

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

HAS MAGISTRATE RIGHT TO STIFLE PROSECUTION?

Inspector of Health Board Thought Vendor of Overripe Eggs Should Be Haled to Court.

HAMILTON, Sept. 27.—(Special.)—The right of Magistrate Jells to act privately as arbitrator in cases which should be brought to court was discussed at the meeting of the board of health to-night. Thomas Jellen drew the board's attention to the confessions of a consignment of eggs on the market last week. Inspector Shafer of the board of health department explained that the purchaser of the eggs brought them to him, and he found they were bad. He was speaking to the seller about them, when the magistrate happened along. The inspector asked him what he thought about the matter, and his worship advised that as the seller offered to pay back the money paid for the overripe eggs, the inspector need not prosecute. Mr. Jellen wanted to know whether the magistrate had the power to thus shut off prosecution. The seller of the eggs had been guilty of a fraud, and in the interests of the public at large should have been prosecuted. The board took no further action on the matter.

It again discussed the dairy of Adam Inch and complaints were heard from the inspector that Mr. Inch was dumping manure nearer than 50 yards to the cowshed, in contravention of the statute. As this is not a breach of the milk law at present in force in the city, it was decided to urge the board of control to adopt the clause at once. The Tigers had the best practice of the season this afternoon, when about 20 men were in uniform. The players were lined up into teams, the men that are likely to make the forward line on one team, and the probable back division on the other. Simpson, Moore and Burton were all in evidence, much to the delight of the large crowd. The team that will play against the Argos on Saturday will be selected to-morrow. It is not expected that Moore and Simpson will be included in it, but that the Tiger management will use this game as an opportunity to test its new back division.

At the meeting of the hospital governors this afternoon it was decided to appoint Miss Lillian Burke as dietician, to succeed Mr. Lillian, who has resigned. The board also agreed to give Miss White a letter of recommendation. She is going to Toronto. The motion of Constable Wm. Bolton to commit the warden and councillors of the County of Wentworth to jail for their refusal to comply with a court order to erect a house of refuge has been postponed to Oct. 7. Hotel Hanrahan, corner Barton and Catharine streets, Hamilton, conveniently situated and easily reached from all parts of the city. Erected in 1907. Modern and strictly first-class American plan. Rates from $2.50 per day. Thos. Hanrahan, proprietor. Phone 1465.

THE FAITH OF IBSEN

Subject of a Scholarly Address by Prof. Robertson. At the Knox College alumni conference last night, Prof. Andrew Robertson, D.D., spoke upon "The Faith of Henrik Ibsen." He mentioned that the Ibsen's books might not be counted among the most popular, still the thought of the dramatist had largely entered into the making of the modern mind. This made it imperative for public teachers to take account of the man and his work. After briefly speaking of Ibsen's life and making some observations on the literary form in which the man wrought, the lecturer spoke of Ibsen's iconoclasm—the right to claim of breaking things. No matter how ancient they might be, nor what the sanctions which upheld them, if institutions or ideas of development interfered with the development of the individual, they had to go. The terrible necessity which Ibsen felt for facing the facts was next discussed. Then came the question of the had of the truth of the heretic, followed by a reference to Ibsen's quarrel with ideals which he looked upon as tyrants usurping a place which did not belong to them. The disturbance which Ibsen's thought had made in every circle of human concern took up the rest of the time. It had been said that Ibsen was much like a street urchin throwing stones at respectable windows. On this the lecturer remarked that no doubt there were urchins who threw stones at windows but on the other hand there were windows that needed to be broken, not the least the windows of the study in the man's mind. At the morning session, Prof. Robertson gave the first of a series of lectures upon "The Social Teachings of Jesus," in which he laid the background for future discussion to-day and to-morrow. In a lecture on "The Thought of Pascal," President Falconer described the situation of the religious life of France in the nineteenth century. Pascal's writings, he said, were largely a protest against the Jesuit position. Pascal's moral attitude being altogether opposed to the teaching of the Jesuits. Fire of unknown origin, which started in the drawing room of Mrs. A. H. Campbell's residence in the Queen's Park yesterday morning, did $1,300 damage.

Constipation. For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascares and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascares I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you, I am free from all that this morning. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity. B. F. Fisher, Rosauke, Ill. Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good, Do Good, Never Sickens, Weakens or Grips. 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C.C.C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back.

BACK TO VARSITY

Students Streamed in Yesterday—First Lecture To-day.

A steady stream of young men and women flocking to the office of Registrar James Brebner, told the tale of another university term opened. This afternoon at 3 p.m., President Falconer will address the whole student body. The right of Magistrate Jells to act privately as arbitrator in cases which should be brought to court was discussed at the meeting of the board of health to-night. Thomas Jellen drew the board's attention to the confessions of a consignment of eggs on the market last week. MILLINERY AT McKENDRY'S

