A BAD CASE OF PREJUDICE

To show what prejudice will do, a Canadian manufacturer tells the following incident: His factory makes a particularly high grade of both men's and women's shoes. For the women's shoes he adopted a name that clearly indicated that they were made in Canada. The name "killed the line," he said. But he was able to develop a splendid demand for exactly the same shoes when he changed its name to one which suggested that his shoes were made in the States. This shows that Canadians must learn to judge articles on their merits, and not buy things just because they are "imported." Imagine what would happen to Canada if the idea spread and people commenced to demand that the things they eat, their fruit, fish, vegetables, flour, meats, also be "imported."

PUBLIC SCHOOL EDUCATION

According to statistics only 6 per cent. of the boys and girls of Ontario ever get beyond the public school. How necessary is it then that the Public School system of our province should be made efficient enough to give every boy and girl up to 14 years of age a good, practical, elementary education. We fear that in these days of many subjects, too little attention is given to reading, writing and arithmetic. Drawing may train the hand and eye, and art may develop the aesthetic, but after all, being able to enjoy reading after the school day is over, and that is where the benefit of geography, history and literature comes in; having the ability to write a legible hand, and knowledge enough of arithmetic for the farm or business are the subjects that count in everyday life. There should be more elasticity in our public school program. Why should a boy or girl who can never become a good speller be kept in the third book for an extra year when he could easily be at the head of a fourth book class in other subjects? We never could see why the school regulations should step in and prevent a student who has no natural ability in one or two subjects from starting in other subjects.

THE OLD AUTO

My auto, 'tis of thee,
Short road to poverty;
Of thee I chant:
I blew a pile of dough
On you two years ago;
Now you refuse to go,
Or won't, or can't.
To thee, old rattlebox,
Came many bumps and knocks;
For thee I grieve.
Badly the top is worn,
Prayed are the seats and torn
"Flu" has attacked thy horn,
I do believe.
Thy perfume scents the breeze,
While women cough and sneeze.
As we pass by,
I paid for thee a price
I would buy a mansion twice;
Now you're a nest for mice—
Oh me, Oh my!
