Police Boarded Steamer Disguised as Pilots

Father Point, Que., July 31--All doubts as to whether "Doc" Mr. Robinson and son, on board the steamer Montrose, were Dr. Crippen and Miss LeNeve, the notorious London slayer of his wife, and his paramour, were set at rest this morning, when Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, boarded the steamer Montrose and immediately recognized the pair as the people he had been sent after.

They were immediately arrested and kept on the boat as prisoners, continuing on to Quebec. The Montrose arrived at Father Point this morning at 8.30, and was met by a pilot tug, on board of which were Inspector Dew, with Chief McCarthy and ex-Chief Denis, of the provincial police, all disguised in oilskins as pilots.

When they boarded the Montrose, Dr. Crippen was walking the deck with Dr. Stuart of the Montrose. SURGEON'S EXPLANATIONS TO CRIPPEN.

Crippen appeared nervous and enquired why so many pilots boarded the vessel. Dr. Stuart replied that possibly they were returning home after a trip.

The three officers walked the deck until they had a good look at Crippen and Miss LeNeve. As soon as Inspector Dew saw them he recognized the two, and gave a pre-arranged signal to his companions.

Immediately Chief McCarthy and Denis moved over and arrested Crippen and Miss LeNeve, and took them down to their cabin, where they were held in charge of Inspector Dew. Crippen was completely taken by surprise and became deadly pale when the officers apprehended him, his agitation being such that he was wholly unable to speak.

Miss LeNeve was seized with hysterics and could not say a word as she was assisted below.

THE DRAMA OVER IN A FEW MINUTES.

The whole drama was enacted within a few minutes and as soon as it was over a whistle was blown from the Montrose to a steam tender lying by, which enabled the thirty or more press representatives from Great Britain, Canada and the United States to board the Montrose with the regular pilot. The vessel at once proceeded with the prisoners and pressmen to Quebec, where she was expected to arrive after midnight, and where Crippen and Miss LeNeve were landed for the necessary formalities for their return to face their trial in London.

COMPULSORY ARBITRATION

Woodstock Sentinel Review--One outcome of the "I. T. P." strike is the growing demand for the compulsory arbitration disputes with public service corporations. The desire for compulsory arbitration is quite natural. When a railway system is tied up or seriously hampered in its operations the public is directly and sincerely interested in preventing such disputes reaching the points of open warfare. But the question is not merely what is desirable, but what is possible. How would it be possible to make compulsory arbitration effective? The law might compel the disputants to abide by the results of the arbitration? 10,000 men, say insisted on quitting work, how could the law compel them to resume work? Compulsory arbitration has given more or less satisfaction in New Zealand, but the conditions there are, vastly different from what they are here. And yet every serious interruption to public business caused by the tying up of a public service corporation will serve to hasten the day when a remedy of some kind will be attempted.

Alcoholism Lays Out the Bad of Tuberculosis

Dr. Dube, of Montreal, Makes Strong Denunciation of Drink Habit at Temperance Convention.

Knowlton, Que., July 28--Much greater interest and larger attendance than last year at the Temperance Convention are to be recorded this year. Many visitors arrived yesterday, among them being Mrs. Sanderson, President of the Quebec Provincial Women's Christian Temperance Union, Dr. J. E. Dube, of Montreal; and Rev. W. H. Stevens, of Chathamville, Ont., all of whom are scheduled to address the convention.

Dr. Dube received a great reception as representative of the French race, the medical profession and the Roman Catholic Church. The subject was "Alcoholism the Scourge," and placing an imaginary youth before the audience he told the latter just what as a doctor he would have told such a young man in real life.

ALCOHOL CHARACTER AND PHYSIQUE.

Beginning with the brain, Dr. Dube traced the effect of alcohol on every organ of the body, the cumulative effect of his argument being exceedingly powerful. Some of his striking phrases were "Forty-five per cent. of the patients in Longue Pointe Asylum are there through alcoholism, and the same is true in other lunatic asylums." "Large numbers of men of forty-five fifty have impaired eyesight because of drink." "Alcoholism lays out the bed for tuberculosis."

"The big, strong, powerful man who drinks alcoholic liquor is a worse case, for doctors to treat when attacked with consumption than the pale-faced, flat-chested, anaemic girl in like case, because the latter does not drink." "The drinker gets old quickly, and with hardened arteries and fatty degeneration of the heart, dies suddenly." Here and there an old man who drinks may live to ninety, but drink is not the sure way to ninety.

"Alcohol burns the stomach and interferes with the liver's power to destroy the microbes of disease. A drinker of sixty cannot have pneumonia and live. With rare exceptions the young men who die of pneumonia, typhoid, and other diseases of the kind are drinkers. The kidneys fail to do their cleansing work when one drinks, and Bright's Disease is far more prevalent among drinkers than abstainers." "Drink destroys will power, prevents creative work, and stifles ambition." The father who drinks is not the right kind of father physiologically; he cannot be.

"Go out and teach," concluded Dr. Dube, "that alcoholism is brutalizing and sinful, that our national future depends upon sober homes and strong children and that alcoholism is the nation's greatest charge."

