LISBON, via Frontier. Oct. 14.—The government has recalled in an urgent command all warships that have been operating north, and the whole fleet is now anchored in the Tagus with sicam up night and day ready to sail. This is accepted as confirmation of the report that the Royalists have something armed afloat against which precaution must be taken. The Monarchist adventure on land is regarded as lost. The government forces are concentrated on three sides of the enemy, which is entrenched mear the Spanish border. The loyal troops forbear to attack, as it is not quite certain whether the position actually occupied by the Royalists is Spanish or Portuguese. The frontier in that direction has never been clearly de-marked, and if the spot should prove to belong to Spain, fighting in the vicinity might start a serious contro-versy.
