

FAMOUS WIGAR IS IN TORONTO

Rev. J. E. Watts Ditchfield
Will Give Several Addresses During His Stay in City.

Rev. J. E. Watts Ditchfield, vicar of St. James the Less, Bethnal Green, London, Eng., who is to address the men's meetings in Wyndolfe College Convocation Hall this week, arrived in the city yesterday and is the guest of Rev. Dr. Griffith Thomas at 28 Park road. Today he goes to Niagara and Hamilton and will return to the city on Thursday. His appointments are as follows:

Men's meetings in Wyndolfe Convocation Hall, Oct. 31, Nov. 1, 2 and 4; Sunday, Nov. 3, St. Paul's Church, Bloor street, morning session; St. Anne's, Gladstone avenue, evening; addresses, Grenadier at church parade at St. James' Cathedral at 2 and a mass meeting for men at the Church of the Redeemer, corner Avenue road and Bloor street, at 4. On Monday, in addition to his evening meeting, he addresses the clergy of the diocese at their monthly meeting.

Mr. Watts Ditchfield is one of the best-known clergymen in England, having achieved phenomenal success in his work in the difficult field of East London. He is just now returning from a trip to Australia, where he has been rousing tremendous interest in men's work. It gives some idea of his popularity as a speaker to men to know that he addressed six crowded meetings in Winnipeg last Sunday.

All his special meetings here are for men only, and all men are welcome at all meetings.

C. N. R. IN MONTREAL

Eleven Applications for Overhead Structures Are Made.

MONTREAL, Oct. 29.—(Can. Press.)—Before the railway commission today the C.N.R. presented 11 separate applications asking for permission to cross St. Antoine, St. James, Notre Dame, St. Maurice, William, Ottawa, St. Paul, Wellington, Nazareth, Duke and Brennan streets by means of overhead structures required to connect its tunnel with the harbor front. The company also asked approval of its tunnel terminal plans, as well as the layout of its freight tracks.

As all these various demands required extensive study on the part of the city, the latter's legal representatives asked that consideration of the company's diverse applications be deferred till such time as the city would be in a position to make known its mind in the matter. The request was granted.

EX-SERVICE IMMIGRANTS

Scheme Will Be Outlined to Board of Trade Today.

An open meeting of the Toronto Board of Trade is called for 3 o'clock this afternoon to hear an address by R. T. Scummet, honorary secretary of the Naval and Military Immigration League of London, who will outline proposals he intends making to the Dominion Government on the question of bringing ex-service men from the old country as immigrants. It is expected that a resolution will be passed endorsing or making disapproval of the scheme. His honor the lieutenant-governor will occupy the chair.

POSTMEN SHOOT

H. E. Grooms Made Highest Score on Monday.

The annual matches of the Toronto Postal Rifle Association were held at the Long Branch rifle range on Thanksgiving Day, when there was a large attendance and good shooting. The highest score of 97 was made by H. E. Grooms, who won the special trophy donated by Postmaster W. S. Rogers. Prizes to the amount of $40 were also won by the other competitors as follows: W. J. Keen, V. L. Allwell, G. Ellis, S. J. Cuttle, W. F. Parrett, J. F. Gurvan, S. J. Lindsay, G. Levan, M. Croshaw, A. H. Gordon, J. Reid.

The Dominion of Canada silver salver and Ontario Rifle Association medal were also shot for.

CLEVER ELEPHANT WORKERS

An immense amount of labor is accomplished by elephants in the Siamese timber yards. In handling the lumber the elephant, it has been estimated, does the work of twenty-five men. Many of the big pachyderms do their work with human intelligence. They draw large logs from distant parts of the yard to the sawmill and place them without assistance just where the men can most conveniently adjust them to the saw. Each log has to be lifted to a platform. The elephant first lifts one end to its place, and then the other end, after which he surveys it carefully to ascertain whether it lies just as it should. If it does not, he continues to push and work it until it is exactly right.

He lifts a huge log by thrusting his trunk under it, and when he lifts he keeps it steady with his trunk. A big elephant will lift in this way a log that would be a good load for twenty men.

