GROCERY REPORTS FROM THREE CITIES OF THE DOMINION

The following comment on the market situation as regards food stuffs appeared in Canadian Grocer last week:

Markets generally have weak undertone and reductions have been made on several lines of commodities, particularly grain products.

The egg market has been steady up to the week when there occurred a slump which may affect prices during the week. Lard remains firm with a good demand. Butter and cheese is steady with firm market. The egg market is unchanged with prices remaining firm, cold storage supplies are being called upon for the least part of the week. A change in Canadian prices is expected. Corn syrups and starch are steady. The price of flour is unchanged. Large supplies of peaches have not yet been received in Montreal. Fruit and vegetables are in good supply. Kraft wrapping paper advances once again in price. Twine is lower. Nuts are steady in price. The trade thinks that opening prices on dried apricots are too high and are not buying. Potatoes - The most interesting features in the general markets for grocery commodities are sugar and flour. Following steadily receding wheat markets, flour declined 50 cents per barrel, further declines are anticipated. The Dominion Sugar Refinery have reduced prices $1.00 per hundred. The market is very unsettled in view of the easy position of the new sugar market and the fact that second hand sugars are still available. Some wholesalers and manufacturers have brought in American refined sugar at lower prices than quoted by the Canadian refiners. Canned goods are in demand. Canned corn and starches have been reduced. Reductions have also been made on package corn meal, hominy, barley and other cereals. All cereals are ruling easy under the declines of last week; the trade both wholesale and retail are buying in view of the fact that many factors are experiencing difficulty in procuring sufficient stock to meet their requirements. However, evaporators state that prices will be lower than last year. Information regarding the Oregon prunes is to the effect that the crop had been damaged to the extent of 50 per cent, packers are therefore selling at a loss. The local market is moving without any change in price, although prices are expected to be revised downward just as soon as coffee that has been purchased in the lower market reach here. On and after the 15th of October, the price of coffee in cans is reduced in price. Vegetables and fruits are holding at fairly steady prices. The first crop of shell brand cattle soap since the war is expected to arrive in the next week. The produce and provision markets are generally holding steady. Some cuts of fresh pork have advanced. Special tinned breakfast bacon is also higher. Eggs, butter and cheese are ruling unchanged. Shortening is in a strong market with a tendency for local prices. The receipts of poultry are moderate, with a considerable improvement shown in the quality. Quotations on fowl and spring chickens are reduced. Winnipeg - The Dominion Sugar Co. reduced their price on granulated sugar $1.00 per hundredweight this week. The trade expects other refiners to follow. Reduced cuts of shell brand cattle soap since the war is expected to arrive in the next week. The produce and provision markets are generally holding steady. Some cuts of fresh pork have advanced. Special tinned breakfast bacon is also higher. Eggs, butter and cheese are ruling unchanged. Shortening is in a strong market with a tendency for local prices.