The man who laughs at a joke when it is at some other man's expense must expect his turn some day. No man who has tasted the cup of bitterness, won success from failure, felt the inspiring hope of a smile, carried his burden in the world, struggled against hope, rubbed elbows with sorrow, and lived to see other men die; in other words no man who has done the things worth while in this world has the time to make light of other people's suffering, laugh at other people's efforts.

NEATLY HIT OFF. Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox hit off in a neat epigram a notorious difference in the world's treatment of the sexes. "To say," she observed, "that everybody is talking about a young man is a eulogy; but to say that everybody is talking about a young woman is an elegy."--New York Tribune.

THE KITCHEN ENTRANCE A kitchen entrance should be as logical a part of the house as a front entrance. To have a kitchen entrance that juts out from the rest of the building like a loosely attached wood shed shows carelessness in planning. In the country, and the suburbs especially, the back of the house is as important as the front in establishing the right tone to the place. One of the best signs of sincerity in our houses is the growing use of the term "garden side" for the rear of the house.

The June bank statement shows that the financial condition of Canada is most satisfactory. During that month bank deposits increased nearly $7,000,000 and savings deposits almost $10,000,000. For the same month the trade of Canada shows an increase of $11,000,000 over last year, and a total of over $30,000,000 for the first quarter of the fiscal year.

Joker's Corner

REWARD OF SUSPICION.

Some time ago John Burns, who is nothing if not precise in his methods, had an amusing experience with a policeman whom he suspected of breaking the law. While out walking one day, "Honest John" observed a constable in deep conversation with a man in civilian dress. Just as Mr. Burns was nearing the two the civilian suddenly drew something out of his pocket and handed it to the policeman. Scouting a disregard of law against tipping in the force, Mr. Burns was quickly at the policeman's side.

"Open your hand!" he demanded in tentative accent. For a moment the constable hesitated and looked very confused. "Open your hand!" repeated the now furious Mr. Burns. Slowly the policeman obeyed, revealing to the M. P.'s puzzled gaze neither a piece of silver nor even a penny, but a large enough drop! The next moment "Honest John" had disappeared--Ideas.

WOODEN.

Certain members of the house party were describing the accidents that had happened to them during their various careers. Adventures by flood, fire and field, had all been well received, and de Sappeley, eager for fame, thought it was his turn.

"I've known," he said, "I had a very painful experience once. I ran a confounded splinter quite half an inch long right under my finger nail, don't you know?"

"Really, Mr. de Sappeley," said a maiden of the party. "How did you do it?"

"Well," he said, "it happened like this." As he spoke he unconsciously raised his hand and scratched his forehead.

"Oh, I see," she interrupted sweetly. "How very careless of you." Ideas.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

ADVICE TO A COUNTRY WOMAN.

Mme. Qui Vive, writing to "Country Woman" in the Chicago Herald says: Do you want to know why the country woman's dress looks so dowdy on the streets of a big city? Because, as a rule, the country woman overdresses. She has not learned that elegance is plainness, simplicity and soft, dark or subdued colors. On the counters of shops are many worthless and meaningless things--like gilt belt buckles, stickpins, bangles bracelets, chains, fussy neck affairs and general tralalas of dress.

These you must shun, for they signify neither taste nor necessity. Never buy a white hat. A white hat is a horror, and usually a soiled horror, at that. Don't wear silks. Get plain cloth, and have it made up plainly. A plain sailor hat is better than a topknot trimmed with a cheap and draggy plume.

If your liver is sluggish and out of tune, and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets tonight before retiring and you will feel all right in the morning. Sold by all dealers.

CABBAGE WORM

This is the green worm which works on cabbage and cauliflower, and which is produced from the eggs of the white butterfly. Use Paris green and arsenate of lead in water curing the season as frequently as occasion demands on cabbage. Cauliflower cannot be sprayed after the heads begin to form. Dry hellebore, which is harmless to man, can be used on cauliflower heads if they are eaten by insects. Some growers use Paris green on cabbage as strong as three pounds in fifty gallons of water, since they seem to be resistant to injury. A quart of soft soap, or eight quarts of very strong soapens should be used in every fifty gallons to insure the liquid spreading over the leaf. Any liquid which contains Paris green should be kept constantly stirred during the spraying to prevent the Paris green from settling to the bottom. Maritime Farmer.

Calmness of manner comes only from a controlled relaxation of the muscular forces. Note the word "controlled"--not flabbiness, but mentally governed ease. There is danger to the nervous system in hurry--there is power in quietly controlled action. "Slow and sure" is a good every-day working motto.

TWO BARNs DESTROYED BY FIRE AT AMHERST.

Amherst, Aug. 3. -- Two large barns belonging to Netis Chappell, together with their contents were completely destroyed by fire yesterday. This is the second time Mr. Chappell has suffered in a similar manner within the last few years, and the loss which it is understood is only partially covered by insurance, is a serious one.

BATHURST LAD IN MILL FURNACE.

Bathurst, N. B., July 25. -- (Special) --Francis Roy, a young lad seventeen years of age, died here Saturday night, as a result of a dreadful accident which took place that afternoon. He was employed at the Neptune Company's shingle mill, tending the feeding of the furnace with sawdust, and other refuse material, when in some unaccountable way, he fell into the flames. When rescued he was horribly burned, and only lived a few hours.
