

dom equal to, being the Queen's Jubilee heifer at the Royal England. She has a so very successful in Canada, and is an A 1 dairy cow. No. 1 May Blossom (imp.) a very large and successful show cow, is also an excellent breeder. Maud, bred by the late Thos. Brown, of Petite-Côte, is a cow of extra dairy quality, and a good show animal. Yellow Bess (imp.) was a first prize cow in Scotland at Kilmarnock and other shows, which guarantees her superiority. Brown Berry, bred by R. Osborne, of Wyndholm, Scotland, a successful show cow in her native land, is quite neat enough, but does fairly well at the fair. If the present young stock is any indication of those which are to follow them, Mr. Johnston will in a very few years own a large herd of extraordinary Ayrshires.

J. A. Gosselin's Curd Cutter

This machine is the most perfect on the market. A man can use it with one hand as easily, and make with it more work, than two men could do with any other machine, without any curd undivided. The Crank and the Hopper being so close together at hand one man alone can put the machine in motion. These points render it advantageous to all factories. In some factories where there is ordinarily but one man employed, this machine gives him the power to cut the curd, undivided, and, on the contrary, in others it is quite sufficient for the whole work. Each machine guaranteed to have all the qualities claimed in this advertisement. Ask for prices.
