HOCKEY. JUNIOR LEAGUE MAY BE OUT OF

Some time ago doubts were expressed for the Junior City League, and the juveniles have no one to blame but themselves. They lost time getting a rink for their games, and before they valued it, it was too late. Then, there were too many teams to ar-range into a league. Nine teams had announced their intention of joining, and it would have taken up the rink for the whole season to play off the games. The teams who entered the league last season, however, are termined not to give up until it has been seen for sure that a league cannot be conducted with success, and to-morrow night a meeting will be held at the St. John's A. C. rooms. Only the teams of last year will attend and applications to form new teams will be received and considered.
