NOTE AND COMMENT.

Ontario is to be the country of the next twenty years. Buy a farm in Ontario, improve it, live on it if you can. Clear the land, stone it, drain it, keep it clean, treat it well; get good roads through the townships ; it will pay you back many times over. The best place to raise grain and stock is in Ontario, but you've got to be in earnest when you are doing it, and you should do it right. Ontario is too good a place for any further slip-shod methods.

The brigade would be under the command of the militia minister himself. A staff of distinguished Canadian officers is also part of the plan urged. The scheme suggests that this brigade should consist of four batallions of infantry and a composite corps of cavalry, artil-
