BURGLARS AT ALVINSTON

Alvinston, Oct. 18.—Thieves entered the general store of G. E. Whitton and secured a valuable haul of gent's furnishings, including two valuable overcoats and several pairs of shoes, besides other articles. Entrance was gained by forcing the bars of a side window. A car was used by the burglars as tracks were discovered leading to a side door, and a few small articles were dropped outside the door. Although they were tracked a short distance no arrests have as yet been made.

Five months was the life of the Windsor Evening Telegram. W. F. Herman, of Saskatoon, Sask., and Windsor, who purchased the London Advertiser, bought the Telegram plant. Mr. Herman publishes also the Border Cities Star and two papers in the Canadian West.

Owners of a threshing machine outfit at Talbotville have been summoned on a charge of driving their tractor engine over the provincial highway. An act recently passed prohibits driving over certain roads by vehicles with flanges, clamps or ribs attached to the wheels.

Becoming alarmed at his continued absence, members of the family of Thomas L. Code, a well-known Montague farmer, instituted a search for him Wednesday and discovered him dead in a field at a distance from his home. He had evidently succumbed to heart failure.

The little one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Gray, of Elma township, was drowned on Thursday afternoon by falling into the water trough in the milk house. His father, who was sitting nearby, happened to miss him and on looking in the milk house found the boy in the trough.

A sow that has given birth to 90 pigs in five litters is owned by J. R. Sloan of West Lorne. The animal gave birth to 21 pigs a few days ago, 20 of which are living. Fourteen of the pigs are being raised by the sow while the owner is feeding the other six with the bottle.

The death occurred at the family residence, Con. 1, Aldborough, on Tuesday, Oct. 3, of Joan McIntyre, aged 74 years. Deceased had been ill only a week and on Thursday of last week an operation was performed but this proved unsuccessful. It is just a little over two months since his son, Ralph, died very suddenly, which makes it doubly sad for the family.

The large barn of Leslie Ray, Lurgan, was totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday night. The barn, which was a double building, was filled to the roof with this season's crop. Fifteen pigs and one horse were burned. The insurance had lapsed a short time ago, consequently the loss is heavy. The origin of the fire is unknown.

On Monday on the farm of Mr. Harry Ludington, about eight miles west of Moncton, Milton Holman, a young unmarried man who resides at Moncton, lost his left hand and forearm. He was engaged in running a corn cutter and reached under to clear away some corn stalks from the gear chain, when his mitt caught and drew his arm into the gear. His wrist and arm passed through the cog wheels and were smashed.

The death occurred at his home in Wardsville, on Sunday, October 8, of Francis Watterworth, in his 65th year. Mr. Watterworth had been ill in health for two or three years past, but his condition at no time gave cause for immediate alarm. His wife left for Detroit on Saturday morning, intending to spend the weekend there with friends, but was called back on Sunday by telegram. Mr. Watterworth being found dead in his bed, having passed away during the night.

The receipts of the Essex County fair this year recently held at Essex, include the following: Legislative grant, $544; county grant, $400; township grants, $135; gate receipts, $2,739; booths and stands, $389; main building, $43; stalls and pens, $112; members subscriptions, $300, making a total of $4,667. At a meeting of the executive it was decided to pay off the mortgage of $600 on the main building.

There were a few moments of excitement on Tillson avenue, Tillsonburg, about noon on Monday when a bull which was being led down the streets by Mr. DeLoss Hicks and others, suddenly went furiously mad and showed fight. A strenuous half hour was spent, the infuriated animal finally being confined by a large rope which was wound around a nearby tree, and held until Mr. Jack Barrett arrived on the scene with a rifle and shot the beast.

While Thomas Skinner, a farmer near Dresden, was driving off a bolt head Friday a piece of steel, the size of a pin head, flew from the end of the chisel and lodged in his eye, just behind the inner pupil. Mr. Skinner has been to several eye specialists and none of them entertain any hope for saving the eye. Dr. Shirley Homes of Chatham was called in and has been trying nearly all day to take out the piece of steel, but so far he has not been successful, and his opinion is that the eye will have to be removed.

Fire on Saturday afternoon destroyed the interior of the home of Mrs. Benjamin, Head St. Strathroy. The blaze was caused by explosion of an oil heater. Mrs. Benjamin, an elderly lady, tried to subdue the flames and was painfully burned about the head and face. The volunteer fire department made a run of six blocks and had water playing on the flames in four minutes, but owing to the fire having made great headway in the frame house the loss will amount to about $1,000 practically covered by insurance.

While engaged at the planing mill, Alvinston, on Monday, Mr. Nat Hillman met with an accident which necessitated the amputation of one finger and the dressing of three badly cut. He was engaged at the buzz saw when his hand slipped onto it with the above result. Owing to Mr. Hillman's age he will perhaps never again have the use of the three injured fingers, one of which may yet have to be amputated. This is the second accident of a similar nature at the mill in the past month.

Growers of early tomatoes in South Cochester have balanced their books and are now in a position to tell what their profits were the past season. The average gross returns per acre were in the neighborhood of $500 to $600. The plants and baskets ate up half of this, leaving $300 per acre as the returns for the work, a very fair margin of profit, all things considered. Of course last year, the returns per acre were some $800 to $850, and the profit correspondingly high, but the demand and price last year were very much keener than this.

ANOTHER BIG STEP IN RADIO

Radio broadcasting, as everybody knows, is made possible by the use of the wonder-working vacuum tube! When Bell Telephone engineers in 1915 achieved the first transmission of speech across the Atlantic they used no less than 300 of these vacuum tubes to generate the necessary high frequency power. Later developments brought about the use of tubes supplying 250 watts.

Now comes an epoch-marking advance in vacuum tubes! Bell engineers have just perfected a water-cooled tube capable of supplying 100,000 watts—200 times the power used for the ordinary broadcasting station.

This tube was made possible by the perfecting of a method of sealing copper to glass in such a manner as to overcome cracking when the tube gets hot.

The picture shows W. G. Housekeeper, the Bell engineer who perfected this new sealing process, with one of the big tubes in his hands. Note also the contrast between the new 100,000 watt tube and the little tube in use in the average receiving set!

This new tube marks a great advance, it is thought, in the progress of radio! It makes available high frequency power in units so large that only a very few such tubes would be necessary to operate even the largest radio stations, with all the flexibility of the ordinary vacuum tube.
