

représentant de l'ACDI à Dakar (72-74) puis Directeur du programme bilatéral pour le Sahel (75 à 79). Après un court séjour comme Chef de la Planification pour la Direction de l'Afrique francophone, il est nommé administrateur pour le Canada, le Koweïth, le Brésil et la Corée à la Banque Africaine de développement à Abidjan (79-82). Depuis son retour à l'ACDI, il occupe les fonctions de Directeur, Analyse des politiques de développement et de la coopération internationale.

North-South Relations

ARMSTRONG, B.

Studied political science at Carleton (BA) and McGill. Joined External Affairs in 1969 (Information Division, USA Division, CIDA); 1971-73 Washington; 1973-76 United Nations Economic and Social Affairs Division; 1976-79, Lusaka; 1979-80 Caribbean Division; 1980-present, North-South Section, General Economic Relations Division.

Canadian Aid: Who Does it Really Help?

MORANTZ, Aubrey L.

Native of Winnipeg. Graduate of Universities of Manitoba and Toronto (political science). Formerly Canadian Ambassador to Ethiopia and Djibouti. Currently Director, Development and Export Financing Policy Division.

Canadian Aid Policy and Programs

GREENSHIELDS, Chris

Born St. Catharines 1951; Educated at Carleton University. Joined External Affairs in 1976 and served in Commercial Policy and North-east Asia Divisions 1976-78. Following Arabic language training, served with the Canadian Embassy in Cairo. Since return to Ottawa in 1980 seconded to CIDA's Policy Branch with responsibilities in the area of aid policy formulation and coordination.