

WANTS EUROPE TO ARBITRATE DISPUTES

President Taft Tells Christian Endeavorers That Anglo-American Arbitration Will Be Signed — He Expects Many Other Countries to Accept the Principle.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 8.—Los Angeles, Cal., was today selected as the place for holding the 1913 international convention.

An effort is to be made during the remaining days of the convention, which does not adjourn until Wednesday night, to evangelize the casual crowd on the Board Walk and Atlantic avenue.

Following yesterday's strenuous activities, which were brought to a close with two big meetings last night, at which President Taft was the principal speaker, hundreds of Christian Endeavorers turned out early today for the surprise services on one of the piers. Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman again led the quiet hour before breakfast.

As yesterday, most of this morning was given over to the delegates to the international convention to listen to instructive addresses on Christian Endeavor work. These addresses were delivered at 11 meetings held in different churches throughout the city.

The subject covered included missionary, temperance, Sunday school and prison work. There was also a conference on the "Boy Problem," at which Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver spoke, and a conference on personal purity, led by Mrs. Woodall and Mrs. Chapman of New York.

During the morning the board of trustees met and received requests from various cities for the 1913 convention. The afternoon was given over to a junior rally, at which methods for the training of boys and girls were discussed. To-night there will be a mammoth choir service on the Million Dollar Pier.

In a speech to the International Christian Endeavor convention here last night, President Taft declared that the negotiations for the arbitration treaty between Great Britain and the United States have reached a stage that there is no doubt as to the signing of the pact. The president expressed the hope that eventually half a dozen European countries may sign the treaty.

"Such a movement cannot but have the most beneficial effect," said Mr. Taft, referring to the C. E. Society upon the citizenship of a nation like this, and I should be lacking in appreciation of those currents of popular opinion and individual uplifting if I did not seize such an opportunity to pay a just tribute to those who have developed so well of the republic."

From praise the society the president turned to peace and arbitration, which, he said, could be expedited by the influence of such organizations.

STOKES CASE POSTPONED. Important Witness for the Defence is Missing.

NEW YORK, July 8.—For lack of the last witness for a further hearing of the Stokes shooting case was postponed to-day until Tuesday morning. On that date Magistrate Freschi will decide whether the evidence warrants holding Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad for the grand jury on a charge of trying to murder W. E. D. Stokes, the wealthy hotelman.

The missing man is Wilfred Hart, the elevator operator who took Stokes up to the defendant's apartment on the evening of June 8, when he was shot. Hart's testimony will be brief, but it is expected that Stokes will explain that it is important, because thru him they expect to prove that instead of Hart saying to Stokes: "Go right up; you are expected," Stokes said to the elevator boy: "You needn't announce me; I am expected," indicating that Stokes wished to arrive without warning.

HEAD CRUSHED IN HOIST. Leo Coley Was Caught by Head Between Floor and Joist.

Leo Coley, 15 years, employed as a messenger for Northrop and Lyman at 98 West Richmond-street, was fatally injured on a hoist there Saturday morning. His head was crushed between the hoist and a joist below the floor above the shipping room. Just how the accident happened is not known, but it was discovered when some parcels, which the lad was taking with him fell to the floor below. The lad was removed to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died a few minutes after his entry. The body was removed to the morgue. An inquest will be held.

An inquest was opened by Dr. M. Crawford at the morgue Saturday night. The jury viewed the body and adjourned.

MOURMELON, France, July 8.—Aeroplaneist Lorrain today reached an altitude of 10,761 ft. The time of ascent was 33 seconds. This mark is claimed as a record.

Crowned By His Peers Commoners Just Look On

It Was a Brave Show When George Put On His Golden Crown—Religion Was On Exhibition With the Ambassadors of the Lord in Gorgeous Raiment.

LONDON, Eng., July 1.—(Special Correspondence.)—The King was crowned by his peers. King George V. and Queen Mary are on the throne established.

Having seen every move of the coronation ceremony—from the beginning of the procession of royal representatives, royal guests and their suites, who were received at the west door of Westminster Abbey by Colonel Sir Douglas F. R. Dawson, K.C.V.O., C.M.G., controller, lord chamberlain's department, to the last bow the King made as he disappeared thru the west door, entered the state coach and returned to Buckingham Palace—one received the most impressive of a gorgeous spectacle rather than a solemn religious ceremony.

