GOLD WOMEN

Who can form the greatest number of words from the letters in INDUSTRIOUS? You can make twenty or more words, we feel sure, and if you do you will receive a good reward. Do not use any letter more times than it appears in the word. Use no language except English. Words spelled alike, but with different meaning, can be used but once. Use any dictionary. Plurals, pronouns, nouns, verbs, adverbs, prepositions, suffixes, adjectives, proper nouns allowed. Anything that is a legitimate word will be allowed. Work it out in this manner: In, into, industrious, no, not, nut, nuts, dust, dusts, us, sit, sits, etc. Use these words in your list. The publisher of WOMAN'S WORLD and JENNETH MILLER MONTHLY will pay $20.00 in gold to the person able to make the largest list of words from the letters in the word INDUSTRIOUS; $12.00 for the second largest, $10.00 for the third; $8.00 for the fourth; $5.00 for the ten next largest, and $2.00 each for the twenty-five next largest lists. The above rewards are given free and without consideration for the purpose of attracting attention to our handsome woman's magazine, twenty-four pages, ninety-six long columns, finely illustrated, and all original matter, long and short stories by the best authors; price $1.00 per year. It is necessary for you, to enter the contest, to send 22 two-cent stamps for a three months' trial subscription with your list of words, and every person sending the 22 cents and a list of twenty words or more is guaranteed an extra present by return mail (in addition to the magazine), of a 200-page book, "Doris's Fortune," by Florence Warden, a love story of intense interest. Satisfaction guaranteed in every case or your money refunded. Lists should be sent at once, and not later than Jan. 20. The names and addresses of successful contestants will be printed in February issue, published in January. Our publication has been established nine years. We refer you to any mercantile agency for our standing. Make your list now. Address JAMES H. PLUMMER, Publisher, 905 Temple Court Building, New York City.

PIPANS

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

NO MATTER WHAT'S THE MATTER
ONE OF THEM WILL DO YOU GOOD.

Rev Frederick B. Murray, long-time pastor of the First Congregational Church of Great Barrington, Mass., and at one time a practicing physician, a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, 227 of Ripans Tablets. "The formula has long been in favor with medical men, and the method of preparation in the present form is modern and a great convenience. I always keep a vial of the Tablets upon my dressing table, and use them with confidence whenever occasion arises. For a disturbed condition of the digestive organs I know of nothing so good, and for an 'all round' family remedy I do not believe there is anything better to be had."

HEALTH AND HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Tested Doughnuts.—Beat two eggs with a half-cupful of sugar until light, add a cupful of milk, then stir sufficient flour to make a batter, beat thoroughly; add a tablespoonful of melted butter and a teaspoonful of baking powder; now go on adding flour until you have a soft dough. Do not knead it but fold it over together, then roll out on the board. Cut it into doughnuts, and drop hastily into smoking hot fat. Let them fry carefully on one side, turn and fry on the other.

Rolled Jelly Cake.—Separate four eggs, beat the yolks and two-thirds of a cupful of powdered sugar together until very light, beat whites, stir them in carefully, and then sift in, mixing slowly, two-thirds cupful of pastry flour, into which has been sifted half-teaspoonful baking powder. Turn in a flat baking pan and bake in a quick oven fifteen minutes. Turn out, and while hot, spread with jelly. With a knife handle, break the edges and roll at once. When ready to serve, cut in thin slices, arrange in a glass dish, heap around whipped cream.

Macedoine Salad.—Any mixture of vegetables may be used for this salad—peas, string beans, small branches of cauliflower, beets, white turnips and carrots give a pleasing variation to coloring. The vegetables should be cooked separately, in boiling salted water, and as soon as done should be transferred to ice water for at least ten minutes; this enhances their brilliancy of coloring. If fancy cutters or scoops are used for those vegetables which require to be cut it will add to the attractiveness of the dish. Equal quantities of each vegetable should be taken, all mixed together and well marinated with French dressing. They may then be arranged in a border of lettuce or other greens.

Currant Loaf.—Rub a quarter of a pound of butter into one quart of flour; then add a half-cupful of sugar, dissolve one yeast cake in two tablespoonfuls of warm water; add to it a pint of milk that has been scalded and cooled; stir these into the flour and stand aside in a warm place for two hours. This should be a batter, not a dough. If you use spring wheat flour you may possibly have to use a half-cupful of extra milk. When very light stir in three eggs, well beaten, and a cupful of cleansed and floured currants; turn into a greased, round cake pan, and stand aside for two hours; then bake in a medium hot oven three-quarters of an hour.

To make a leg of lamb unusually delicious have the bone taken out, and treat as follows: Rub into the leg the juice from a raw onion; put it into the oven to roast, and baste with a mixture made of a glass of currant-jelly, the juice of a lemon and a glass of sherry. The lamb when done will be a glossy brown, and should be served with no sauce save that which accumulates from the basting. In carving, the juice of the meat will mingle with this, making it just the right flavour and consistency. This dish is as tender as a squab and as "gamey" as venison. Another attractive dish of lamb or mutton is what is called a crown, and its preparation depends fully as much upon the skill of the butcher as upon the cook. The ribs only are used, and the bones which separate them must be carefully cracked to make it easy to cut the chops apart with the carving-knife. The piece is set upright and curled around in the shape of a circle, the smooth side of the bones inward and the meat on the outside. A cord or skewer will keep the crown in shape while roasting. This is an especially pretty dish when served, as the chop-bones stand up in a circle and make a sort of vol-au-vent for any kind of vegetables—peas, green beans, a macedoine or a purée of French chestnuts—Illustrated American.

GREAT SALES prove the great merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Hood's Sarsaparilla sells because it accomplishes GREAT CURES.

Distasteful to every woman—washday and house-cleaning time with their grim attendants; "aching back," "low spirits," "tired to death," "worn out," "out of sorts." A VALUABLE WORK

The ever-growing interest in New Testament subjects—so generally and so intelligently discussed nowadays—makes it desirable that the general reader, who would be well informed on current topics, should have some acquaintance with the relation of the standard English version to the original text, while a still more intimate knowledge on the part of the clergyman and the Bible Class teacher would seem almost imperative. Toward this end no aid is likely to be more helpful than the Interlinear New Testament.

There are many other reasons, scarcely needing mention, why the Interlinear New Testament should be at the elbow of every intelligent person who either is or hopes to be posted on general topics. Not the least of these reasons is the facility with which it enables one, even if rusty in his Greek, to put his finger on the original Greek word or phrase, and at the same instant upon an absolutely literal rendering. To many it will promptly repay its cost in the time saved from turning to a Greek lexicon.

The Interlinear New Testament will be needed by every minister, and Theological student, as well as by many students of Greek in Schools and Colleges. Of course, no working library is complete without such a book.

As in 1st Corinthians XIII., the word "charity" must be read "Love," so in thousands of similar instances some other word will enable the Bible teacher to clarify the text. In all these instances that other word "the word that illumines" is brought to the tip of one's pen at a moment's notice by