That much quoted line, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever," may be true within the bounds set by the poet's imagination. But since there is an exception to every rule, so in this case it is very certain that the things of beauty which blossom forth in the seasons of the world of fashion, however attractive they may be to the feminine heart and the masculine eye, are far from being joys forever. They have their little day and vogue, but the surprising part of it is that being so ephemeral they should have lavished upon them so rich a measure of thoughtful and attractive. The important section of feminine adornment covered by the expressive word "millinery," affords unusually ample scope for the harvest of the artistic vision. Season after season brings its own novelties, and this fall's offerings show more distinctly than ever before the successful blending of the original with the beautiful. The styles which are about to be worn in Toronto, can be studied to excellent advantage in McKendry's emporium, 225-227 Yonge street. It is all here, from the most recherché to the simplest of the reigning modes. This year the selection is of quite exceptional rank, and will undoubtedly rank this year higher than ever in public estimation. This season very quaint and odd ideas prevail. Among them are large hats trimmed to give a flat effect, with low crowns and irregular brims. The poke effect is shown also in the large hats. In the small hats, what are termed the "hide and seek" turbans, having very high crowns with drooping brims, seem to be very much in vogue. In fact, they are carried out in the Paisley effect, finished with a ribbon combination of silk ribbon trimming. A great many tailored hats, adapted for street wear with suits, are in evidence. The trimmings on these smart shapes are carried out in tapestry, all kinds of Persian effects, cord and tassels, and many other fancy novelties, also jeweled ornaments. Quite a novelty among the new shapes are those made of "boucle" or beaded silk, in the most pretentious style. In the champagne shade of this new silk, high shaded plumes posed at the left side back with a striking wreath of feathers on the crown. The hat of black panne velvet made a very attractive design. Large picture hats made entirely of Paisley silk, form a style of their own. The harmonious blending of the different shades. A turban style particularly noticeable, is made of silk, a two-toned effect of taupe and beige blue. This is covered by a folded Paisley entree, the only trimming being two high shirred puffs of the silk. Numerous untrimmed shapes were displayed in French, and also hatters' plush. Dark rich shades are very pronounced, also combined with the delicate tints of pink, rose, etc. The new theatre hat is a decided novelty this season. It consists of a large flat hat with plumes and when removed from the head, the dainty little bit of lace and muslin remains on the coiffure. This little cap has caused very much attention in Paris the present season. The millinery for the little tots, from the babies to the grown school girl, is very attractive in all the dainty trimmings of bows, petal tussels, small bunches of fruits which look very quaint on the little mushroom and bell shapes in heavier, felt and corded silk. These also are carried out in fur-trimmed poke hats and bonnets looking very pretty indeed.

HON. B. C. FRASER DEAD

Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia Succumbs to Protracted Illness. HALIFAX, Sept. 27.—(Leut.-Gov. D. C. Fraser, who has been at his summer home at Guysboro all summer, took a turn for the worse yesterday, and died this morning. His son, Alexander Fraser, was summoned from Halifax, and was at the bedside. Duncan Cameron Fraser, D.C.L., LL. B. was born in New Glasgow, N. S., on Oct. 1, 1844. He was the son of Alexander Fraser and his wife, Ann Chisholm, whose parents came to Pictou County from Invernesshire, Scotland. Educated in the public and normal schools in Truro, and was for some years a school teacher. He left teaching to enter Dalhousie University, where he graduated B.A. in 1872. In the following year he was called to the bar of Nova Scotia. He afterwards entered municipal politics and was mayor of New Glasgow for two terms. In February, 1878, he was called to the legislative council of the province, and became a member of the cabinet. But he resigned his seat in the council the same year to run for a seat in the assembly. Ten years later he was again called to the legislative council and to a seat in the cabinet, becoming the government leader in the upper chamber. Three years later he once more resigned his seat in the council, having an ambitious career in Dominion politics, and contested Gushoro at the federal general elections of 1891. He was elected, and was also returned at the general elections of 1896 and 1900. In 1904 he resigned his seat in the Ottawa house on his appointment as a judge of the supreme court of Nova Scotia. He held the position a little over two years, until March 27, 1906, when he was sworn in as lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia.

CHANGED HER MIND TWICE

Was About to Throw Over Old Love For New When Officers Interfered. MONTREAL, Sept. 27.—A strenuous Atlantic romance ended in the marriage of young and pretty Ethel Gertrude Thomas of London; England, and George Stuart Richards of Winnipeg. The girl came to Canada on the last trip of the Allan liner Sardinian to wed Thomas, but on the trip made such an impression on Victor Turner, a London journalist, that she agreed to throw over Richards and wed the scribe. Both sought employment in Montreal, Turner joining the staff of The Gazette. Mr. Richards, who had come from Winnipeg to meet his bride-to-be, at once laid information with the immigration authorities, who took charge of Miss Thomas and asked her to decide whether she would marry Richards or go back to England at the cost of the immigration department. She decided to marry her Winnipeg lover. Killed at the Telephone. WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Sept. 27.—While Mrs. Lewis Farrington of Rauchtown was seated at the telephone last night during a heavy storm, waiting for central to give connection, a bolt of lightning struck the wire, killing her instantly. The same bolt dashed her sister from the porch, injuring her severely. Will Look Again. To verify their observations another test of the Lindsay ozone filtration plant will be made on behalf of the provincial board of health. Dr. G. Naamith and Dr. Archibald, whose reports conflicted, have gone to Lindsay together to make a strict examination.

Rev. Prof. Law, However, is Choice of Congregation. When the Toronto Presbyterian meets at King City, Oct. 6, to celebrate the jubilee of Rev. David Carmichael, it will also consider the call of old St. Andrew's to Rev. Prof. Law, which was decided on Monday night, despite his wishes to the contrary. In a letter to the moderator, Rev. James Murray, Prof. Law said: "I am sincerely grateful to the congregation for their too high appreciation of my services, and for the extreme kindness which I have received from them ever since I became associated with them. I also value very highly the splendid opportunity of service which is presented in the pulpit and pastorate of old St. Andrew's and in other circumstances, and if I felt myself to be the right man for the place I should welcome such an opportunity. But while it is not for me to dictate to the congregation what course it shall take, I wish it to be clearly understood that as things are I do not desire such a call to be addressed to me; my honest desire is that it should not." The stipend offered is $4,000, with two months' holiday, to be taken in July and August of each year.
