

DECLARATION

DECLARATION

In accordance with the provisions of Article XIII of the Constitution of the United States, the President of the United States, in the exercise of his powers, has caused this Declaration to be printed and distributed to the public.

In accordance with the provisions of Article XIII of the Constitution of the United States, the President of the United States, in the exercise of his powers, has caused this Declaration to be printed and distributed to the public.