Serious Wash Out on C. P. R. Near Border of Maine and Quebec

As a result of a wash out on the C. P. R. near the border line between Maine and Quebec, no train from Montreal arrived in the city today. Hundreds of men were engaged all last night and today endeavoring to make temporary repairs in order that train service could be resumed and from the last message received by General Superintendent H. C. Groat hopes were entertained for a resumption of the service by this evening. It was expected that the Montreal train would leave as usual.

Superintendent Humphries of Brownville Junction is at the scene and is looking after repairs. In his reports the Montreal train would leave as usual. Superintendent Groat has said the Moose river had swollen to such a degree that the water poured over its banks and as it swept down to the low lands formed regular torrents, carrying everything before it. In one section one hundred feet of the track was left suspended in the air while the bank was carried away from underneath the rails. In another section more than 900 feet was inundated and the rails were buried beneath six to thirty inches of water. The banks were washed away and in places where the water flowed gaps were made eight to ten feet wide. The trouble is centralized about Lowtown on both sides of the border and the wash out is one of the worst ever experienced on this section of the C.P.R.

Gangs of men were rushed to the scene from the New Brunswick division and also from other divisions and with the assistance of pile drivers, ballast, etc., temporary repairs will in all probability be completed this afternoon and train service to Upper Canada resumed.

LIVELY TILT IN COURT OVER AUTOMOBILE CASE

A by-law report against F. E. Williams, for operating a car without a dealer's tag placed on both the front and rear was taken up this morning in the police court. The case was marked by sharp tilts between the police magistrate and W. B. Wallace, who appeared for the defendant.

Mr. Wallace asked for the formal information as his client had been summoned by the court. There was a long and heated argument over the information. It reached such a pitch that Mr. Wallace was told he would be sent to jail for seven days if he did not concur with the regulations of the court.

"I propose to carry this thing to its fullest extent," said Mr. Wallace, "and I want the information."

The magistrate: "All you will get is the report on the car. It may be wrong but all the better for you; you can take this after I'm done wherever you like. It does not make any difference to me whether you are a poor man from Pond street or a rich man you must keep in with the practice of the court."

Policeman Corbett said the car had come up Union street from Brussels with a dealer's tag, No. 158, in front, but none in rear. This was on June 7.

Mr. Wallace said he did not own the car and that he was a dealer in motor vehicles. He said he had come up Union street from Brussels with a dealer's tag, No. 158, in front, but none in rear. This was on June 7.

MISS PAULEY WEDS IN ONTARIO

A wedding of interest in St. John was solemnized yesterday morning at Coppercliff, Ontario, by Rev. Father Crowley, when Miss Alice Gertrude Pauley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pauley, of this city, was united in marriage to Richard A. Nolane. The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of navy blue with hat to match, and wore a white fern neck piece and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was unattended.

The groom is a popular official of the Coppercliff mines in Ontario. The bride made her home in St. John until a year ago, and many friends here will hear with pleasure of yesterday's interesting event. John R. Pauley of this city is a brother.

GRAVE PROBLEMS FACE THE SPANISH GOVERNMENT

Madrid, June 19, via Paris.—Premier Eduardo Dato, addressing press representatives, said that calm prevailed in Spain, but that he considered that very grave problems faced the government. He did not believe, however, that these problems were beyond solution. The dissolution of the Cortes was possible, but not probable and urgent questions might arise which it would be necessary for parliament to discuss.

DEPORTATION OF BELGIANS GOES ON

Havre, June 19.—The Belgian government, in an official statement, denounces the bad faith of the denial of the Wolf Bureau on June 7 as continuation of the deportation of Belgians. The denial, the government declares, avoids the essential facts and concerns itself only with the question of the place to which Belgians had been deported. The Belgian government maintains that the deportations continue and that they did not cease as the Wolf Bureau stated on February 10.

Honora May O'Brien Had Sued For a Million BREACH OF PROMISE

Action Against Retired New York Banker For Breach of Promise—Statement by Cardinal Part of the Evidence

New York, June 19.—A verdict of $225,000 in favor of Miss Honora May O'Brien, twenty-eight years of age, in a breach of promise suit against John B. Manning, a retired banker, eighty years of age, was awarded by a state supreme court jury in Long Island City yesterday. The plaintiff, secretary to a New York newspaper man, alleged that the defendant, father of grown children, broke his promise to marry her.