The King was crowned by his peers, spiritual and temporal. Religion was on exhibition and the ambassadors of the Lord, arrayed in resplendent garments, excited by reason of the exceptional dignity, and naturally proud of the prominence their positions in the church gave them, made the solemn ritual of the coronation service lose much of its religious fervor and reflected it in the persons and garments of the acolytes.

The one real touch of the Nazarene's religion came when the King, having entered the abbey, passed up into the sanctuary and knelt at his pew-throne before the coronation service began. His head was bowed, but a few moments, but there was a hushed cathedral. In those moments he looked the most living touch of religion. As the ceremony began and they had to fit into the services at their appointed places, the spirit of religion was half concealed in the blaze of color of garments and accoutrements.

This statement must be qualified, however, by the confession that the religious glamour was lost thru the distinct enunciation on the part of the priests and the King, and the clash of color and showy make-up by the celestial singing of an army of male choristers. Religious fervor in the coronation ceremonies was given thru the music.

The coronation services in Westminster Abbey presented a gorgeous spectacle, the like of which has never been seen before. Princes and potentates with their social war paint on and their womenfolk decked as only modern woman can adorn herself, man in a peacock mood, woman preening her fine feathers—seen thousands in all filling every corner of the huge edifice—that was the audience that came to view the coronation pantomime and incidentally, but positively also to be viewed.

White and Red and Gold. Brilliance was over all, white and red and gold were the big splashes on the canvas. The blue velvet of the coronation robes, while the deep ruby of the ermine-trimmed cloaks of peers and nobles.

T.R.C. TO APPEAL BOARD'S ORDER

Will Ask Court of Appeal to Decide Upon the Validity of Railway Board's Judgment.

The Toronto Railway Co. is not going to allow the order of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, respecting interchange of traffic with the city lines to pass unchallenged. Taking advantage of the text of the judgment made a short time since, notice of appeal has been served and the case will come up before the court of appeal in September or October next.

The Toronto Railway wants the court's interpretation of section 57 of the Ontario Railway Act.

The formal notice defines the judgment in these words: "Whereby it was determined and declared that section 57 of the Ontario Railway Act, 1906, shall apply to the Toronto Railway Co. and the street railway owned and operated by the company, and also to the City of Toronto, and the street railways to be constructed by it."

"That the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board has no jurisdiction under the provisions of the said section 57 of the Ontario Railway Act to order that the provisions shall apply, except in the case of existing street railways and on the application of the owner of an existing street railway."

"Upon the ground that the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board has determined the question and made the said order without allowing the appellant an opportunity to submit evidence in support of its contention that the said order ought not to be made under the circumstances of this case."

21,000 PERSONS SIGN PETITION MIGHT OFFEND MARITIMERS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 8.—A local paper to-day makes the following statement: "The petition, bearing the names of 21,001 Little Rock residents, asking for the pardon of Mrs. Angelina Napitano, Governor G. W. Donoghue headed the petition."

MAY BE LAKE SIMCOE. Water Experts Go Thoroughly Into City's Water Supply.

The board of water experts are quietly carrying on their investigation in connection with finding the best source for Toronto's water supply. Those whose hearts have been set upon Lake Simcoe water, will have the practicality of this source set at rest. Their loving care is to be made in Lake Ontario to give further information about this source, and in fact, every available point will be covered. It would take three years, according to Willis Chapman, C.E., to install a plant at Lake Simcoe, if that plan is decided upon.

COMMITTS SUICIDE. Fingal Butcher Drowns Himself in the Lake.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., July 8.—Summer residents in their cottages on the heights at Port Stanley at noon today, saw a man remove his hat and coat and deliberately throw himself in the lake. Before he could be reached he was drowned. His name, it was later ascertained, was George Howard, a butcher, of Fingal, near St. Thomas.

Earl Grey for Washington. WASHINGTON, July 8.—(Special.)—When Earl Grey completes his term as governor-general of Canada, he may come to Washington to succeed Right Hon. Jas. Bryce, an ambassador extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary, according to gossip which is going the rounds of the capital. It is stated that the earl's success as a diplomat has been well proven, and his tact recognized by the ablest statesmen of Great Britain.

