The World did not realize that there were so many people desirous of obtaining some reminder of the Kaiser. The fact that we "The Kaiser in the Stocks" was first announced in last week's Sunday World, with the result that the staff have been kept busy handing them out to the steady stream of callers. It was designed by a Toronto sculptor, modelled in imperishable clay, bisque colored, and to those who obtain it, will be an everlasting reminder of the vicious tyrant, who for a while yet will direct the destinies of a great country. The model, as pictured, represents the head and malled arms of the Kaiser imprisoned in the stocks. The Well-known Prussian helmet is in the form of a skull, the parted lips are an orifice, the space of which can be utilized as an ink-well, pin or match recepticle. It will lend itself for use as a paper-weight, or will form a statuette which can be placed on plate-rail, mantle, etc-For a short time it will be distributed by The World on the popular coupon plan. See coupon on another page for particulars.

the department has under consideration the case of Alexander Von Nuber, Austro-Hungarian consul-genera at New York, whose name frequently has been mentioned with those of Boy-Ed and Von Papen in connecti n with activities which have been frow ed upon by the United States Government. It was intimated that the state department also was considering whether any steps should be egarding other higher officials of foreign embassies in Washington The complaints against Von Papen and Boy-Ed were accumulative, uating back to the early days of the war. The case against them is pe-culiar, not being capable of legal proof. it consisted of an accumulation of suspicious circumstances and conditions which connected the attaches with attempts to violate the neutrality cumu ation was sufficient to convince the department that the official status should be discontinued.

Not Absolutely Proven. Mr. Lansing has stated that the evidence in the Hamburg-American conspiracy trial in New York did not prove to the satisfaction of the de rartment that Boy-Ed had violated the neutrality laws of the United tates or that he had done anything which at the time of commission was in violation of the federal statutes. n fact when the effort was made to supply the German fleet in North and law on the statute books which permitted prosecution for that action. was only after the German fleet had been driven from American waters and the activities of the Hamburg-American Line had ceased that con gress, during the closing days of the last session, and at the urgent request of the president, passed the act which the campaign have entered heart and soul into the activities.

In the heal h drills the average attendance for the senior class during the week has been over 160. This is without doubt one of the largest, if not the largest, senior class in Canada.

The first round of the senior weekly handicaps found the teams and individual standings close. Exactly 140 different members took part in the first six events.
