The transportation and communications theme of Expo 86 will also be emphasised by the inauguration of the Vancouver Regional Rapid Transit (VRRT). It will eventually connect downtown Vancouver with all its suburbs.

Special events

Throughout the 5½-month-long Expo 86, there will be races, regattas and rodeos, plus a variety of showcase events. Visitors will enjoy musical spectacles, film and theatre festivals, arts and science exhibits, folk fairs and sporting events.

As an examples, the 'World Festival' will be an international showcase for the performing arts, covering theatre, dance, music, opera, popular entertainment, folk music, crafts and the visual arts. It will be just one of the special events.

Many of the pavilions extend over the water of False Creek.

Ticket prices

Tickets to Expo 86 will be available on a season pass, a three-day pass and a one-day ticket basis.

The single-day ticket will cost $20 per adult and $10 per child (ages 6-12). Children under five may enter free.

A three-day pass will cost $45 per adult and $22.50 per child. Again, children under five will be free.

Included in the admission price is entrance to the more than 80 pavilions, all displays, specialised demonstrations and most on-site entertainment.

Unlimited use of the monorail, cable skyways and intra-site ferries is also included, as is transportation by the new regional rapid transit system between the main site and Canada Place. ♦
