LOUVAIN HOMES LOOTED BY GERMAN SOLDIERS

Burgomaster, Magistrates and All Influential Citizens Taken as Hostages—All Weapons Given Up.

ROTTERDAM, Sept. 3, via London, Sept. 3.—10:55 p.m.—A vivid description of the sufferings in Louvain was given today by a Dutchman who arrived at Brussels. He was a prominent resident of Louvain when the war broke out.

"The first thing I saw," he said, "was a first-hand nothing to fear from the German soldiers, but all the houses that had been abandoned by their owners were ransacked, notwithstanding the warnings from the military authorities forbidding the troops to pillage."

"In Louvain, as in all other towns they occupied, the Germans imprisoned as hostages of war the burgomaster, the magistrates and a number of influential citizens."

Even Toys Given Up.

"Before the Germans entered the town all the civic guard was disarmed and weapons in the possession of the populace were given up. Even toy guns, toy pistols, and precious collections of old weapons, bows and arrows and other antique arms—useless for modern warfare—had to be surrendered. All these things, sometimes of great value to their owners, were destroyed by the Germans. The value of one private collection was estimated at $5,000."

"From the pulpits the priests urged the people to keep calm, declaring that was the only way in which to prevent harm being done to them."

"A few days after the entry of the German troops the German military authorities agreed to cease looting their men in private houses upon the payment of 100,000 francs ($200,000) daily. In some of the houses between 40 and 50 men had been stopping."

Town Hall Used as Stable.

"The beautiful room in the town hall, where civil marriages take place, were used as stables for the cavalry horses."

"On Sunday, Aug. 23, influential people were aroused from their beds. We were informed that an order had been given for 250 mattresses, 200 pounds of coffee, 250 loaves of bread and 500 eggs, and that they must be at the market-place within an hour. On turning out we found the burgomaster standing in the marketplace and crowds of citizens half-naked or in their night-clothes, carrying everything they could lay their hands on to the marketplace, in order that no harm might befall their burgomaster. After this had been done, the German officer in command told us that his orders had been misinterpreted—that he only wanted mattresses."

"All houses in the fashionable parts of the town and on the boulevard had to be looted through the night by order of the German authorities. The doors of houses had to be left open."

"On Tuesday, Aug. 25, many of the troops had left town. We had a few soldiers in our house. At 6 o'clock in the evening, when everything was ready for dinner, alarm signals were sounded and the soldiers rushed into the streets. Shots whistled through the air and cries and groans arose on all sides."

FAMOUS CATHEDRAL AT MALINES IS DESTROYED

LONDON, Sept. 3, 5:50 p.m.—A dispatch to the Central News from Amsterdam says that fresh fighting is taking place near Malines, Belgium.

A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram Company from Amsterdam says:

"The bombardment of Malines yesterday lasted two hours, nearly two hundred shrapnell exploding in the town. Much damage was done. The church (the famous Cathedral of St. Rumbold) is in ruins, and its beautiful stained glass windows and its famous chimes were destroyed."

"Fortunately many of the works of art were saved. The historical religious shrine in St. Rumbold's had been taken to Waive, while Ruben's painting 'The Adoration of the Kings' and 'The Crucifixion' in the Church of St. Jean had been removed by motor cars to Antwerp."

"The gateway and the chimes of St. Rumbold's were completely ruined."

TURKEY REFUSES REQUEST OF U. S.

Will Not Permit a Cruiser Through Dardanelles With Gold Cargo—Waters Mined.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Turkey has declined to grant the request of the United States for permission to send the cruiser North Carolina through the Dardanelles to Constantinople to deliver $150,000 in gold deposited here for the relief of Americans in the Ottoman empire.

The Grand Vizier has informed the American Government that the waters of the Dardanelles had been mined, and that it would be unsafe for a vessel as large as the North Carolina to go through the straits. He declared also that it might establish a precedent for the passage of other foreign warships, and suggested that the American naval vessel Scorpion, on duty constantly in Turkish waters along with other light vessels that serve foreign missions be sent to sea to meet the North Carolina.

