

with her, that "in outward life, and in mind and heart she was a Christian." One of the briefer essays—"Household Nobleness"—will be found on page 214 of our present number.

MILESTONES IN OUR LIFE-JOURNEY. By Samuel Osgood. New York: D. Appleton & Co. For Sale, in Montreal, by H. & G. M. Rose, 44 Great St. James Street.

WE transcribe the titles of the essays which Mr. Osgood gives us in this very genial Christian volume. Those who have read the author's former books will desire to procure this one also.

CONTENTS.—Companions by the Way. An Introductory Sketch. 1. School Days. 2. College Life. 3. A Village Church. God's Blessing on the Journey. Childhood. The Song that Never Tires. Youth. The True Fire. Manhood and its Business. Losses and Anxieties. The True Rest. Middle-Age. Cloud and Fire. Old Age. Prospect and Retrospect. Death. Immortality as Fact. Immortality as Motive. Home Evermore. The Great Cycle.

CHANNING'S WORKS, AND MEMOIR.

WE could hardly name any writer who has exerted a wider influence upon our age than Dr. Channing. His writings are known and read, not only in America and Great Britain, but on the continent of Europe, and even in the remote region of Eastern India. The Boston publishers have, for some years past, put his entire works and the Memoir at very low prices, so as to give all persons an opportunity of possessing them. The American Unitarian Association has recently published a selection from his writings in a single volume, for which we cannot but anticipate a wide-spread sale and distribution. This volume, as well as the entire Works, and Memoir, together with a variety of other Books and Tracts, illustrative of Unitarian Christianity, may be found at the office of our publishers—Messrs. H. & G. M. Rose, Great St. James Street. See advertisement on 3rd and 4th pages of cover.