Other elephants will at the same time be piling up boards in square, even piles. They survey them with the knowing look of the carpenter and continue to push and arrange until they have made the heap perfectly square and level.

Perhaps the most curious sight in a Siamese timber yard is that of young elephants learning to do these things. The youngest walks alongside of an old one at work and learns his future trade by merely looking on as the Irishman's pig, the sturdiness of youthful ambition within him and tries his own trunk upon a log of moderate size. He lives and learns like an apprentice in a shipyard.

Each elephant has its keeper, who, with his family, lives close to its stable. The elephant is as close a member of the keeper's family as is the Irishman's pig, the gentleman who pays the rent. The children play about the elephant's enormous legs, get under his body, and take hold of his trunk. When he is tired of him he pushes them gently away, but never hurts them.

SIXTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CONSUMERS' GAS COMPANY OF TORONTO

Your Directors have pleasure in presenting the Sixty-fourth Annual Report of the Company, together with the Financial Statements.

The output of gas for the year has amounted to 3,119,746,000 cubic feet, an increase over the output for the preceding year, of 276,707,000 cubic feet.

Twenty-eight and one-half miles of new mains and 6394 services have been laid.

To meet the extraordinary increase in the demand for gas, your Directors have found it necessary to make further extensions at the Works, and contracts have been entered into for the erection of new buildings and plant at Station "B," which, when completed, will increase the Company's manufacturing capacity by 4,000,000 cubic feet per diem.

It has also been found necessary to provide centrally located buildings for Stables, Garage, Pipe-Fitting Shops, etc. Your Directors have been fortunate in securing for this purpose a suitable site on Mutual and Dalhousie streets, on which the necessary buildings are now being erected.

This is the first complete year during which gas has been sold at the present reduced price, and the reduction of five cents per thousand cubic feet has amounted, upon the output of gas for the year, to about $150,000.00.

The results of the year's operations are particularly gratifying when it is borne in mind that it has been necessary for the Company, in common with other large employers of labor, to meet demands for increases in workmen's wages, and the advance in the cost of materials used in connection with the manufacture and distribution of gas.

The Directors have, with much regret, to report the death, during the year of two of their colleagues: Mr. John L. Blakie, the President, and Mr. James Henderson, both prominent and esteemed citizens, who have rendered valuable services to the Company. Mr. Blakie was elected a Director in 1897, Vice-President in 1905 and President in 1906. Mr. Henderson was elected a Director in 1896.

Mr. A. W. Austin has been elected President, and Mr. Wellington Francis, K.C., Vice-President.

The vacancy in the Directorate, caused by the death of Mr. Blakie, has been filled by the election by the Board of Mr. Herbert Langlois.

The Company's Works, which are thoroughly modern, have been maintained in a high state of efficiency, and the Distribution System has been improved and extended on a carefully designed plan.

The Gas Appliance Department has fully justified its creation.

The following statement for the past, as compared with the preceding year, shows:

	Meters.	Gas Rental.
Year ending 30th September, 1912	82,022	$2,058,140.63
Year ending 30th September, 1911	72,544	1,857,071.01
Showing an increase of	9,478	$201,069.62
All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. W. AUSTIN, President.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO Proverb Contestants

The Toronto World hereby gives notice to Proverb contestants that Proverb Picture No. 23, which appeared in The Daily World of Friday, Oct. 25th, 1912, has been cancelled, and that another picture to take its place will appear within the next few days.

We sincerely regret the error made by the printer in omitting this proverb from the second edition of The World's Book of English Proverbs; but notwithstanding this omission the second edition will be authentic and will be used by the judges as the basis upon which prizes will be awarded.

HOPES MILITANT METHODS WILL NOT BE NECESSARY

Miss Wylie Advises Women of Canada To See Premier Borden in Order To Secure Franchise—Time To Give Women Their Just Political Rights Is at Hand, She Says.

"The time to give women their just political rights is at hand. So long as the life and soul of the nation is being crushed out of the women of the country, the nation must decline."

The above is the substance of the address delivered yesterday at a meeting of the Equal Franchise League by Miss Barbara Wylie of London, Eng.