This was the substance of a long cablegram received at the White House and State Department today from Ambassador Morgenthau, the first message from him in several days. He made no mention of any declarations of war, but referred to the diplomatic situation as highly critical.

TWELVE AUSTRIANS ARRESTED.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—Twelve Austrian reservists who, it is supposed, were trying to leave the city for the front, were arrested today.

CONTROL OF NEWS AGENCIES THE AIM

Sir Edward Goschen Notified British Government of a German Secret Meeting.

INDUSTRIES CONCERNED

Huge Company Formed With Object of 'Furthering Industrial Prestige Abroad.'

LONDON, Sept. 4.—In an official statement the foreign office has made public a dispatch from Sir Edward Goschen, formerly British ambassador at Berlin, to the British government, dated at Berlin on February 27 last. The dispatch, which is a report to the foreign office, tells of a secret meeting in Berlin a short time previously to discuss plans for the improvement of German trade abroad. Sir Edward Goschen says: "A short time ago a meeting, of which the secret was well kept, was convened at the ministry of foreign affairs. The Foreign Secretary himself was present, and the meeting was attended by members of the leading industrial concerns of the country, such as the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American steamship companies, the Deutsche Bank, the Allgemeine Elektrizitäts-Gesellschaft, the Siemens and Halske and Schuckert works, and the Krupp and Cruesen works."

Further Industrial Prestige.

This meeting formed a private company for the purpose of furthering German industrial prestige abroad, which is a convenient vague purpose. The company will be financed by private subscriptions. The Government will first grant a sum, which was suggested as the necessary revenue.

The private subscriptions amounted to $62,500, but the delegates present at the first meeting were so enthusiastic that definite promises of annual subscriptions of $125,000 were made, and the company promised to add $62,500 per annum.

The company has entered into an agreement with the Agence Havas, by which the latter will in the future only publish news concerning Germany if it is supplied through the telegraphic bureau. The latter will receive its German news exclusively from the new company.

The company intends to make a similar arrangement with Reuters' Telegraphic Bureau for those foreign countries in which Reuters controls telegraphic communication. Reuters declines the Deutsche Kabelgesellschaft, a smaller German news agency, which is supplying telegrams from certain countries, such as Mexico, working in agreement with Reuters' telegraphic bureau, is to be financed by the new company, which is to run a service in competition with Reuters'.

The dispatch further stated that the concerns represented at the Berlin meeting agreed to pay into a pool amounts equal to those they had been accustomed to spending abroad for advertising in foreign papers. The total of this item alone, the dispatch adds, is estimated to be not less than $125,000 per annum. The dispatch concludes with the statement that the new system was to be immediately inaugurated in South American countries.

Applying This Paste Actually Removes Hairs

Merely applying an inexpensive paste to a hairy surface, say beauty specialists, will remove the hairs. This paste is made by mixing a little water with some powdered delatone; after about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple method not only removes every trace of hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. To insure success with this treatment, be careful to get real delatone.—Adv.

THE TIMES IS PEEVISH

Scores Censors' Bureau for Holding Back News of Battles.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, Sept. 4.—4:52 a.m.—The Times in an editorial article this morning compares the prompt manner in which the German authorities treat the dispatches filed by Italian correspondents on the progress of the war, with the delays amounting from 24 to 48 hours which the British censorship imposes upon Dutch, Italian and American newspaper correspondents in England. The Times declares German correspondence gets a long start throughout the world on news rectifying the operations of the allies.

"No time is to be lost if this regrettable and indeed dangerous situation is to be remedied," the Times says. "The war may last long, and it may affect the very existence of the Empire and the countries involved in it. It is not too much to ask that our Government should spare neither pains nor money to ensure that neutral countries, whose attitude may at critical moments be of vital importance, shall not be left without authentic and variorious information of the progress of the war and of the fortunes of the allies."