Mr. Bryce was appointed to the Washington post in 1907.

The Nova Scotian has for years been looked upon as cabinet timber, and a strong factor in the fighting ranks of the government, but his appointment was never made owing to the fact that his province already had two cabinet ministers.

Purse Snatchers Operating Here Work on Trains and Trolley

University Student Relieved of His Wallet at Union Station, While Young Girl's Hand Bag Was Opened in Street Car.

Several cases of purse snatching were reported to the police on Saturday, and it is thought that a gang of operators are working in this city.

James Roberts, a university student from the east, had his pocket picked at the Union Station Saturday morning, as he was leaving the 7:30 G.T.R. train, on which he had come in from Montreal. The thief got away with his pocketbook, which contained $35.

Mr. Roberts believes that the work was done by two men, working in co-operation. As he was leaving the car with his suit case in his hand, a man, stepping behind him, suggested that he would find it easier to leave the crowded platform if he laid his luggage on the steps and removed it as he stood on the station platform. Taking his suggestion in good faith, the student stooped to lay down his suitcase. Just then he thought his pocketbook must have been lifted, for as he straightened himself again he put his hand in his breast pocket and found the book gone.

The man of the friendly suggestion and another, who had stood beside him, had disappeared in the meantime, having evidently gone back into the cars, and also Mr. Roberts searched for them there and on the station platform, but he could find no trace of either.

Mr. Roberts complains that neither the conductor nor the brakeman of the train, to whom he mentioned his loss within a few seconds, seemed at all disposed to help him out.

When Miss G. Mervina stenographer of 770 Bathurst-st., got off a Bathurst car near Bloor-st. Saturday afternoon, she found her hand bag open and four $5 Bank of British North America bills gone. She was about to leave on her vacation and drew money from her employer just before taking the car for her home.

There were not more than a dozen people on the car. She sat between a man and a woman with a woman opposite her and it is probable these people were confederates, as the bag could hardly have been opened without someone in the seat noticing the operation.

ALL KEEP OPEN

The World believes in upholding the law, especially when the law is right; but where the law is not even right and is unfairly enforced, as the Sunday law seems to be enforced against the masses of Toronto in these hot days, we believe that both from the point of view of duty and of humanity that the restaurants, the ice cream stands and others who cater to the ordinary people who must be fed and refreshed in days like these should keep open to-day.

If all keep open the Lord's Day Alliance will have more than its hands full in vindicating any action they may take against the ordinary comfort of the masses.

DISCARDED BOARDER ENRAGED AT BEING TURNED AWAY KILLS HIS LANDLADY

Mrs. John King of Petrolia Murdered by Wm. Moore and Her Daughter Perhaps Fatally Wounded With a Rifle.

PETROLIA, Ont., July 8.—William Moore, a young man employed in the wagonworks, to-day shot and instantly killed Mrs. John King and probably fatally wounded her 12-year-old daughter, Florence.

Mrs. King, who keeps a boarding-house in the east end of Main-street, had refused to accept Moore as a boarder, as she had turned him out some months ago.

Moore entered the house to-day and it is supposed, enraged at being again refused, shot the woman and child. He was arrested by Policeman Whitlock, who was passing at the time. He gave himself up quietly and had nothing to say.

Moore used a sporting rifle for his murderous act. Mrs. King is a middle-aged woman and for some time has been separated from her husband.

DR. GEORGE BINGHAM SURGEON GENERAL HOSPITAL INJURED IN RUNAWAY

Thrown from Rig on East Queen-street and Lies in St. Michael's Hospital With Concussion of the Brain and a Broken Leg.

Thrown from his rig when his horse took fright and ran away on Queen-street, near Seaton and collided with a car and milk wagon, Dr. George Bingham, surgeon of the General Hospital, was carried to St. Michael's Hospital in a semi-conscious condition shortly before 6 o'clock Saturday night.

He was attended there by Drs. King and Shuttleworth, who found him suffering from a bad scalp wound and a slight concussion of the brain, as well as a compound fracture of the left leg below the knee and other minor injuries.

While his injuries are very serious, and also after three hours of treatment he had not recovered consciousness, it is thought that he has a good chance for recovery.