"There is something more than just the mere vote that women want; it is all the privileges and benefits involved in the symbolic meaning of the vote," said Miss Wylie.

"The vote is the mark of citizenship, and without it women are slaves, the victims of circumstances, something to be looked down upon as ignorant and irresponsible."

On Equal Plane.

"Men and women must be on an equal plane, both socially and politically, in order to work out perfectly the scheme of humanity; but they can never enjoy this equality as long as the government persists in denying to women the right to vote."

"Woman, without the right to vote and all the privileges that term implies, is cheap," said the speaker, "and this cheapness is the foundation of the great economic evil, which in turn is the root of all evil."

"Female labor is never so well paid as that of men, and in England alone there are 6,000,000 women who are obliged to work, not to augment their savings, but in order to procure the necessities of life for themselves and for those dependent on them. They are forced into competition with men, who receive much larger salaries, owing to the various trade unions existing in England. Women's trades unions would be useless, owing to the lack of the right to vote. Hence they have no means of bettering their conditions. In many cases the female employees receive scarcely enough to live on, and are often obliged to choose between starvation and moral ruin. It is in just such conditions that the greatest evil of the human race, the crime of poverty, has its origin. What will be the result of the continuance of such conditions? A disease-infected and degenerate race."

Parting of the Ways.

"We are at the parting of the ways," said Miss Wylie, "and unless the government soon realizes that the time has come to give women equal political rights with men, the British Empire must decline."

"Until the double standard of wages is done away with, not only is the market for cheap labor kept open, but also the market of white slave traffic," said Miss Wylie. "Every woman who does not help to improve the existing conditions and help to do away with the inevitable evil of such conditions as black and white slavery, is an accessory to the horrible business of selling the bodies and souls of young women for money."

With the inauguration of the right of women to vote, the double standard of morality, in which the woman receives the same wages as the man in which the man is equally responsible will pass away, and men will begin to realize that women are human, and not mere creatures created to satisfy their whims and desires.

"It is not a mother's duty to let her child suffer and then receive back into her arms its bruised and broken body; but it is her duty to press forward and help to do away with the conditions that are a menace to the moral life of that child," said the speaker.

See the Premier.

Miss Wylie expressed the hope that the inauguration of militant methods in order to obtain justice from the government would not be necessary in amusing, and thanks for The Toronto World's great and entertaining proverb contest.

It furnishes, exactly, that diversion for the mind that proves both entertaining and refreshing. Almost everyone reads for some personal gain, and to Toronto World readers is given an opportunity to reap, thru the proverb contest, a substantial reward for the effort.

The $5000 in prizes furnish but little more attraction than the proverb pictures themselves, for they combine an endless amount of entertainment and intelligent recreation for every member of the family.

Whether you are following the war news or not, you still have an opportunity to enter The World's proverb contest, now only completing the fourth week of its duration.

To enter now it is only necessary to secure the back proverb picture, the first 27 of which will be sent to any address in Canada by return mail upon receipt of 45 cents, stamps, coin or money order.

Order the back numbers and follow the contest along with the war news. It will prove just the kind of pleasing diversion that everyone desires.

LABELLING BOTTLES.

The following is recommended as the best way of labelling permanently the bottles used by photographers. The labels used are of the ordinary ready-gummed kind that can be bought from any stationer, the gum being moistened with water in which a little sugar has been dissolved, about three lumps in two ounces of water. When the gum is dry, the label is brushed over with a warm solution of relative, fine grains; water, one ounce; and when this last is dry, is given a coat of light oak varnish. When owing to damp, there is a chance of the label coming off, one photographer has adopted the expedient of using strong tie-on labels, attached to the neck of the bottle by means of a piece of string. Another plan is to print on the bottle the name of its contents, using black varnish for the purpose; while another is to have a patch of the bottle ground or roughened, by means of a sand blast or otherwise, and to write thereon in pencil. The worst of this last method is that there is the risk that when the bottle is cleaned the writing will be cleaned off. Time is saved and mistakes are prevented by adopting the plan of using bottles of different shapes in the dark room for the solutions that are most frequently employed, so that they can be recognized at once by the touch.