Her Story in Court

Miss O'Brien in her testimony said that she was born in Skibbereen, County Cork, Ireland. As a child she was sent to the school at Abbey Lanes, Ireland, where she remained eight years. From there she was sent to the Convent of St. Joseph, in 1897 she came to America with some nuns of the Order of St. Joseph, who were going to Minnesota to organize a convent. Her brother, she said, had agreed to send her money to come to America, but she started ten days earlier than she had planned because she could go with the nuns. On the way over the nuns told her that they were going to be the guests in New York city of an Irishman who had made millions here, who was a good friend of the church. Mr. Manning, the nun referred to by the nuns, met them at the pier. Mr. Manning, she said, took an interest in her. She told him that the only friend she had in America besides her brother was Mrs. Cohalan, the wife of Justice Daniel F. Cohalan, who was her cousin.

The plaintiff said that she was a frequent visitor at the Manning home for five years. Miss Mary Manning organized a French class, which she taught. Later, Miss O'Brien said that she was a governess, and then, learning stenography, she became secretary to a manufacturer. She then went to a Fifth avenue fashion publication as secretary and French translator. She was engaged at this work, she said, when in November, 1916, Mr. Manning obtained her address from Mrs. Cohalan. After getting this address Mr. Manning, she said, began calling her on the telephone, calling her "My Mary" and "My Love." Finally on Dec. 13, 1916, she said, she accepted an invitation to dine at his home. After dinner, she said, Mr. Manning made the proposal of marriage.

"I told him I was honored by being asked to marry him," testified Miss O'Brien. "I told him money was not everything, and that I would marry quietly and happily. He said that he knew he was asking a great deal and that he would never marry again if I were a young man. He said that I would be well provided for and that his family would also be well provided for."

She testified that when the party went to the City Hall to get the marriage license, it consisted of Mr. Manning, Miss O'Brien, her brother James, and Mr. Manning's brother, Mrs. McKee, a daughter, met the party down town. She then received her first information of the impending marriage, and she began to make objections. Continuing, the plaintiff said that the party went to Cardinal Farley's residence. The cardinal saw there was a disagreement, and the plaintiff said, and advised that a money settlement be arranged. On the next visit of Mr. Manning and Miss O'Brien, when the cardinal found that the settlement had not been made, he asked ex-Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, who was present, to try to have Manning make the settlement.

Statement by Cardinal

A statement was made to the court next Monday that Farley had undergone an operation and his physicians had agreed that it would endanger his life to come to court. A statement by the cardinal then was read, supporting Miss O'Brien's testimony. At the close of the statement the cardinal said:

In regard to the attitude of the young woman, I will say that when I proposed that there should be a settlement in order that all trouble should be avoided, she agreed with the suggestion, as she said that she did not want to defraud any of his children out of what belonged to them; also that when she was disappointed of the marriage was suggested on the grounds that the newspapers were making such a time over it she was not willing to agree to this proposition, as she said that it was not a good and sufficient reason."

At the outset of his cross-examination, Mr. Littleton brought out that so with the proposed marriage was concerned on Miss O'Brien's part it was without love.

Q.—Did you ever love Mr. Manning?
A.—No.

Q.—Did you ever tell him that you loved him? A.—No, but I had a great respect and liking for him.

Q.—Then you have no broken affections?
A.—No.

Q.—Then the tears that you have shed here are not those of disappointed or broken affection?
A.—No.

Q.—You knew that he was a palsied, shaken old man?
A.—Yes.

Q.—What attraction was there in him to you that he had made a million?
A.—The fact that he had brains sufficient to be so successful in business.

Q.—Did you ever tell him that you did not love him?
A.—The question of love was never discussed between us.

Q.—Then what disappointments do you claim you have suffered?
A.—I have had the mortification of having my name dragged through the papers and being pointed out, as the result of his refusal to marry me.

Miss O'Brien sued for $1,000,000.

Don't you need New Rugs and Carpets?

Dear Mary:—

There is no necessity now-a-days of a woman having in her home carpets with holes in them or frayed, faded old rugs when for so little money she can down to Everett's and buy new ones.

Why, rugs and carpets wear out just like clothes do and they are just as essential. If I had worn-out, old things on my floors I'd throw them out and get new ones, wouldn't you, Mary?
