Ald. Gartshore objecting.

sible to go.

Ald. Shaw's name was added, as Ald. Ald. Shaw's name was added, as Ald. O'Meara stated he could not go.
Ald. O'Meara moved that the entire Council be appointed—those who found it convenient to go. If there was any way of adding an honor to the late Sir John A. Macdonald it should be done.
Ald. Gartshore said he would call Ald. O'Meara's attention to the fact that the honor would be equally great as long as the Council was represented. He moved that the deputation do not exceed six. It was unnecessary to send such a large deputa-

Ald. Skinner said that as Sir John A. Macdonald had been a great patriot the citizens of London, he was sure, would take delight in honoring his memory. Canada never would have another Sir John A. Macdonald.

A. Macdonald.

Ald. Taylor said the Conservative party would no doubt go on and flourish as it had in the past. Another man would rise to take Sir John's place.

It was decided to add the names of the entire Council to the motion, Aldermen Gartshore and F. J. Fitzgerald objecting. Mayor Taylor was empowered to issue a proclamation asking city merchants to close their places of business during the time the military salute is being fired. The exact hours will be stated in the proclamation.

That at this season the blood is filled with impurities, the accumulation of months of close confinement in poorly ventilated stores, workshops and tenements. All these impurities and every trace of scrolula, salt rheum, or other diseases may be expelled by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the obest blood purifier ever produced.