The doctor was driving alone east on Queen when his horse suddenly took fright at a passing vehicle. It dashed ahead, but had only gone a short distance when the road ahead was blocked by a milk wagon. As the horse approached the wagon, a car came up from behind, and the rig was caught between the two. Dr. Bingham was thrown out as the rig crumpled up, and picked up by onlookers unconscious. A call was sent to the hospital and he was taken there in the police ambulance.

Dr. Bingham has been at the General Hospital for some time, and has had a very long experience in various hospitals. He is an elderly man, but of strong constitution, and it is thought that this will aid in his recovery.

His horse was often restless, according to those who have driven with the doctor, and it ran away about a year ago. The doctor had just alighted, however, and was not in any danger.

MORE FIREWORKS FOR VENEZUELA.

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, July 8.—The Venezuelan Government has positive news that Cipriano Castro, the exiled president of Venezuela effected a landing on the western part of Venezuela, and to-day has a following of one thousand men.

Chief Mains and Officer Dowd tracked him to Buffalo, interviewed the police department there and obtained his arrest yesterday. Vesco will probably waive extradition, as he admits his identity and that he killed Phillippe, but claims it was done in self-defence.

Fire Does $300,000 Damage In Lumber Yards at Aylmer, Que.

ESTATE R. HURDMAN, Ottawa, and McLaughlin Davis Lumber Co., Ottawa. The lumber piling yards are located directly to the south of the Town of Aylmer, which for a time was threatened by the flames. The Ottawa and Hull fire departments rushed engines and men to the assistance of the Aylmer brigade, and succeeded in confining the fire to the lumber piles. Luckily there was no wind blowing and the flames and smoke shot skyward in a spectacular manner as a result. By 5 o'clock the fire had about burned itself out.

One woman, Mrs. Smith of Aylmer, was overcome by the fierce heat from the burning piles, and collapsed. Thousands of people from Ottawa and Hull went out to watch the smoke and flames, which could be seen from miles around.

It is thought the fire must have been started by a careless workman lighting his pipe at the noon hour, as the flames were first noticed a few minutes after 12 o'clock.

DUBLIN REFUSES CIVIC ADDRESS TO THE KING

Paint Had Been Daubed Over Grand Stand to Prevent Lord Mayor Doing Honor to King and Queen — "Welcome; We Want Home Rule," Said Mottoes.

DUBLIN, July 8.—The royal yacht, Victoria and Albert, having on board their Majesties, the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary anchored in Kingstown harbor last evening. Today the royal party entered the capital. They were received on shore by the Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, and driven in state carriages to the castle, where apartments had been specially prepared for their occupancy during their stay here.

The occasion was made a holiday and the streets were crowded with people, who came to see what to them was an interesting pageant. Students from Trinity College gathered in force on the college green and gave their Majesties an enthusiastic welcome. The threatened counter-demonstration did not materialize.

The attitude of the people is well expressed by a banner stretched outside the city council hall at Pembroke, a suburb of the capital, which reads to present an official address to the King, reading: "Welcome." "We want home rule."

The town has been prettily decorated by a non-political committee, who were supported by citizens. The nationalists adopted a passively friendly attitude, but did not participate in the official reception, and did not interfere with it. They decorated their premises always, however, with the Irish flag.

In the general decoration there was a most interesting touch of orange and green. The police kept quietly in the background, the soldiers doing the work ordinarily trusted to the police force.

The lord mayor of Dublin whose threat that he would present an address to His Majesty, despite the contrary decision of the corporation, it was feared would lead to trouble, remained at home.

The opponent of the plan to present an address to the King took effective steps to prevent Lord Mayor Farrell and his friends occupying the stand on Leeson-street bridge at the duty of the city by plentifully daubing the stand with fresh paint. It was there that Farrell had proposed to present his welcome.

The King's reply to the address presented upon his landing at Kingstown, he said: "I and the Queen listened our visit to the Irish people in whose welfare our interest is deep and abiding," had the effect of establishing an immediate friendship between their majesties and the man lining the street.

Chief Mains and Officer Dowd tracked him to Buffalo, interviewed the police department there and obtained his arrest yesterday. Vesco will probably waive extradition, as he admits his identity and that he killed Phillippe, but claims it was done in self-defence.
